

Large Increase in Enrollment of University

Report of Registrar Indicates Nearly 10,000 Students Will Attend State Colleges.

Registration this semester in the colleges of the University of Nebraska is 841 more than it was a month later (on November 16) last year—5,345 against 4,784.

On the basis of this registration in the colleges for admission in September, including the record-smashing 1922 summer school of 3,000 and registrations in the schools, the total attendance for the year will be at least 5,300 against the 4,100 last year.

Outstanding facts of the increase by colleges include: Teachers college, 248—an increase of 63 per cent; college of medicine, 53—an increase of 20 per cent; pre-medical students, 82—101 per cent; and pre-dental students, 25—36 per cent.

The Business Barometer

This Week's Outlook in Commerce, Finance, Agriculture and Industry Based on Current Developments.

By THEODORE H. PRICE, Editor, Commerce and Finance, New York.

In his letter to Representative Mondell published last week, President Harding said that the national fiscal policy has been directed toward the rapid elimination of the national debt.

The logical conclusion of the continued advance in most commodity markets is that the price level is rising.

There has been a seasonal slackening in the demand for raw materials.

But notwithstanding the buoyancy of the market, there is a general feeling of uncertainty.

The high price level is a result of the increase in the cost of raw materials.

The expectation that the final quarter of the year will be a quiet one is supported by the developments during the month of October.

Bank Clearings (Millions) in thousands. $1,912,440 for the week ending Oct. 18, 1922.

Despite some slackening of demand, following the recent active business, the rise in the price level is continuing.

Advance in Hides Extended. Even after successive weeks of rising prices, the strength of hide markets has been further accentuated.

Financial

New York Times. Omaha See Lended Wire.

New York, Oct. 22.—Last week's distinct reaction on the stock exchange was plainly discerning to Wall Street, yet it can hardly be described as anything but the logical result of previous extravagance of professional speculators in bidding up prices.

Coal Wall Huddled. The other news of the week is not so important as the coal situation.

Great Britain Pays Interest. Secretary Hoover's speech at Toledo has attracted much attention.

Economic Conditions Improved. Economic conditions in Europe seem to be improved and getting better.

Revival Anticipated. But regarding the present situation in the business situation, account still had to be taken of the extent to which the stock market had been advanced.

Harding to Call Extra Congress on November 20

Ship Subsidy Will Be First Question Taken Up in House, Representative Campbell Says.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Following a conference with President Harding, Representative Campbell, Kansas, chairman of the house rules committee, announced at the White House Saturday that congress would be convened in extra session on November 20.

As chairman of the rules committee, Mr. Campbell has much to do with establishing the order of legislative business in the house and he said the first matter to be taken up in the extra session would be ship subsidy legislation.

Mr. Campbell did not quote the president as saying congress would be convened on November 20, but for several days it has been rumored that likely would be the date of the beginning of the extra session and the Kansas statement was generally taken as confirmation.

President Harding told Speaker Gillett before he left for his home in Massachusetts that he wanted to avoid calling congress in extra session after the regular winter session, which begins December 4, expires by constitutional limitation on March 4.

By calling congress in extra session for two weeks early this fall, President Harding believes the ship subsidy legislation can be well under way if it has not regularly passed in the winter session.

Usually nearly the entire three months of the winter session, running from December until March, are taken up in the consideration and passage of the regular annual supply bills of the government.

THE SILENT DRAMA

Today's Programs. Rialto—'Lorna Doone.' Strand—'Today' 11 Wednesday. East Is West.

Lowly peasants, bloody outlaws, silken courtiers and knights and ladies move across the screen in the dramatized version of Lorna Doone.

A gripping detective story holds the center of the screen attractions of the World's work 'Pilgrims of the Night' featuring Ruth Dellinger.

A lively farce, 'His Bride Night' at the Muse tells of the difficulties and complications which ensue when one of a pair of twins enters the blessed state of matrimony.

An appealing little story of old Ireland told at the Sun this week in the screen version of 'My Wild Irish Rose' Pauline Stark, cast as the heroine, niece and housekeeper of the old priest, falls in love with the worst ne'er-do-well in the community.
