

Farm Federation Proposes Laws of Wide Scope

Will Ask Elimination of Ex-tortionate Interest, Development of Waterways and Bank Taxation.

Washington, Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram)—The powerful American Farm Bureau federation announced the legislative program for the coming session of congress yesterday.

The program includes elimination of extortionate interest, national banks taxation, of incorporation of all state banks in the federal reserve system, and development of the St. Lawrence waterway project, which would make seaports of Chicago, Cleveland and other lakeports and would give the middle west access to the sea. These were but parts of an ambitious program to make the power of the farm bloc felt.

Heads of the bloc have made known their intention to insist that the ship subsidy bill, if presented, shall also include the St. Lawrence project. Their alternative will be a 10 per cent reduction on rail shipments of farm products from the west, shipped east for export.

Favors Ford Offer.

The first item on the federation's program calls for acceptance of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals, which Senator Norris, of Nebraska, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, is fighting.

Agriculture, the program discloses, is in need of farm credit and requires some method to make the War Finance corporation permanent.

"The approach of winter," the bureau declares, "finds agriculture in a deplorable condition, the average selling price of the commodities being below that of a year ago. Surpluses of food products are backed up on the farms or held in storage and agriculture has no proper facilities for carrying the load. Farmers have been frequently forced to market their crops at ruinously low prices."

Larger farm loans are necessary, the bureau claims, and congress will be obliged to remedy existing law to enable the land banks to function before next May, the usual time of renewing mortgages. Improvement of the federal land bank system and liquidation of farm loan associations and joint stock banks will be proposed.

Complain of Interest.

Complaints have long been made that farmers have been compelled to pay interest rates as high as 19 per cent and on top of that a commission of 10 per cent. The federal reserve act would be amended so rates cannot exceed 4 per cent.

The farm bureau would bring the federal reserve system to the remaining two-thirds of the total number of banks in the country so they will be in better position to give aid.

By making national banks subject to state taxation systems it is contended banks and bankers will be taxed only as other property and going concerns are taxed. The farm bureau believes clothing should be so marked that customers may know whether they are buying genuine virgin wool or shoddy and therefore the "truth in fabrics" bill is endorsed.

The bureau will get behind measures to make it unlawful to sell gunned and bottled goods that have false bottoms, or that are not filled to sell milk that contains vegetable substitutes for butterfat and to import adulterated seeds.

Aged Man at Falls City Fights Officers With Gun

Falls City, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special)—County officers who were delegated to serve eviction papers on Lawson H. Wells, 75, found a walking arsenal facing them when the aged man stepped to the door of his shack.

Leveling an automatic pistol at the officers, he defied them to arrest him. They retorted by grappling with him, finally wresting the gun from his hand after a scuffle in which the aged fighter more than held his own.

Reaching for another gun strapped to his belt, he fired several times, inflicting a flesh wound in Deputy Sheriff Forney's right hand. After subduing the grizzled warrior, they found three guns strapped about his waist and another in his shack. He is being held by the county sanitary board.

Film Censors' Complaint Is Dismissed by Jury

New York, Oct. 25.—A complaint filed by Attorney General Newton against the Famous Players-Lasky corporation for an alleged violation of the state motion picture censorship laws, was dismissed today by a general sessions grand jury. The jury reported the dismissal after questioning a member of the board of censors. The motion picture corporation had failed, it was charged, to make certain eliminations ordered by the censors, from one of its plays, until after it had been shown several times.

High Cost of Divorces Shown in Stillman Case

White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Supreme Court Justice Morschauser awarded John E. Mack, guardian of Baby Guy Stillman, $25,000 for his services in defending the infant against the charge of illegitimacy brought by James A. Stillman, millionaire banker, in his suit for divorce from Mrs. Anne U. Stillman. He also allowed Mr. Mack $4,901.11, which the guardian reported he had expended in Guy's behalf. The court allowed Referee Daniel J. Gleason, who heard evidence in the case, compensation at the rate of $150 a day for 143 days devoted to the case—a total of $21,450.

Indian Curses Follow Dead Man

Wyandotte Girl Fights Violation of Tribe Cemetery at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Oct. 25.—The body of Frank Eppy, a white man, was buried in Haron cemetery, Kansas City, Kan., yesterday, while Helena Conley, descendant of the Wyandotte Indians, stood at the head of the grave. She delivered the Wyandotte curse on the dead man's soul and on those responsible for the burial in the Indian cemetery. The curse was delivered in a low tone, mostly in the Wyandotte language. "Damn" and "hell" were used as trimmings. The grave was dug today under police protection after the burial had been delayed a day by the sisters, Lydia and Helga. Police stood by the Indian woman during the burial, and several times took hold of her when she waved her arms wildly while delivering the curse.

The Conley sisters for several years have resisted all attempts to bury white persons in the cemetery, which is the Wyandotte Indian burial ground. They also have resisted efforts of the city to keep the place in good repair. They contend that the ground is sacred to the Wyandotte tribe and that white persons should not molest it.

Rendezvous of I. W. W. Raided as 10 Go to Trial

Detectives Arrest 11 Suspects in Resort in Sacramento Where Sabotage Hearing Attracts Attention.

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 25.—Trial of 10 self admitted members of the Industrial Workers of the World charged with violating California's criminal syndicalism act, was to be continued here today with the testimony by the prosecution. The defense will not open its case until late this week, it is believed.

Testimony taken by the prosecution indicates it is seeking to establish that the organization is committed to the doctrine of sabotage. It is possible that W. E. Townsend, who claims to have been at one time a lieutenant of William Haywood, I. W. W. head, will be asked to testify again today.

Townsend was the surprise witness of the prosecution yesterday, testifying that he had obtained employment with railroads during the war for the purpose of lowering them up and telling of activities of the organization, in holding up war preparations. He testified that he had been complimented several times by Haywood for his activities against soldiers.

Acting on advice received that a large number of members of the organization were in Sacramento attending the trial, a squad of detectives, led by Chief of Police Bernard McShane, raided a resort in the lower end of the city late last night and took 11 men into custody. A large amount of I. W. W. literature was confiscated. The men will be charged with violating the criminal syndicalism act, McShane said.

Apple Prices Show Upward Trend in Iowa

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 25.—Despite the unprecedented apple crop reported from all sections of the state, registering thousands of surplus barrels over former years, prices offered at the market centers for the good varieties continue to show an upward trend, according to R. S. Herrick, secretary of the State Horticultural society.

Housewives are urged by the state horticultural expert to purchase their winter's supply of the ruddy fruit now to avoid paying greatly increased prices later in the fall and winter. "Buying for winter consumption should be done immediately," Mr. Herrick states. "Much higher prices will prevail about Christmas, and from that time on, due to several peculiar conditions affecting the present apple crop."
