Only the voter who is determined to close his ears to the facts of next week's election will be uninformed next Saturday night. The program of republican meetings this week will afford every possible opportunity for the gathering of information as to the merit of the respective tickets and the issues which divide the candidates of the various parties.

Admits His Surprise

Chief Moran was probably the last person, besides Rev. Mr. Christler and Mrs. Christler, to see Mrs. Carleton alive. Chief Moran said today he met Mrs. Carleton on Third street, five blocks from the Christler home, at 12:15 Friday morning, and went over to her, not knowing who she was.

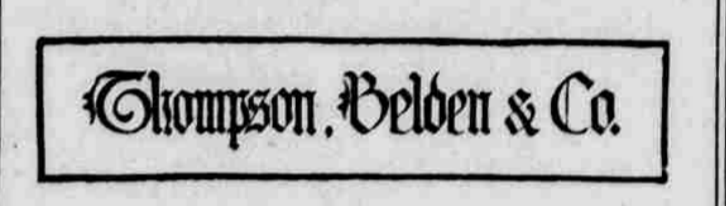

Progress Through Service and Long Trustworthiness

The Thompson-Belden store has been a part of Omaha for thirty-six years—a most effective measure of usefulness.

Casual methods of storekeeping have had no part in attaining the position of respect which comes only through serving conscientiously and well a friendly patronage.

The progress of Omaha is reflected in the growth of this establishment which has maintained its first ideas of good service and worthy merchandise through each successive year.
