

Warm on Yukon While Wyoming Buried in Snow

Balmy Breezes and Sunshine of Indian Summer Prevail at Chicago—Rains in Kansas and Oklahoma.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—(By A. P.)—Unseasonable weather of several varieties continued today in many sections of the United States.

Chicago for several days has enjoyed the balmy breezes and sunshine of Indian summer.

In Wyoming the ranchmen are digging themselves out of the snow—and liking it. They say it helps the grass on the upstaked range.

Up on the Yukon, where winter generally has a strong grip by this time, the river is open. All the tributaries are free of ice and the albedo on the main stream makes no impediment for boats.

A terrific storm broke off the Alaska coast yesterday, however, and crippled a freight steamer.

General rains fell in Kansas and Oklahoma, bringing a long drought which had been accompanied by mid-summer heat.

Up in North Dakota the farmers were so thankful for favorable weather and bounteous crops they blessed Providence in prayer.

Four weather was promised today for Virginia and the Carolinas, but throughout the south generally skies were overcast with clouds which promised showers.

Lloyd George Likely to Wage Bitter Fight

London, Oct. 31.—(By A. P.)—The so-called cooperative pact between governmental conservatives and the Lloyd George national liberals, which yesterday appeared to be gaining strength, today seemed near a smashup that may force Lloyd George to renege on his threat to "spread the war" and wage a bitter fight to the finish with the men who brought about his downfall.

One trouble seems to be that conservative candidates have bobbed up against those running under the Lloyd George banner in certain constituencies, where the latter had regarded themselves as safe from Tory attacks.

Lloyd George is represented as being very indignant and as contemplating the carrying out of his threat if the conservative party does not withdraw some of the candidates already entered against his followers.

Senator Talks Before 2,500 at City Auditorium

Democratic Candidate for Re-Election Says Over-Taxation Is Chief Issue of Campaign.

Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, democratic candidate for reelection to the senate, addressed an audience of approximately 2,500 people in the city auditorium Monday night.

The senator began by informing the audience that Nebraska is now in the throes of a "real political campaign," one filled with "real issues."

He referred to "overtaxation" as the principal issue in the state campaign, adding that there "are some other questions in the state campaign that are going to influence some votes."

In reply to a question from a man in the audience the senator said that it was impossible for any senator to be present at all roll calls. He made no other mention of failure to vote of his absence from senatorial sessions when important roll calls were taken.

After urging the audience to vote for democratic officers for state positions as a means of assuring the repeal of the code bill the senator launched into a long explanation of "the brutal policy of deflation."

The speech was interesting more for what it omitted than for what it included. The principal part of his speech was on deflation, which he blamed on the republican platform, not mentioning the fact that President Wilson announced this policy long before leaving office, and actually had it under way before the republican convention. He did not mention the soldiers' bonus.

His discussion of the tariff was directed in a humorous vein to the women, and he did not mention the protection given the farmers' products against foreign competition.

"There has been no increase in prices as yet," he said, "but there will be."

Princess Hermione Thinks Kaiser "Kindest Man"

London, Oct. 31.—Princess Hermione of Reuss, thinks her fiance, the former German kaiser, is one of the most generous, kindhearted men that ever lived, and she is sure that she is going to be the happiest woman in the world after their marriage, next Sunday.

That, at least, is what she told the correspondent of the Daily Express today. "I know I love the kaiser," she said. "Surely he is not so rich that it can be said I am marrying him for his money."

The princess said that a lot of other women were anxious for the heart of the former German emperor and described how mad some of them were with envy and jealousy when her engagement to William got noised around the world by telegraph and cable.

Berlin, Oct. 31.—The former German emperor's wedding present to his bride of next Sunday, the Princess Hermione of Reuss, will be a diamond set with 700 brilliants and a pair of earrings, the two gifts costing $600,000 marks, according to the newspaper Vorwaerts.

Father Vaughan, Famous Jesuit, Dies in London

Became Prominent as Worker Among Poor in London—Attacked Socialism—Lectured in U. S.

London, Oct. 31.—(By A. P.)—Father Bernard Vaughan, one of the most prominent Jesuit priests in the world, died here today. Several years ago he toured through the United States and parts of Canada and Alaska, and later lectured in Japan, where he addressed the house of peers.

Father Vaughan became ill two or three months ago at Sheffield, but recovered sufficiently to be moved to the Jesuit college at Putney. There he was able to get about in a rolling chair.

He was bed-ridden only three days before the end. His brothers in the Society of Jesus were around his bedside when he died.

Father Vaughan first came into prominence in the latter part of the 19th century by taking a conspicuous part in the civic as well as religious life of Manchester. In 1891 he went to London and became an active worker among the poor at Westminster and in the sea end slums.

As a preacher it was his fortune to attract to his sermons and addresses in various parts of Europe all sorts of men, including King Edward VII. He was cathedral preacher at the eucharistic congress held in Montreal in 1910. The next year, he lectured in various parts of the United States and Canada, later crossing the Pacific to speak before Waseda and Imperial universities of Tokyo. Before leaving for China, he added the house of peers and ladies of society.

While in New York in 1912, he gave a series of sermons against socialism. Mormonism shared with socialism the fire of Father Vaughan's denouncing oratory. At times, he would warn England of her decreasing birth rate and caution against race suicide.

These years ago he scolded the teachers then prevailing in women's gowns. When the Irish hunger strikers came into prominence, he contended that they were deliberately committing suicide.

Born in 1847. Father Vaughan was born August 29, 1847, at Courtfield, Herefordshire, the son of Colonel Vaughan. Of his eight brothers, six became priests. All of his sisters took the veil of nuns. His brother, John, attained the bishopric and another brother, Archbishop Roger Bede Vaughan of Sydney, were the red hat of a cardinal.

He was the author of several books, some of the more recent being "Socialism From the Christian Standpoint," "What of Today?" "The Menace of the Empty Cradle," and "The Worker's Right to Live."

Last summer, Father Vaughan was attacked by influenza and later paralysis gripped him.

One Dead, 12 Hurt in New York Fire

Report of 15 Girls Trapped in Building Cannot Be Verified.

New York, Oct. 31.—One man was killed and more than a dozen persons were injured last night when a five-story factory building in Brooklyn was destroyed by fire.

A report which could not be confirmed said that 15 girls were trapped in the upper floors of the building occupied by shirt factories, as the flames swept up from the cellar and around floor, which was used as a plant for the manufacture of shellac by the Kambler-Chatfield company.

A hasty search of the building by firemen at midnight failed to reveal any bodies.

Contradictory statements as to the number of persons in the building at the time of the fire were made to the authorities. Employers who leased the top floors as shirt factories said that all the girls had left before the fire started.

A girl who escaped said the only persons on the fourth floor were her employer and two salesmen, all of whom were rescued.

The dead man is Eugene Kerstein of Bellmore, N. Y. Four of the injured are said to be in a critical condition.
