TWO CENTS

G. O. P. Acts Lauded by R. B. Howell

Candidate for Senator Answers Song of Hate Sung by His Opponent.

Field Day at Columbus

By P. C. POWELL.
Staff Correspondent of The Omaha Bee.
Columbus, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special Telegram)—A song of hate against the republican party, its founders and traditions, sung the length and breadth of Nebraska by his opponent in this campaign, called for a sharp rebuke today at the hands of R. B. Howell, candidate for United States senator. His opponent's tirade was described as a "challenge to the standard bearers of the republican party, living and dead."

Mr. Howell described the republican party as one with ideals and a party which has carried these ideals to a practical conclusion after election. "The republican party," he said, "is the party of progress. Mr. Howell said, 'From its inception, during those stormy days preceding the civil war, it has been guided by the spirit of our forefathers, who came to these shores that they and their children might enjoy liberty and freedom of opportunity.'

"It has been this spirit that has dominated our people from that time until this, for we are all emigrants or the children of emigrants. It wrote the declaration of independence and triumphed in the revolutionary war. It fought the war of 1812 that we might enjoy freedom of the seas."

"It victoriously supported us in the terrible struggle for the maintenance of the union. It freed the slaves. It finally drove the Spaniard from this hemisphere, where he had sought to establish the institutions of the old world. It was this spirit that animated us when we went to the rescue of Europe in 1915."

"It is because this spirit has ever animated the republican party that it has so long controlled the destinies of the nation. If I am nominated and elected United States senator, it will be my aim to support the great traditions of this party and labor to make it responsive in the future as it has been in the past to the progressive needs of the country. It is this party that is now so bitterly condemned by my distinguished opponent."

Republican Field Day.
This was a republican field day at Columbus. In the afternoon, Mr. Howell talked at the North Opera house under auspices of the republican county committee, and in the evening, Senator George Norris was to speak under auspices of the same committee. Approximately 400 listened to Mr. Howell. While in Columbus, Mr. Howell met Senator Norris. "There is absolutely no doubt that the farmers of Nebraska will vote for Howell," Senator Norris said. "They are dissatisfied with representation given them by Senator Hitchcock and they certainly are justified in that dissatisfaction."

"For instance, I saw him walk out of the senate chamber to dodge one vote which would have turned 31,000,000 over to farmers in the irrigated section. He did it to please his friends in the southern bloc with whom he associates along with his eastern friends and with whom he votes a majority of the time."

What Randall and the State Ticket Stand For

Strict economy in state affairs in the hands of a man who knows by experience how to economize instead of just how to talk glibly of economy.

Following up the reduction in state taxes of one-third already made, by further reduction—reduction in taxes "until it hurts."

The support of co-operative legislation aiding the farmer in carrying on his industry and marketing his crops, thus enable the farmer to secure a fair return on the capital and labor invested.

Enforcement of law, including strict enforcement of prohibition legislation.

The direct primary functioning as the primary law intended and not abused by machine manipulation such as secured the nomination of Randall's opponent.

Completion of the new state capitol within the limits of the appropriation now fixed by law.

Retaining and developing the child welfare bureau and a continued interest in matters relating to public health and welfare.

Legislation to promote irrigation of arid regions.

Randall does not favor abolishing the present state government in Nebraska.

Randall does not favor, as his opponent does, crippling and destroying the usefulness of the agricultural and labor departments of the state. Randall is for developing and increasing the usefulness of same for the benefit of agriculture and labor.

While standing for drastic reduction in state taxes which make up 19 cents out of the taxpayer's dollar, Randall does not favor reducing the taxes for schools, which take 48 cents of the taxpayer's dollar, in such a way as to handicap the education of the youth of Nebraska.

Randall's platform stands for economy with progress. Randall's platform is a platform of hope and faith in the future.

It is not a platform of reaction and despair, of false promises and shallow sympathy, of misrepresentation and idle theories.

Randall's platform is a platform of common honesty and horse sense.

Randall would not "economize" on the feed of the horse by destroying the horse.

Slayings Denied by Mrs. Hall

Widow of Pastor Murdered With Choir Singer Speaks for First Time Since Tragedy.

Faith in Mate Unshaken

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 1.—(By A. P.)—Breaking her silence today for the first time, Mrs. Frances Noel Hall today told reporters that she was absolutely ignorant of how her husband, the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, came to meet his death with Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, choir singer, on Phillips farm September 14.

The pastor's wife at an interview in her home, arranged by her attorney, Timothy M. Pfeiffer, asserted that she had absolutely no knowledge of the shooting, that she was not on the farm the night of the double shooting; that she bore no enmity toward either Dr. Hall nor Mrs. Mills, and she had no knowledge of any love letters having passed between them.

Asked if she were holding anything back in order to protect anyone, new and dear to her, she replied: "Positively no."

"It Would Be Awful."
She asserted she still believed her husband had been true to her. Asked regarding her feelings toward Mrs. Mills she replied:

"I don't know what to say." Asked why she had offered no reward for solution of the crime she replied:

"I think it would be awful." When she was asked if she did not wish to see the murderer punished she replied:

"I don't wish to see any one punished." She explained that she meant that she had no vindictive feeling toward anyone and that she wished the murderer apprehended only because she did not think it safe for society to have him at large.

Can't Explain It.
Mrs. Hall said she knew of nothing in the life of her husband which could have involved him in a murder and that she was absolutely ignorant of any motive that could have existed for the crime.

Asked what she would have done if she had known of any intimacy existing between Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills, the pastor's wife said:

"I would have spoken to him." Asked if she believed in divorce she declined to answer.

Ford Negotiates for Big Tract of Coal Land

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 1.—More than 50,000 acres of coal land, containing approximately 18,000,000 tons of bituminous coal, were involved in a deal which, it was said here today, was in process of negotiation between Henry Ford, Detroit manufacturer, and the Wayne Coal company of Pittsburgh. Official figures were not obtainable, but well informed coal men placed the price at $25,000,000.

There was no intimation as to when the deal would be closed. The properties are in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania and constitute practically all of the Pittsburgh No. 8 seam now being operated by the stripping method. No tunnels are driven, but the earth is torn off the top of the coal bed and the coal scooped up and loaded into railroad cars by steamshovels.

The coal properties are tapped by five railroad systems and while none of them is close to Mr. Ford's railroads, the coal could be shipped economically to the factories, much of the distance being over Mr. Ford's line.

Kidnaped Girl Found in Woods; Condition Grave

Child Swimming Marvel, Taken From Church Sunday, Is Roughly Handled by Abductors.

Muskegon, Mich., Nov. 1.—Suffering from exposure, her clothing hanging in shreds and her body cut and bruised by branches, little Rosalie Shanty, 11, swimming, and diving marvel, was in a serious condition at Dublin, Mich., today, while officers of Muskegon county are scouring the swamp country for a man who kidnaped her from her home here Sunday.

A physician who is in constant attendance at the bedside of the child at the home of Fred Zink, Dublin, is reported by officers as having said that the girl had been attacked and roughly handled. Reports received today are that she has a high fever and that her condition is growing steadily worse.

When found by Joe Presaki, a farmer, three and a half miles east of Dublin last night, Rosalie was wet from splashing through a small creek and her body was bleeding from lacerations and underbrush cuts.

Rosalie was kidnaped Sunday when she returned from church, when a man drove up to her home, declaring he was the father of one of the girl's little chums. He asked the child's mother if Rosalie could come and have dinner with his daughter. Mrs. Shanty is said to have given her consent with the proviso that Rosalie must be at home before dark.

American Sailors Driven Off Seas, Union Protest

San Francisco, Nov. 1.—A letter to President Harding from Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union, protesting that the administration should attempt to solve the problem of Asiatic workers on American ships, was made public by Furuseth here today. Furuseth charged that American boys were being driven off the seas "because they had refused to work, eat and sleep with Chinese coolies."

For Labor

Building trades have been actively employed all season in America at wages ranging around $1 an hour and upwards for skilled workers.

In England much building also has been done. The English scale for masons and carpenters, on an eight-hour day basis, is $1.75 per week, including a bonus equal to about one-third of the total pay.

In Germany wages of carpenters and masons average $1.85, based on an eight-hour day.

The buying power of the American workman is what supports the home market. Reduce his pay in the buying level and you cut down his buying power, which spells ruin for all, including the farmer.

If you want to reduce wages in the United States to the level of the home market, reduce his pay in the buying level and you cut down his buying power, which spells ruin for all, including the farmer.

Radicalism in Italy Given Hard Blow

Rome, Nov. 1.—(By A. P.)—Italy will be on the road back to normalcy today, after a most exhilarating week that saw the younger generation rise to power and in a great triumph overthrow the older politicians.

For the moment, at least, communism has no part in the life of Italy. The onslaught of the fascisti has rendered all radicalism a paralyzing blow. Politically, the chief topic in Italy today is what the fortune of the new cabinet will be when Dr. Benito Mussolini goes before the chamber of deputies. One thing is certain, if Mussolini's government does not receive a majority in the chamber, he will have parliament dissolved and then the fascisti will take their cause to the country.

Mussolini made this clear last Monday when he built a new cabinet at the request of the king.

Minister of Industry Rossi in agreement with the minister of the treasury, has taken steps for the immediate reopening of the Bourse, it was semi-officially announced today.

Malcolm Forbes and Lawrence Brooks of Boston, on behalf of 9,800 men and women of Massachusetts, to "call a conference of all civilized nations for the purpose of outlawing war as an institution" and for the cooperation of international law.

Signers of the petition included A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard university; Henry Lefavour, president of Simmons college; Henry Abraham, president of the Boston Central Labor union; and Ellen F. Pennington, president of Wellesley college.

Tornado Kills 4 in Webb City, Mo. Wrecks 30 Houses

Hits Town at Midnight—Strikes 2 Residence Districts But Hurdles Downtown Section.

Webb City, Mo., Nov. 1.—Hundreds of searchers welcomed daylight this morning, after five hours spent groping in the darkness in their efforts to find the bodies of four persons who are believed to have lost their lives in the tornado which swept this city last midnight. One woman, a Mrs. Freds, was known to have been killed, and 15 other persons were injured, some of them critically, in the storm, which struck in two places in the city. About 30 houses were demolished and more than 100 persons are homeless.

Search for the dead and injured last night was hampered by a cloudburst which preceded the windstorm. It is estimated that from three to four inches of rain fell within a few hours before the tornado. All available ambulances from Joplin and other points were rushed to the two sections of the city which suffered from the storm.

Storm Strides.
The storm struck first in the south part of the city and, passing over the business section in the center of town, dipped down again in the northwest residential section. In each place buildings in an area of about a quarter of a mile were demolished.

In the south residential sections the residences destroyed were principally those of laborers, while the northwest section contains some of the finest residences in town.

In the southern part but one house was left standing in the damaged area.

Only a superficial search had been made before daylight and it had been impossible to check accurately on the number of missing. While it was believed that only four or five persons had been killed, searchers thought that the number might be increased.

Telephone and telegraph communication was interrupted for some time after the storm. The first information was given out by The Associated Press wire shortly after 1 o'clock.

Although reports of high winds were received from other points, no serious damage was done elsewhere as far as has been learned.

1922 Sees Big Gain in Business

Omaha October Bank Clearings $185,720,685, Against $160,519,539 Last Year—Payrolls Grow.

Building Is on Increase

A careful survey of Omaha's business conditions shows conclusively that October was a record month for this year and that 1922 will surpass 1921, notwithstanding the coal and rail strikes that were encountered.

This marked improvement in manufacturing and retail and wholesale lines was appreciable in August, was stronger in September, and October offers comparative figures which are undoubted.

Bank clearings for October were $185,720,685.78, as against $160,519,539.25 for October last year, an increase of nearly 16 per cent. There is also a substantial increase in the clearings for the first 10 months of this year compared with the corresponding period of last year.

Building increases.
During October the building operations were $69,825, representing 221 permits; October, 1921, $57,449 and 195 permits, an increase of nearly 22 per cent. Building operations for the first 10 months of this year, $646,087, first 10 months of last year, $7,254,509, an increase of 19 per cent. It is notable that during the entire year of 1921, 292 permits were issued for dwellings and that the total of new dwellings for the first 10 months of this year has reached 1,359.

Manufacturers report increases from 29 to 33 1/3 per cent for the first 10 months of this year. C. E. Corey, director of the Omaha Manufacturers' association, and manager of the Home Industrial exposition being held on the eighth floor of the Braden store, summarized the manufacturing situation Tuesday afternoon as follows:

$35,000,000 Payroll.
"In canvassing the different manufacturers I found in a majority of cases 29 to 33 1/3 per cent more business for the first 10 months of this year compared with the corresponding period of last year. There may be some lines in which the increase has not been as much. In my own business, which is advertising matter for manufacturers, the increase this year will be about 15 per cent, notwithstanding that prices of paper were lower during the first months of this year, although within the last 30 days paper went back to last year's level.
