

Big Meetings Greet Randall on 82-Mile Tour

Double Dose of Republican Medicine at West Point Changes Votes of Several Democrats.

By A. E. GROH, Staff Correspondent The Omaha Bee, Omaha, Nov. 3.—(Special Telegram)—Hard traveling over 82 miles of muddy, rutty roads ended pleasantly for Charles H. Randall to night with a big, enthusiastic meeting in the opera house here. Mr. Randall is to be the guest for the night of ex-Senator O. R. Thompson at his farm home. Mr. Thompson and Jack Richmond met Mr. Randall on his arrival at West Point. When Mr. Randall arrived in West Point, H. B. Howell was expounding republican doctrine to a crowd of 300 on a street corner. Mr. Randall's added dose of this wholesome medicine is said to have cured several democrats in spite of the fact that Senator Hitchcock was at West Point in the morning.

Herald Tells of Meeting.

At Scribner Mr. Randall was met by Arthur Schultz, committeeman; Henry Edelman and Jo Milligan, Jr. The meeting was postponed to 1 o'clock. James Sawyer, ex-postmaster, procured a big megaphone and went up and down the streets proclaiming the news in this fashion:

"Come to the Crystal theater at 1 o'clock. You'll hear Charles Randall, Nebraska's next governor. He will give a good, honest talk and no bunk, come one, come all!"

They came, a big, attentive audience in the moving picture theater, though this community is described as about 5 to 1 democratic, "normally."

William Schell, who lives here, recalled that he knew Senator Randall 25 years ago, when he was "skinning prairie" up near Randolph.

J. C. Elliott, county chairman, introduced Senator Randall at West Point. Some had come from a distance. F. H. Wagner and his family, who live 20 miles away, were in the audience.

Crowd at Bancroft.

A crowd was waiting on the street in Bancroft, when Mr. Randall arrived after a 20-mile drive. Among those in the audience were: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Kramer, E. M. Brins, H. A. Jordan, Herman Rasmussen, Mrs. Clem Ward and Mrs. J. H. Rasmussen. C. L. Kramer introduced Mr. Randall. The farm home of O. R. Thompson, three miles from West Point, is one of the most up to date in the state. The big, fine home has every modern convenience, including electric lights and vacuum cleaning system. Mr. Thompson has among his stock 1 present about 6,000 sheep.

Mr. Randall, in his address today declared for the most rigid economy in running the state and rapid reduction in taxes. He explained how the republicans have already reduced the state tax levy for next year by one-third. He pointed out his own numerous activities in relieving the distress of the farmers in the last two years and declared that prosperity must come to the farmer before anyone else can prosper.

Evacuation Complete

Constantinople, Nov. 3.—Lieut. Gen. Harrington, commander of the allied forces, announced that all the Greek troops in Thrace had crossed the Maritza river and that the military evacuation of that territory was complete.

Howell Is Greeted by Crowds on Tour

Taxes Coming Down.

"Taxes are coming down and coming down rapidly, regardless of whom you elect your governor. Your state tax levy has already been reduced for 1922 one-third lower than it was for 1921. It will drop rapidly. Why? Because various improvements are being completed. We have 5,000 miles of fine dirt roads finished in the state. Not only finished but paid for out of the taxes you have been paying. We republicans believe in paying as we go. We have paid for the roads instead of floating bonds and leaving them to be paid for with interest."

'Paid in Full.'

"That's what we mean by good business in administration of the state's business. We republicans state capital is finished at a cost of stand for it. When the magnificent $5,000,000 there was a mortgage on it for you to struggle under. It will be paid for because its cost is included in your taxes—our taxes, for I am a heavy taxpayer myself."

"This year we finish buying $2,000,000 bonds, the interest to be used in years to come for the relief of needy ex-soldiers and their dependents. These were bought out of your taxes and I am sure there isn't a red-blooded man or woman who will begrudge the slight increase necessary to provide this fund."

"Let us remember that there are high taxes in every state at present, regardless of whether they have code systems of government or not. They are much too high and they are about to be reduced very rapidly in Nebraska."

Laughter swept over the audience when Senator Randall said he was appearing a report now that I am a member of the Ku Klux Klan. And this was followed by tremendous applause when he added seriously and almost sternly: "I am opposed to any and all forms of invisible government."

Regarding a report spread that he had promised to reappoint the present state employes, Senator Randall declared: "I have made no promises of any kind whatsoever. I would rather not be governor of Nebraska than to go into office hampered by any promises of the kind which are given to the people of this great state the honest efficient service to which they are entitled."

He referred briefly to the work of the emergency tariff and the war finance corporation in relieving the distress of the farmers and declared, "There can be no real return to prosperity until the purchasing power of the farmer has been restored."

First Appearance Here.

It was Randall's first appearance before an Omaha audience and comment heard in the crowd after the meeting showed that he had produced the same very favorable impression that he has on audiences throughout the state—a man of extraordinary capacity, few words, absolute honesty, great energy and business efficiency.

"Termined me of Gen. Grant, just the kind of an honest, straight-speaking man," said one G. A. R. man.

Mrs. Randall was among those seated on the stage.

Roosevelt Tree on Capitol Lawn of Alabama Seized

Note Found Where Tree Stood Says "No Trees Honor Southerner at Washington Capitol Grounds."

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 3.—The Roosevelt memorial tree, which has been the subject of a controversy since planted on the Alabama capitol lawn by Montgomery Boy Scouts last Friday, mysteriously disappeared last night and today officials still were without the identity of the miscreant.

A note discovered where the tree had stood, by the capitol night watchman read:

"Montgomery, Ala.—To all concerned: 'The daughters of the confederacy are our mothers (war mothers), and this is the south. There are no trees in honor of southern gentlemen in the capitol yard at Washington and our war mothers do not want this one here.'"

Brought to Climax.

The controversy resulting from the objection of the Daughters of the Confederacy to the tree remaining in the capitol lawn was brought to a climax yesterday by the White House association president naming a committee to cooperate with other confederate organizations committees in their efforts to have the memorial removed.

The association is a band of women organized for the purpose of preserving the original "White House of the confederacy," where Jefferson Davis resided when the capitol was located in Montgomery.

The various organizations contended it was improper for the memorial to Roosevelt to stand on the capitol grounds within earshot of the place where Davis became president of the confederacy.

Contract for Purchase.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 3.—The Jefferson National Memorial association has contracted with Jefferson Levy of New York for the purchase of "Monticello," the picturesque home of Thomas Jefferson, and has "three weeks in which to make a payment of $25,000 to make the deal binding. It has been announced. Officials of the association stated that the property has been priced at $500,000. Assurances from three New York financiers that they would underwrite $450,000 of the amount if Virginia subscribed $50,000 in cash have been received by the association, it was said. A state-wide campaign to raise Virginia's allotment soon will be started.

Demonstrations in Italy

Rome, Nov. 3.—(By A. P.)—Reports received from various parts of Italy tell of enthusiastic demonstrations which have taken place in greeting fascists returning from "the conquest of Rome."

Freak of Briny Deep Landed by Fisherman: Classed as "What'sit"

New York, Nov. 3.—Fishing off Coney Island yesterday, Anthony Rudolph pulled a thing out of the sea that puts all the freaks and folios of that meeting place for strange grotesqueries in the shade. And he called it a "what'sit."

Rudolph felt an enormous yank at his line and began to haul in. The thing he caught lashed the water into a white foam and fought desperately for freedom. Rudolph gave a great heave and landed it. Then it attacked him. He killed the monster with a pocket knife.

Examination showed it to weigh 20 pounds, mostly head. It measures 20 inches long and 15 wide. Its mouth is cavernous, equipped with three rows of teeth. Under the body are two little protuberances that look like hands, four fingers each. The skin is leathery and adorned with hairy tufts.

Woman Convicted of Manslaughter

Mrs. Mabel Champion Sentenced to 20 Years in Ohio Reformatory.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 3.—Mrs. Mabel Champion, charged with the first degree murder of Thomas A. O'Connell, carnival promoter of New Haven, Conn., in a restaurant here last July, was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury composed of seven women and five men in common pleas court here last night.

Judge Berman immediately imposed the maximum sentence of 20 years in the Marysville reformatory. Attorneys for the defense entered a motion for a new trial, which was denied.

When the verdict was read Mrs. Champion broke down and cried. O'Connell was shot to death in a downtown restaurant here last July while he and Audrey Champion, husband of Mrs. Champion, were engaged in a fight following an argument over a drink of whiskey.

On the witness stand Mrs. Champion admitted firing the fatal shot, but swore they were fired by accident when O'Connell lunged toward her and seized her arm.

State's witnesses testified Mrs. Champion had risen from her seat, held the revolver at her hip and cried to her husband: "Stand aside daddy, and I'll riddle him with bullets."

Mrs. Champion, telling her life's story on the witness stand, said she was married in Brownsville, Tex., in 1917 and had lived there since, with the exception of the time she and her husband "had been in business in Indianapolis, Kansas City, Missouri, California, New Mexico and Kansas."
