

Mine Death Blast Toll Set at 63; 50 Bodies Found

32 Injured Miners Taken Out Alive from Spangler, Pa., Coal Shaft—112 in Disaster.

Spangler, Pa., Nov. 7.—(By A. P.)—Thirteen additional bodies were taken from the mine of the Reilly Coal company here bringing the total dead recovered to 63. All are in the temporary morgue. Thirteen more bodies were in the mine, rescuers said, and 32 injured were in the miners hospital. An explosion yesterday hospitalized the men.

Mine rescue experts said they had explored all but two of the headings and did not expect to find any more bodies.

50 Bodies Recovered.

Spangler, Pa., Nov. 7.—(By A. P.)—The bodies of 50 miners who lost their lives in the Reilly mine explosion here yesterday lay in the city morgue early today. Thirteen more were in sight in the mine, rescue workers said, and 32 injured were in the miners' hospital.

Leaders of rescuers summarized the situation at that hour.

Men in mine when explosion occurred not more than 112.

Bodies recovered, 50.

Bodies located in mine, 13.

Injured in hospital, 32.

Total accounted for, 95.

There was still some uncertainty as to the number of men who went to work yesterday, but it was pointed out that if the total was 112, as some authorities believed, the missing 17 miners would probably be found in the eighth heading, where the water had risen so rapidly that exploration this morning had been impossible. Even if these men had gone into the mine, it was asserted, they had probably perished.

Pumps Damaged.

If that proved true, the leaders said the number of dead would reach 60.

Efforts were being made to repair the pumps, damaged by the explosion, while a force of workers was cutting a passage away through the coal between the eighth and ninth headings. With this work completed, they hoped to reach the last of the unexplored galleries by noon today.

"On the cot of honor" at the hospital rests a youth of 22. His name is Abe Craig. His coolness saved at least a dozen lives.

"There isn't much to tell," said Craig. "We went down at 7 and entered heading No. 19 on the left. A few minutes later there was a crash. I told the boys that meant a cave-in and we had better get out. Then there was a rush of gas. Luckily our door was open, or the explosion would have knocked it down. I planned it and about 25 of us waited to see what would happen.

Could See Bodies.

"Outside there were yells and one of our gang shouted to tell them there was fresh air in our place. I opened the door and three or four men staggered in. The boys rushed out and dragged in others. We revived them.

"Then I looked out again. All I could see was bodies. The after-damp was rolling through the heading. I jumped inside and closed the door. There was nothing to do but wait for rescuers.

"From 7:30 until about 2 we stayed in the chamber. Older men were getting faint. Young fellows were holding out pretty well. Nobody had very

Some of the boys were praying.

"Finally the after-damp worked its way around and under the door. There was only one thing to do. I told them we would have to make a run for it. We opened the door and ran down the heading. It was a tough dash, stumbling over bodies. We began to choke. Some of the boys fell, but those of us who had any fight left on.

"We ran into fallen rock between the seventh and ninth headings. That probably was where the explosion took place.

Three times Craig stopped his story, each time a silent form was brought in on a stretcher. Physicians said Craig and all others in the hospital would recover. A number, it was added, owed their lives to prompt treatment given by rescue parties underground.

Tennessee

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 7.—Early and scattering reports from all sections of the state indicate the election of Austin Peay, democratic gubernatorial nominee, by a larger majority than inside figures at democratic headquarters at first indicated.

In east Tennessee, Peay has reversed a republican majority of 400 in Sullivan county and turned it into a democratic majority of 1,000.

In Davidson county Peay's gains over the Roberts 1920 vote were almost 40 per cent in the country precincts with the city wards still to report. Twenty-five out of 49 county precincts give Peay 1,058; Taylor, 462.

In Maurice county Peay has a lead of 985 already with three towns yet to report. His majority there will reach 1,500 it is estimated.

West Virginia

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 7.—Mathew M. Neely, democrat, candidate opposing Senator Howard Sutherland for re-election, held a slight lead on first returns covering 157 precincts out of 2,968 in the state. The figures: Neely, 18,335; Sutherland, 15,441. Republicans seeking re-election to the house of representatives held small leads in four of the six congressional districts.

Mississippi

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 7.—The entire democratic congressional ticket swept Mississippi. Hubert D. Stephens was overwhelmingly elected to succeed John Sharp Williams, retired. The house delegation of eight democrats will include two new faces, Jeff Bushy and T. Webber Wilson.

Alabama

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 7.—The democratic state ticket, headed by W. W. Brandon for governor, was elected in its entirety, although republican strength in some sections was reported the heaviest ever recorded.

Georgia

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 7.—The democratic state ticket, headed by Clifford M. Walker for governor carried Georgia by the usual overwhelming majority. A light vote was cast owing to rainy weather.

Something New for Omaha! The Celco Reproducing Piano

Do not mistake this wonderful instrument, in both upright and grand form, with an ordinary player piano. It is the latest improvement in the piano world and is in a class by itself.

The Celco is electrically operated when used as a reproducing instrument and so perfect is its action that there is absolutely no mechanical effect noticeable. When you close your eyes and listen to the Celco reproducing instrument you can imagine the great master pianists seated at the keys before you.

Trade in your present player piano as a substantial part payment. Once you see and hear the Celco you will no longer be satisfied with any other. These are the first to be shown in Omaha and our recital exhibition rooms are open from 8:30 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Woman Resents Man's Geniality

Attempts Conversation With Unknown Woman on Train —Heavily Fined.

York, Pa., Nov. 7.—That it is not etiquette for a man to speak to an unknown woman in a train has just been formally declared by the magistrates of this city.

Felix Roberts of Newcastle had dinner in the smoking portion of a buffet and afterwards went into a non-smoking carriage, where Miss Montaglio of Whitley Bay was sitting.

He attempted to open up a conversation with her, but resenting this, she complained to the conductor, who asked Roberts to go back to the smoking section. But later in the journey, Roberts made a second attempt to make the woman's acquaintance and he was arrested.

"I have done nothing unbecoming a gentleman," he declared before the court. "In the book of etiquette of 1922 I can prove that a gentleman can approach a woman and speak to her."

But, despite the book of etiquette, Roberts was heavily fined.

Republicans Retain Control of Congress

defeated before the balloting began. He was leading William Cabell Bruce, the democratic candidate, in the early returns.

The republican managers were claiming the election of Albert J. Beveridge in Indiana on the basis of unofficial reports of the vote in the rural districts but he democratic opponent, former Governor Ralston, was given a slight lead in the early returns. These figures, however, were from precincts in Indianapolis in which the democrats were expected to make their best showing.

Brookhart Elected.

In the face of a republican bolt organized by the conservative elements of the party, Smith W. Brookhart, republican, was elected senator in Iowa by a tremendous plurality over Clyde L. Herrin, democrat. The congressional districts were carried overwhelmingly by the republicans.

Brookhart was opposed by the republican bolters as a radical. They endeavored to divide the republican vote in the interest of the election of Herrin, but, apparently, only a comparatively small proportion of the party followed them into the democratic camp.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, republican leader of the senate, was re-elected in Massachusetts by an enormous plurality over Col. William A. Gaston, democrat. The vote given the senator constitutes a tribute of appreciation by his state which well may stand as the crowning triumph of his long career in the public service—35 years in congress, 20 of them in the senate.

Reed and Pepper Lead.

There was a sensational falling off of the republican vote in Pennsylvania but Senators Reed and Pepper, appointed to the Peppers and Knocks benches, were leading their democratic opponents by an apparently safe distance in the latest returns. The Pennsylvania delegation in the house will be republican by a large majority, although the democrats captured a number of districts considered normally republican.

Wisconsin handed Senator LaFollette another term of office on a silver platter. The democratic party was blotted out officially, having failed to poll enough votes in its own primary to get on the election ticket. Mrs. Jessie Jack Hooper, the democratic nominee for senator, was compelled to run as an independent.

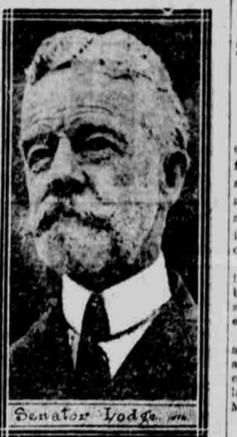

On the Pacific coast the republicans had things pretty much their own way. Senator Poindexter won re-election in Washington easily, while Senator Hiram Johnson rolled up a large plurality in California despite considerable republican disaffection in the southern part of the state.

In Nevada Senator Pittman, and in Arizona Senator Ashurst, both democrats, were returned for another term by pluralities that appear to be safe, according to the party fragmentary returns.

South Democratic.

In the democratic "solid south" the balloting wiped out practically all of the gains in house seats made by the republicans in the Harding landslide. A notable feature of that landslide two years ago was the appearance of Tennessee in the republican column. It was the first time that the electoral vote of any state in the solid south had been given to the G. O. P. since reconstruction days. President Harding entertained hopes that this was an augury of the passing of the unbroken domination of the south by the democratic party.

New Hampshire

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 7.—Returns from 20 election precincts out of 294 in New Hampshire give for governor: W. H. Goodrow (R), 2,822; F. H. Brown (D), 2,823. The same precincts in 1920 gave A. O. Brown (R), 4,030; C. E. Tilton (D), 2,021.

Vermont

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 7.—Returns from 73 towns and cities out of 247 in the state give: For governor, Proctor, republican, 9,389; Jackson, democrat, 2,985. For senator: Greene, republican, 3,855; Mayo, democrat, 2,840.

South Dakota

Siox Falls, S. D., Nov. 7.—Scattered returns from 97 precincts over South Dakota show for governor: McMaster (R), 1,271. Crill (D), 420.

Louisiana

New Orleans, La., Nov. 7.—Louisiana returned to congress its present delegation of eight democrats. The seats were not contested.

3 Sets of Twins Perplex College

Students and Faculty in Constant Doubt as to Identity of All Pairs.

Lima, O., Nov. 7.—Three continuous perplexities confront students and faculty of Ohio Northern university at Ada, 16 miles east of Lima. They are: Three sets of twins, all students at the institution at Ada. Each pair is as like as two peas in a pod, it is claimed.

Acting, dressing, looking and talking alike, students and faculty members alike have been in a constant state of doubt as to the identity of each of the various sets of twins.

These twins are: Misses Annabelle and Avanelle Williams of Dola, who are studying to become teachers; Robert and Russell Nichols, Mansfield, law students, and Elmer and Delmer Morris, Lakeview, studying pharmacy.

Arkansas

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 7.—(By A. P.)—Scattered returns early tonight indicated possibly one of the slightest votes in the history of the state. Local weather conditions throughout the state caused many to believe that the vote in three districts in which previous expectations on the account.

In the Third district, were no candidates were certified to oppose John N. Tillman, democratic nominee, the voters apparently were writing in the names of J. Frank Carlston, republican, and A. Rude, independent, on the ticket, this, according to advice here, is legal in Arkansas.

Pennsylvania

Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—Returns from 94 districts out of 6,021 in Pennsylvania give Gifford Pinchot for governor, 7,417, and John A. McSparran, 4,125.

For United States senator 29 districts give David A. Reed, republican, 2,660; Samuel E. Schultz, democrat, 1,933.

The same number of districts gave George Wharton Pepper, 2,679 for the other seat in the United States senate and Fred B. Kerr 1,325.

Colorado

Denver, Nov. 7.—Guy H. Hardy, republican present congressman from the Third Colorado district, had 310 votes to 174 for his democratic opponent, Chester B. Horn, on returns from 2 of the 445 precincts in the district.

Montana

Helena, Mont., Nov. 7.—Fourteen precincts in Montana give for senator B. K. Wheeler (D), 1,588; Carl W. Riddick (R), 1,343.

Wisconsin Leader Again Triumphant

Senator La Follette

Lincoln, Nov. 7.—(Special)—Some of the university students had it all figured from a perusal of the voting by mail law that they could wait until after the newspapers had said who was elected and then send in their ballots. They based this on the fact that the law nowhere requires in specific terms that the voting must be done before or on election day, and requires only that the ballot be received by the canvassing board on the third day after the election, when its work begins.

Lovers who looked into the matter said that the young men had overlooked a little proviso in the effect that the general election laws govern where otherwise the matter is not covered, and this will not permit a vote to be counted where it is found to have been mailed after the date of election.

Chicago Suicide Was Graduate of Nebraska

Lincoln, Nov. 7.—(Special)—Miss Mae Matheny, who committed suicide in Chicago Monday by jumping into the lake, was a well known member of the student body at the University of Nebraska a few years ago. She graduated in 1913 with an A. B. degree.

Mrs. D. D. Davis, with whom she made her home while in Lincoln, said that she was diffident and timid, but never showed signs of brooding over the family sorrows. Her mother killed herself 15 years ago, and her father died not long afterwards because of grief. A recent visit to the old home at Hubbel is supposed to have made her morbid. A sister, Mrs. Isaac Clark, also a graduate of the university, lives on a farm near Hubbel.

Others Join Miss MacSwiney in Prison Hunger Strike

Dublin, Nov. 7.—The other women arrested on the same day as Miss Mary MacSwiney joined in her hunger strike at Mount Joy prison. Miss MacSwiney was brought back week after her exercise today and requested that she might be permitted to see Dr. Kathleen Lynn, but the application was refused.

A meeting of protest was held here tonight and Mrs. Maude Conna MacBride called upon the audience to denounce the "crowning infamy of the attempt to murder the sister of Terence MacSwiney."

National Democrats Win Overwhelmingly in Poland

Vienna, Nov. 7.—The Polish elections Sunday resulted in an overwhelming victory for the national democrats, rendering the reelection of Marshal Pilsudski as president doubtful, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch.

Rail Body Is Unable to Get Potato Cars

Lincoln, Nov. 7.—(Special)—The state railway commission has so far been unable to secure much relief for the western Nebraska potato growers, who have been bombarding it with telegraphic requests for cars. It finds that an average of about 40 per cent of the refrigerator cars owned by the Nebraska railroads are on eastern lines, caught by the preference given coal shipments, and are not being returned very rapidly. The remainder are in use in carrying the regular shipments on the various lines, known as trap service.

The roads can furnish a few box cars, in which heating apparatus can be fixed up, but the growers must pay a man to go along and keep the fire going. With the present price of potatoes, that expense means considerable. A number of recent protests have come from banks, and it is supposed that they are getting anxious about the loans they have made to growers and which the latter cannot pay off until they have marketed their produce.

Paving Contractors Ask Railway Switching Rate

Lincoln, Nov. 7.—(Special)—The National Construction company of Omaha has filed a formal complaint with the state railway commission against the Chicago, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad, and asks that body to say what is a reasonable rate for the switching of cars to industry tracks. The complaint says that it has a number of paving contracts in and about Florence, and for the purpose of facilitating its work has located a plant along the line of the railroad. It avers, however, that the company refuses to switch any cars to its tracks. The rate for switching cars, established by the company, is 16.25 each for delivering from connecting lines to the industry track.
