

Long-Lost Son May Have Been Found--Too Late

Woman Believes Man Killed in Coal Bunker Fall Was Husband of Her Niece.

A lost son may have been discovered too late by the accidental death of Charles Woodside on October 25, in a fall from a scaffolding at the huge coal bunkers of the Boyer-Van Kuren company.

Newspaper accounts of the accident brought a letter yesterday from Mrs. Emma Dearing of Phillips, Neb., asking Omaha police to attempt to identify the victim as a Charles Woodside, husband of her niece, who disappeared from Phillips nearly a decade ago, leaving a small son, who is now a youth of 15.

The second wife, Mrs. Vena Woodside, with whom Woodside lived at 838 North Fifteenth street, and who is the mother of Woodside's youngest child, a boy of 5 and a girl of 4, acknowledged to neighbors that she knew her husband had been married before and that he was the father of a boy, now about 14.

Thought He Had Divorced. Mrs. Woodside believed, however, that her husband obtained a divorce from his first wife. She told neighbors that he was sending alimony of $15 to $20 per month to his first wife in Burlington, Colo., when she first met him. Later, his checks were returned unclaimed. Also his letters, so Woodside stopped sending the checks. He made repeated efforts to locate his son, but to no avail, she said.

Mrs. Woodside, who is now visiting her mother, Mrs. T. J. Marston, La., was twice widowed in tragic ways. Her first husband, John Adams, a city brewer, was killed during a fire in the Swift plant a number of years ago. She then married Woodside in Spencer, Ia., in 1915.

Spoke of Boy. Mrs. Woodside's daughter by her first marriage, a Mrs. Frances Davis, 4705 North Twenty-ninth street, told police that Woodside frequently spoke of his boy, "Marvet Fay," whom he nicknamed "Buster." He also told her mother he had been divorced from the first Mrs. Woodside, and married the second, Mrs. Vena Woodside, in Kansas City, Mo., in connection with her, she said.

Police believe this information may help in establishing whether the Phillips, Neb., lad is his son or not. The second wife, Mrs. Vena Woodside, last week began a damage suit for $25,000 for the death of her husband.

Women Demand Fair Play in Government Service. Washington, Nov. 11.—Declaring that "sex prejudice exists in some bureaus and offices of the government," a committee of women representing the women members of the National Federation of Federal Employees, delivered to the White House an appeal to President Harding to take up in his message to the forthcoming extra session of congress the question of fair play to women in government service.

The appeal asked particularly that the president urge the passage of the Everling-Lehbach bill, which, it was said, would erase from the statute books the law of 1870 making women's status in the civil service subject to the discretion of appointing officers.

N. Y. Society Woman Finds "Human Fly" in Room. New York, Nov. 11.—Aroused from her sleep to discover a man crawling on the floor of her suite in the Waldorf Astoria hotel early yesterday morning, Mrs. George H. Stetson, prominent in New York and Philadelphia society and the wife of the millionaire hat manufacturer gave voice to a scream that resulted in the arrest of George McCraig, who, the police declare, is New York's first accomplished "human fly" burglar.

McCraig escaped through a third floor window from a police station recently after having been arrested in a guest's room at the Herald Square hotel. He was held today in jail of $50,000 for examination November 12.

Railways Report Increase in Freight Car Shortage. Washington, Nov. 11.—Car shortage of American railroads, estimated last week by the Railroad Age, transportation journal, to be the greatest in history, has increased on the basis of the latest reports made public by the American Railroad association. On October 30, 179,239 cars more than railroads could furnish were being demanded by shippers, a number greater by 12,890 than was reported October 22.

Railway Official Dies. Chicago, Nov. 11.—Overton E. Kinney, 47, general western passenger agent of the Pere Marquette railroad, died from heart disease here yesterday.

Allies in Dark About Moves at Turk Capital

LONDON, Nov. 11.—(By A. P.)—The situation at Constantinople, where the Turkish nationalists want the allies to get out and the allies are determined to sit tight, is still very critical, all the morning papers agree, but none of them furnish any definite news to justify their views.

Even the government itself is declared in some quarters to be largely in the dark owing to the difficulty of communicating with the near east as a result of the cutting of the cable line near Chanak by the Turks. Even this fact is regarded as dubious. Nothing can be learned regarding the present attitude of the Ankara government and it is equally unknown whether the allied commissioners have carried out their threat to establish martial law in Constantinople.

Liquor Case Mill to Grind Monday

125 Trials Scheduled—U. S. Court Hopes to Dispose of 30 a Week.

The liquor case mill will begin to grind again in federal court at 2 Monday afternoon, when an adjourned jury has been ordered to report for duty.

There are about 125 cases to be tried, Assistant United States District Attorney Keyser announced Saturday. These cases have been divided into groups of 30, and it is hoped that a group a week can be disposed of, Mr. Keyser says. A large number of guilty pleas will be entered, it is anticipated. Among these cases are two in which conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act is charged. The leader of the black-shirt fascists stood the ordeal of questioning with a patience that belied his fierce and severe appearance. Many of the inquiries no doubt seemed trivial and irrelevant to him, but he replied with courtesy and grace. The interview was launched upon the topic of reparations. Mussolini said that in his opinion it was impossible to separate the question of reparations from that of international debts, even where the latter affected the United States.

He hoped to refer to the good will prevailing between the two countries on economic cooperation that would be mutually beneficial. "We have the working men; you have the capital," he said. "I would be happy if your country would amend the law limiting immigrants from Italy to the number of 42,000 a year, extending it to at least 100,000. This would benefit the United States, Italy and the whole of civilization."

Mussolini Wants U. S. to Lift Immigration Ban

Rome, Nov. 11.—(By A. P.)—Premier Mussolini has gone through the baptism of oratorical fire from the American correspondents in Rome. He received them yesterday, gave his opinion on most of the supposedly burning problems of the world and chatted at length upon prohibition and woman's suffrage. The leader of the black-shirt fascists stood the ordeal of questioning with a patience that belied his fierce and severe appearance. Many of the inquiries no doubt seemed trivial and irrelevant to him, but he replied with courtesy and grace. The interview was launched upon the topic of reparations. Mussolini said that in his opinion it was impossible to separate the question of reparations from that of international debts, even where the latter affected the United States.

He hoped to refer to the good will prevailing between the two countries on economic cooperation that would be mutually beneficial. "We have the working men; you have the capital," he said. "I would be happy if your country would amend the law limiting immigrants from Italy to the number of 42,000 a year, extending it to at least 100,000. This would benefit the United States, Italy and the whole of civilization."

"Unwritten Law" Attacked in Hammer Murder Trial. Los Angeles, Nov. 11.—The "unwritten law" is "unchristian and the fount of a diseased imagination," W. Maxwell Burke, deputy district attorney, told the jury yesterday in his opening argument at the trial of Mrs. Clara Phillips, former chorus girl, for the murder of Mrs. Alberta Meadows. Burke argued that the insanity defense based on psychomotor epilepsy was "faked," and declared that the defendant confessed to her guilt in attempting to hide the crime by "washing the blood from herself and her clothing and in seeking to get away."

Klan Donation of $15,000 to Boy Scout Fund Refused. St. Louis, Nov. 11.—A donation of $15,000 made by the St. Louis knights of the Ku Klux Klan toward the campaign fund in progress here for the benefit of the Boy Scouts has been refused. It was announced by the executive committee in charge of the campaign. The committee is a joint body of representatives of the American Legion, the Society of First and Boy Scout council.

Thousands Attend Funerals of Mine Disaster Victims. Springfield, Va., Nov. 11.—Inventories of the Hollis mine disaster was halted late yesterday by deep water in the workings. Thousands of residents of the twin villages of Burnsville and Springdale and adjoining communities attended the funerals of 15 victims of the explosion. Five of the miners, who were not released, were given military honors.
