It was a great game, featured by sparkling tackling and blocking. In fact, the men played so aggressively that time had to be called 10 times in the first two quarters and some of the players, including Parkin, the fleet Iowa quarterback, had to be assisted from the gridiron.

At the end of the first half, Iowa led 28 to 7 and to apparances, it looked as if Minnesota would be badly beaten. Between halves, however, Coach Spaulding gave his men a severe talk, corrected their faults with the result they came back in the second half and completely outplayed last year's Big Ten champions. The Copners penetrated the Hawkeye line for consistent gains and executed a beautiful forward pass which resulted in their second score in the final quarter.
