 Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Ensity and cheapty prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is very easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs. Into a pint bottle, pur 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchist asthma.

In the yard next door blackbirds were breakfast hunting. She noted that each glistening male was nagged and bullied by a fat brown female. When he found a worm she ran and took it away from him. When he did not find one she nipped him with her bill or made a pathetic racket. If he tried to swallow one unobserved she made him disgorge it. If she stumbled over one as she wadded, she kept it herself. Her motto seemed to be the old phrase Mem had heard as a child: "What's yours 's mine; what's mine's m'own."

No wonder the males were so sleek and crispiy alert. No wonder their seemed to be the mine the motton of the race, and of the nation. Race mixtures cause a mixed race of inferior quality.

Mem fell to thinking. A ferocious temptation assailed her to confess to Tom Holby that she had been such a girl herself, but had never dreamed that such a man existed.
