

Girl Killed by Auto Identified by Her Employer

Long Line of Curious Men and Women View Body Held at South Omaha Morgue.

Wednesday afternoon was Elmer Matasak's weekly half holiday and she went happily from her place of employment in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Fradenburg, 5605 Chicago street, down town and then to dinner and a visit with her friends, the John Krcal family at 4835 South Twenty-first street.

At 3 o'clock Wednesday night her dead body lay in the Brewer undertaking establishment.

On a table in the office where the throng passed, lay a dark brown velvet tam ebanter with three large gold disks, part of the modish apparel of the dead girl.

She had been struck at Railroad avenue and Y street by an automobile driven by Frank Kruger, who runs a garage at Railroad avenue and Polk street. In the car with him were L. E. Tibbets, 4192 South Twenty-eighth street, and Joe Krenkel, 1620 Drexel street.

All night and until 9:30 yesterday morning the body of the girl lay unidentified. Mrs. Fradenburg was surprised to find that her maid had not returned yesterday morning. When she read in The Omaha Bee of the accident in South Omaha and noted the description of the girl she drove at once to the Brewer establishment and identified the victim.

"She was such a sweet little girl," she said, deeply affected. "She had worked for me about four months. She went away so happily Wednesday. I can hardly believe it."

Shortly before noon the girl's brother-in-law, John Polinsky, was reached by telephone at Ben, Butler county, Neb. He was so affected by the news that he could hardly talk. He said he and his wife, the dead girl's sister, would leave Bee at 1 and arrive here at 6 yesterday afternoon.

A long line of curious men and women continued to view the body even after identification was established. Kruger was arrested and is held, pending the inquest.

"I was only driving about 15 miles an hour," he told police. "The girl suddenly dashed from behind a telephone pole. In my effort to avoid hitting her I swerved so sharply that the machine turned over."

The Krcal family was overcome with grief when informed of the death of the girl this morning. The inquest, which was to have been held at 2 yesterday afternoon, has been postponed pending arrival of relatives.

Nebraska Stadium Drive

Started by Omaha Alumni

Thirty teams of former University of Nebraska men took the field yesterday to secure Omaha's $20,000 quota for the Nebraska stadium. They reported late yesterday to Chairman Ramsey.

It is being explained to both Omaha alumni and business men that the stadium will be Nebraska's great memorial to World War soldiers. The stadium entrance will be flanked with bronze plates bearing the names of the University of Nebraska men killed in the war, together with the names of all soldiers enlisted from this state who made the supreme sacrifice. Nearly a half million dollars will be expended on the stadium.

Three Women Suffering from Bandit Attack

One in Hospital, One Confined to Home, Third Partly Deaf from Lead Pipe Blows.

One woman was in Frederick hospital another in bed at her home and a third was partly deaf yesterday from blows dealt them on the head with a lead pipe in the hands of a footpad Wednesday night.

None of the three can identify the highwayman. They say it was so dark and they were so frightened they do not even know if he was black or white.

Mrs. McDonald, 3042 South Nineteenth street, 1210 South Twenty-fifth avenue, is in the hospital. It was at first thought her skull was fractured.

Her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. J. McDonald, 3042 South Nineteenth street, has a torn lip and a deep scratch six or seven inches long on the left side of her neck as a result of her tussle with the cave man footpad.

Struck in Mouth. "I caught hold of his hand and bit his finger; then he struck me a blow on the mouth," said she. "I cannot hear well, either, from a blow on the head."

Mrs. Fay Anderson, 1724 Lake street, a smaller woman than the other two, has a gash on her forehead, in which police surgeons took three stitches; a hole and bruise about the right ear, finger marks on her neck and a bruised ankle where the footpad kicked her in rolling her on the ground to tear off her muskrat coat, valued at $150.

Mrs. Anderson said she was on the way to the picture show to call for her little boy when the attack occurred.

The two McDonald women were on their way to Frederick hospital where the attack was expected to visit Mrs. J. C. McDonald's daughter, Mrs. Edward Wilford.

Woman Faints. "We just left the hospital a few minutes to get something to eat and were on our way back, when the footpad jumped out in front of us and struck my sister-in-law on the head with a big lead pipe. She fainted. I tried to run, but the man grabbed me and choked me," the younger Mrs. McDonald related.

The elder woman was carried to the hospital and placed in a room near her daughter, but, on account of her condition, Mrs. Wilford was not told what befell her mother.

The latter was reported rallying from the shock and her injuries yesterday morning, but no visitors were permitted.

Both attacks occurred within a few blocks of each other, with a short interval of time between, indicating the same assailant.

Mrs. Anderson was attacked on Sixteenth street, between Ohio and Lake, at nearly 10:30; the McDonald woman in front of 1509 North Seventeenth street, which is near Charles, a few minutes earlier.

Striker Shot at Plattsmouth in Street Affray

Shopman Held for Shooting With Attempt to Kill—Street Crowds Are Forbidden.

Plattsmouth, Nov. 16.—(Special Telegram)—Erb Cotton, employed in the Burlington shops here, was arrested last night charged with shooting with attempt to kill Thomas Robb, former shopman, now out on strike. Three shots were fired, one of which entered Robb's body and may have punctured his lung. He is in a critical condition.

According to Andy Robb, father of the wounded man, he and his son were walking downtown and met Cotton, who was returning from work. He asserts that Cotton was carrying a flashlight and directed its rays on them as they approached. The father says that he first passed Cotton, and as his son passed he accidentally brushed against Cotton's dinner pail.

Father Sees Shooting. The father alleges that no words were passed from that time until the three shots were fired and two boys who witnessed the shooting corroborate his story. Cotton, the father says, stepped behind a tree as he shot.

The senior Robb carried his son's body to the home of O. D. Frandlin and physicians summoned.

Sheriff C. D. Quinton arrested Cotton on a warrant sworn out by Acting County Attorney C. A. Ralls. He was given a hearing before Police Judge William Webber and pleaded not guilty to shooting with attempt to kill. He was held under $2,500 bond, which was signed by his brother-in-law, Allen J. Breen, and William Baird, superintendent of the Burlington shops.

Crowds Forbidden. Considerable feeling was aroused over the affray, and as a precautionary measure, Sheriff Quinton instructed the police not to allow groups of more than three to congregate on the streets.

Cotton did not start work in the shops for several weeks after the strike started. He declared that the strikers took all of his work as a painter and paperhanger away from him after they left the shops. After he started work his house was painted yellow one night and later night marauders damaged his automobile.

Others Tout Gump for White House

Campaign Started by Mayor Dahlman Spreads to Michigan and California.

The Andrew Gump for president campaign, started by Mayor Dahlman, is on its way.

Already the campaign has reached to Detroit, Mich., and Korto, Cal.

The mayor received two letters yesterday morning relative to the campaign. The first, from R. E. Johnson, traffic manager of the Burroughs Adding Machine company, Detroit, enclosed the clipping from The Omaha Bee announcing the mayor's stand.

Johnson wrote that he "feels certain Gump will be our next president if he can have such an able organizer as Mayor Dahlman running his campaign."

The other letter was from Gerald Miller of the Pacific Oil company of Korto, Cal.

"As a former resident of Omaha," he wrote, "I was overjoyed to read in The Omaha Bee that its honored and progressive mayor has started a movement which bids fair to sweep the country."

Miller related that two residents of his community, "Fred G. Sweeney and myself," already have started an Andrew Gump for President club, "with ourselves as charter members."

What I Have Learned in 47 Years Practice

I HAVE been watching the results of constipation for 47 years since I began the practice of medicine back in 1875. I am now 83 years old, and though from time to time the medical profession makes some wonderfully interesting experiments and tests, the fundamentals of causes and relief in this particular ailment are unchanged.

But the people take greater interest today in their health, in diet, exercise and the drinking of water. Constipation, however, will occur from time to time no matter how one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. I believe in getting as close to nature as possible, hence my remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It is made of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. Children will not willingly take bitter things. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written me to that effect.

Over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are now sold every year, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world. I say family laxative because all in the family can use it with safety. It is mild enough for the infant in arms, effective in the most chronic constipation

I REPEAT MY FREE OFFER

$10,000 worth of trial bottles of Syrup Pepsin free

Last year I agreed to spend $10,000 cash for free samples of my Syrup Pepsin, and send them free to all who asked. A tremendous mail was the result. But there must be many who did not write. I would like to get their address this time. So I now repeat my offer. In remembrance of my approaching 84th birthday, and will again donate $10,000 to free samples. I am anxious to see one in every American home. Write for your share. Simply give me your address. Send it to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 1515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Mine is truly a free gift; it costs the public nothing.

Young Pershing Puts Radio on Dad's Auto

New Bedford, Mass., Nov. 16.—Warren Pershing, son of General Pershing, who is writing his memoirs on an island near here in a summer home loaned to him for the purpose, has installed a radio receiving set on his father's big automobile. On top of the car is a streamer of copper wire for an aerial, and within the receiving set, which was rigged up by Warren, who was assisted by his father's army sergeant chauffeur. The son uses the car more than his father, and catches music, stock market and weather reports on the fly, as it were.

Detector Crystals

Those not fortunate enough to possess an audio detector should try to obtain the best results possible from their crystal.

The first thing to observe about the proper care of crystals is to see that their surfaces are kept absolutely clean. The experimenter cannot hope to do this by continually handling them, as this will deposit a thin film of greasy matter from the fingers which will greatly interfere with the efficient action of the crystal through its high resistance.

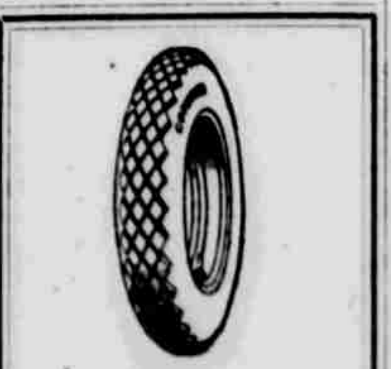

To keep crystals in a sensitive condition they should be handled with a small pair of tweezers.

When the operator is through receiving, he should, if possible, remove the crystal from the detector stand and place it where it can be kept free from dust and dirt. By following these simple precautions, the results obtainable with a mineral detector will be entirely satisfactory.—J. M. C.

Sparks

A large factory here has installed radio apparatus with a loud speaker in the main work room, where employees at work will be able to listen in when broadcasting is in progress. Similar installations are being contemplated for the canteen and restaurants provided by many other large establishments. If concerts are to be broadcasted at lunch time for business employees some modification of the hours so far arranged by the British postmaster general will be required.

Japan proposes to come to an agreement with the Chinese government as to the disposition of the radio stations at Tsingtao and Tsinan, and to arrange for the continued operation of the submarine cables between Tsingtao and Kasebo, which were part of the communication system developed and administered by the Germans, but taken over by the Japanese during the war.
