Others were Mrs. Edgar Penney, state president of federated clubs; Miss Sarah Muir of Lincoln who took the place of Mrs. George Abel on the program; Mrs. Cyrus Mason, and Mr. Kirk Griggs, president of the local Chamber of Com-

Four things women may do to help toward world peace, according to Mrs. Park, are:

(1) Encourage the reduction of arma nents, in which connection, she said, the Washington conference was a ray of hope, but that land as well as naval reduction is needed.

(2.) Help provide some internation al machinery for peace. The probable working out of this would be a men ber from the United States in the Hague court which could be accomber of the club which was organized tion Mrs. Ryan, state president, said plished even though we were no members of the league. What woman has not hesitated to put her hands into washwater saturated with odorous, frritating common soup ingredients? Free caustic and lye bite the hands, making them rough and red. Such discomfort is no longer necessary. Linn, the soap powder with the lemon fragrance, soothes the hands, while it removes every trace of grease and dirt from whatever needs to be cleaned. The lemon constituent of Linn kills all other odors instantly. No wonder Linn is such a household favorite! An Advantageous Purchase Luxurious Fur Trimmed Coats

They came in this morning and are more beautiful just out of their tissue wrappings than they looked when purchased.

Not only is this true of the soft aristocratic materials of which they are made, including Panvelaine, Lustrola, Gerona, Marvella and combinations of Lamb Cloth, but the fur trimmings (many with both collars and cuffs) are of unusually beautiful Beaver, Siberian Squirrel, Gray and Taupe Wolf, Caracul and Viatka Squirrel.

The styles are the newest of the new, including novelty blouse and wrappy effects, as well as those superb straight-line practical mod-els that are always in favor. Tabs, cable stitching, bell shaped
