

Federal Agent Says Omaha Bone Dry of Good Rum

Prohibition Chief Admits, However, That Few Homes May Have Little Old Stock.

"There is no more good liquor in Omaha," yesterday said U. S. Rohrer, federal prohibition enforcement chief for Nebraska. He qualified the statement slightly: "Of course, there are a few, a very few bottles in certain homes. I needn't mention any names, but they are homes where a large supply was laid in before prohibition. But it's going, it's going."

"Practically all the other stuff is bootleg, poison. Why, all this stuff," he continued, warning to his subject and waving his hand around him of the place where stood captured bottles and jugs looking very deflated and dejected and felled—all this stuff is the faintest bootleg. Some of it has fine labels on, even has government revenue stamps, but it's the bunk, any way. It doesn't stand the test."

"As for the stuff smuggled in, that's a thing of the past. There's none of it coming into Omaha any more."

"It is a gloomy picture U. S. paints of the coming and once-gladstone holiday season."

"I haven't decided yet whether I will send agents to the big restaurants and hotels for New Year's eve like I did last year," he remarked. "Hardly seems necessary. There's so little good liquor to be had."

Omaha Co-Ed Says 50 Cents Not Enough for 3 Meals

Fiancee of Senator-Elect's Son Objects to Proposed Chicago Uni Experiment.

Miss Charlotte Acer, University of Chicago co-ed who is to marry Sidney Cullingham, son of Senator-elect and Mrs. R. B. Howell, precipitated a lively discussion on the Chicago college campus this week, according to news dispatches.

She protested the extension of a University of Pennsylvania experiment for co-eds to eat on 50 cents a day.

"We can't have 'three squares' a day on 'fourbits,'" was the chorus of the girls at Chicago.

Not Enough.

"The girls in our dorm pay $1 a day for board, and that is not any too luxurious, and 50 cents for three meals a day? Oh, my, no—out of the question," exclaimed Miss Acer, one of the popular girls at Greenwood hall.

"Of course," she added. "I suppose that a good many laborers who do not earn any more than that have to get along on that basis, but—co-eds is not a laborer, you know."

Miss Ellen Gavin, domestic science instructor at the University of Omaha, said it could be done—with a lot of "ifs." The "ifs" include buying in wholesale quantities, medium grade vegetables and the cheapest kind of meats.

Monotonous Diet.

"That would make a monotonous diet which might not prove continuously acceptable to a college group of students," she said. "Eating should be a pleasure and not consist of mere stocking. Meals should be gratifying, satisfying and essentially right."

Miss Gavin figured out a food chart providing 2,200 to 2,500 calories per person per day, which is enough to sustain life and activity and which would cost not more than 50 cents a day, by meticulous care in buying.

Professor Edgar L. Hollingshead, of Pasadena, Cal., has invented an apparatus which throws off "otic" activity waves," said to be the most powerful force known to science.

Victims of Auto Accidents Are Viewed by Drivers

Party of Speeding Motorists Conducted Through Hospital by Police Judge.

Ten reckless or speeding motorists were fined in Central police court yesterday morning and then sent through Lord Lister hospital to view victims of offenses similar to those for which they had been convicted.

One of them, A. F. Schuelzky, 2602 Avenue B, Council Bluffs, stepping into the first sick chamber visited, came face to face with the man he had run down.

The victim was John Wear, 45, Fifty-fourth and Decatur streets, who was struck October 21 at Fifty-sixth and Blondo streets while walking across a street with his brother.

Each man looked at the other, but neither spoke.

"All the worry afterward won't get this man out of bed," Judge W. F. Wappich, who planned and directed the trip, told his audience. "Thomas B. Crawford, court officer, whom I consider an excellent accident investigator, tells me that 90 per cent of the motor accidents are avoidable.

"Recklessness and speeding are responsible for putting men like Mr. Wear in the hospital."

The 10 hospital tourists looked at Schuelzky's victim, but were silent.

"Sixty-five persons were injured in October as a result of the offenses for which you men were taken to court," Officer Crawford declared. "The visitors next stopped to visit

Nick Simion, 614 South Thirty-third street, who was injured in an accident at Twenty-sixth and Q streets.

A rainy night, a clouded windshield, speed and a crash—that was the story Simion related.

"A windshield wipe and less speed would have prevented the accident," Crawford said. "This is just another one of the 90 per cent of accidents that never should have happened."

Glen Carden, 16, 2618 Bristol street, Western Union messenger boy, lay with his leg in a cast, a victim of a motorist who has not been captured.

"I believe Judge Wappich is right in bringing these violators to the hospital," he said. "But it could have been improved; they should have seen the big gash in my leg, so that they might know what it means to be hit."

The nine other victims were H. Heine, 2015 Valley street; B. Kleyle, 4706 Cass; E. N. Benson, 1409 North Thirty-eighth street; R. M. Peters of the Farmers Lumber company; Arthur Marjiby, 2712 Charles street, and Max Epstein, 1817 North Nineteenth street, for speeding; Con. Bequist, 2204 1/2 North Twenty-first street, for drunkenness and reckless driving; and James Urban, 1504 South Tenth street, and K. K. Clamer, Leonard hotel, for reckless driving.

Widow's $125,000 Estate Dwindles in Value to $250

Dr. Howard A. Kelly of Baltimore has appealed to Omaha doctors to aid the widow of Dr. Pfannenstiel, who lives in Darmstadt, Germany.

"Pfannenstiel left his widow 500,000 marks, or $125,000, which was an abundant provision, but with the depreciation of the mark it has dwindled to a value of $250," explains Dr. Kelly in his letter. "Mrs. Pfannenstiel takes a student board, who pays her 500 marks monthly, 32 cents in our money. I want to raise $500 among our colleagues who knew and loved Pfannenstiel."
