Most Important of All Is the Fit of a Shoe

A pair of shoes may have every good quality and yet if it fails to fit, all the other qualities feel like so much wasted effort. Miss Olive Alcorn, whose graceful dancing has pleased large audiences at the N. ". Winter Garden, threw away twenty pairs of shoes when she found in the Cantilever the one last which seemed to provide everything a wise woman wants in a shoe; comfort, flexibility. good looks, freedom from fatigue.

Prefessional women in all walks of life-actresses, school teachers, trained nurses, secretaries-are changing from ordinary shoes to Cantilevers beith the flexible archi because foot comfort and freedom from foot fatigue are aids to success amidst com petition. You can't be at your best with lauging feet.

A lady in Tennessee wrote recently to the Cantilever factory summing up in a few words all we might say in columns regarding this feature of Cantilever Shorn, Courtsay Induces to smit her name:

"I received the Cantilever Shore and they surely are comfortable-more so than any since I have had in years and years. I don't think I have ever but shoe to fit as well as they do." There is a good reason for this comfors and precise $1 of Cantilever Shoes-they're reads that way. ## "It Adds Inestimably to the Joy in the Art"

The Steinway'

The following paragraphs by Mr. and Mrs. Berryman, well-known Omaha teachers, artists and composers, tell the story of the Steinway. It is aptly called "The Instru-ment of the Immortals." So many great artists have made it their own. Mr. and Mrs. Berryman studied in Paris under the piano pedagogue, Wager Swayne, and were special students to M. Emile Schvartz of the Paris Conservatoire in Theory, Harmony, Counterpoint, Composition and Solfege. Later Mrs. Berryman coached under the eminent Swiss pianist, Rudolph Ganz, in Switzerland and New York. They are unanimous in their praise of the Steinway.

"In preparing a series of musical lectures which Mr. Berryman and I have been giving this season, especially in one devoted to the evolution of the instrument, I have been more than ever impressed with the perfection of the Steinway from every angle. In the study of piano construction and development through the last century, and in comparison with other makes, I can only marvel at the consummate skill and inventive genius which has produced such an entirely satisfactory instrument." Davis Berryman,

"STEINWAY, like many names of musical association, is eminently fitting, for it is the Stone that has paved the way to Parnassus for many a distinguished artist. owner of a Steinway has what a singer richly endowed by nature possesses: a beautiful, ready-made medium of expres sion, wanting but hard work and intelligence to achieve the utmost of which the art is capable. As teacher, player and composer, I have found the Steinway invaluable. It adds inestimably to the joy of the art."-Cecil W. Berryman.

If you desire a Steinway, remember we are the exclusive representatives of this leading instrument in Nebraska and Western Iowa. We have arranged terms of 10 per cent of the purchase price and the remainder in terms of three years, if so desired. Your old piano, regardless of its condition and time of servitude, will gladly be accepted as a substantial part payment.

T HAS been and is a notable season, Never has Fashion demanded such elaboration in millinery. The day is past when one hat will answer all requirements. More and more social requirements exact a different hat for each occasion.

The dance hat must be individual. Bandeaux are required for other evening functions, all apart from and beside the usual tailleurs and sport models.

Responding to this condition, hat making has been stimus lated and at the same time individualized. Hence, models meeting all these fashion exactions at such prices that the fortunate woman finds herself able to secure this needful variety of hats at no increase in the millinery budget.

As evidence of this, we call especial attention to our showing of authentic models in actin and glace taffets, embroidered or flower trimmed, sometimes combined with metal at
