

Clemenceau Acclaimed at Chicago

Biggest Demonstration of Tour Is Staged in Auditorium—Magnifying Horns Are Used Outside.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—(By A. P.)—Standing with outspread arms before an audience that packed the auditorium, Georges Clemenceau today pleaded with America to save France from possible extinction.

Five thousand persons crowded into the theater long before the "Tiger" arrived. Outside, where magnifying horns had been installed, nearly as many more waited patiently to see the former French premier arrive and hear his voice by proxy.

The demonstration when the former premier rose to speak was the greatest he has received on his American tour. Patiently seeking to explain away the charges of militarism and imperialism brought against his country, the old "Tiger" declared that France sought only peace, but that war was being forced upon her.

"If France does not get the help that she needs," he declared in emotional-laden tones, "she may perhaps disappear. Athens was a democracy, very great and very fine. But she disappeared. And if France were to disappear, I believe that some day the people would begin to look around and ask if something had not disappeared that had brought life to the world."

The aged premier's audience hung on his every word, interrupting him twice to drive him behind a device which would carry his weak voice through the big house. He was interrupted by frequent outbursts of applause.

Clemenceau took for his text the epithet that he read last week on Grant's tomb in New York—"Let Us Have Peace."

"Since the world has been," he continued, "it has always been the feeling in every man's heart that he wanted peace. But General Grant, when he uttered those famous words, knew very well that before there could be peace there must be war."

Wilson, superintendent of the naval academy.

The incident, it was said, was not discussed at today's cabinet meeting, but President Harding was described as regarding it as a discouraging and deplorable manifestation of laxity in prohibition enforcement and as being determined that his administration should keep vigorously behind its commitment of law enforcement.

Secretary Denby, in announcing the appointment of the board of inquiry, the membership of which was not made public, emphasized that its investigations would be directed toward fixing responsibility for conditions that made possible the "disgraceful" incident and was not intended to "bring to book" the midshipmen themselves.

The bill passed by the house empowering the federal government to intervene to punish lynchers and local governments which fail to enforce the law against lynchers was termed a "force" bill and unconstitutional by its bitter southern opponents.

Senator Underwood, Alabama, their leader, lightly served notice upon republican leaders that all business of every character, including even the confirmation of presidential nominations, would be blocked until the effort to pass the Dyer bill should be abandoned.

Thieffoff Made General Manager East on C. B. & Q.

Place Will Be Taken by E. Flynn, General Superintendent at Lincoln—Card Goes to Burlington, Ia.

W. F. Thieffoff, who entered the service of the Burlington railroad 39 years ago as a section laborer, has been appointed general manager of the line east of the Missouri river with headquarters in Chicago, it was officially announced yesterday.

The changes and promotions came as a surprise to Omaha officials of the railroad, they said last night. They were occasioned by the resignation of L. Allen as general manager of the line east, of the Burlington road at Chicago and the death of F. H. Ustick, general superintendent of the Iowa district, at Burlington, thus creating two vacancies.

Mr. Flynn, who will take Mr. Thieffoff's place, came to the lines west from LaCrosse, Wis., where he served in the capacity of superintendent, going to Lincoln as general superintendent on March 1, 1915. On July 1, 1916, he came to Omaha as assistant general manager and was promoted to general manager on Mr. Holdrege's retirement on January 1, 1921.
