

Every Penny of Omaha Bee Fund Will Buy Shoes

Many Persons Are So Busy They Forget to Aid Poor, Unfortunate Kiddies.

The Free Shoe fund of The Omaha Bee is used—every penny of it—to buy shoes for small children in utterly destitute families, usually in which the father is dead or sick or "gone away."

If you could only see these dear little unfortunates, their pinched faces, their cold little feet, how quickly you would hasten to send in a contribution.

Many persons are so busy they forget. The best way is to "do it now." "Help smooth the road for these poor little folk. Give what you can to help lighten their yoke."

Money you give through The Omaha Bee is money well spent for a real charity. Just enclose your check or a bill in an envelope and address it "Free Shoe Fund, The Omaha Bee." Receipt of it will be acknowledged in this column.

Shotwell to Free Kleagle on Bond

Edgar Fuller, Ku Klux Klan knight, to be released on $750 cash bail.

Edgar Fuller, Pacific coast knight of the Ku Klux Klan who has been busily occupied with divorce suits, habeas corpus proceedings and dirty calls in the city jail since he came to Omaha, will be released on a $750 cash bond, under a compromise agreement between County Attorney Shotwell and Fuller's attorneys.

Police Judge William F. Wappich also added his consent to the agreement.

Fuller will be bonded, however, on the fugitive warrant alleging he is wanted in California on perjury charges in connection with some in visible empire squabble.

A California officer is expected to arrive in Omaha any day now with extradition papers for Kleagle Fuller. Habeas corpus proceedings for Fuller on which a hearing was scheduled for this afternoon were dropped when the attorneys reached their compromise agreement.

Sears Objects to Compromise in Divorce Until Answer Day. Efforts to compromise the divorce suit of Jacob Ostrander, 52, wealthy farmer of Randolph, Neb., against his wife, 22, who left him two hours after their wedding, November 1, were thwarted by District Judge Sears yesterday when he declined to hear anything on the case until answer day, December 18. "I love the girl," Ostrander said. "I love the girl." Ostrander said. She will return if he buys her an automobile and a diamond ring, attorneys said.

Police Scored for Arresting Ritchie and Mrs. Jacobsen

"Outrage on Personal Rights," Declares Judge Leslie at Hearing; Woman Wanted as Witness.

Police Officers who arrested Mrs. Viola Jacobsen, wanted in Council Bluffs as a witness in a murder trial, and William Ritchie, her attorney and former state commander of the American Legion, were severely scored yesterday by District Judge Leslie at the hearing on an application for habeas corpus.

"It was an outrage to arrest this woman and her attorney," said the judge. "They had no right to do so. If they attempted to arrest me in my home, which I consider just as sacred as any home, there would be more serious trouble."

"It was a violent outrage on personal rights and an outrage on justice when the officers arrested Mrs. Jacobsen and myself," said Mr. Ritchie. "I was merely acting as her attorney when she called me. It is ridiculous when an attorney cannot advise his client."

District Judge Leslie continued the hearing until Friday to give Council Bluffs authorities ample time to obtain extradition papers, since Mrs. Jacobsen is now charged with being a fugitive from justice.

Mrs. Jacobsen was released on a $750 bond pending the hearing. She is alleged to have been an eyewitness to the murder of her second husband by her former husband last April in Council Bluffs. The authorities there allege that she was spirited out of the city.

Bank at Kimball Closes Its Doors

Depleted Reserves Due to Inability of Customers to Meet Obligations, Cause.

Kimball, Neb., Nov. 28.—(Special Telegram)—The Citizens State bank, one of the larger financial institutions of this part of the state, closed its doors last night by order of the directors. Depleted reserves, due to the inability of its customers to meet their obligations, was the immediate cause of the bank's failure.

Heavy farm loans were uncollected because farmers could not move the potato crop. These loans amount to approximately $433,000. The deposits total about $225,000, of which the state is a customer to the extent of $18,000. Senator B. K. Rusher is president and H. C. Amos, cashier. The bank has a capital and surplus $60,000.

State Bank Examiner C. G. Stroll, who is in charge of the bank, states that all records are in the best of shape and that the officers have done everything in their power to keep the bank solvent. A meeting of bankers has been called for Wednesday noon to recommend a receiver.

A Common Exclamation on Our Eighth Floor:

"What Low Prices for Such Fine Toys"

The Explanation is that while the new toy tariff is 70 per cent, the Brandeis toys were bought and brought to this country under the old toy tariff of 35 per cent, and on that they are sold to our customers.

It is a great sight for grown folks as well as young folks—this Toyland on the eighth floor of The Brandeis Store. You'll say so, too, when you see it. Someone called it a "whirling maze of color and clowns." It is all that. But it is more. It is the largest and most amazing collection of beautiful toys you have ever seen in Omaha. It is doubtful whether any person ever saw a much larger collection in any city of the country. Certainly no one ever saw a more beautiful one. Such practical playthings, too, and at prices that do much to lessen the burdens of the Christmas season.

After you have seen the display you won't blame The Brandeis Store for being just a bit proud over the big achievement on the eighth floor. All Nebraska has reason to be proud. You will hear exclamations of wonder and delight on every hand among visitors to Toyland.

The remarkable arrangement of the merchandise to suit the convenience of the toy shopper, the number of alert and courteous employees, all these things and many more are frequently remarked by men and women with whom you will touch elbows in the most beautiful and complete Toyland ever offered to people of Omaha.

General Motors GMC Trucks

GMC TRUCKS ARE "SEVEN STEPS AHEAD"

They Have Come Into Their Own

In the beginning, the General Motors Corporation set out to build a motor truck that should, above all else, be true to their ideals.

They went about their work slowly and with great care and from their labors came the GMC Truck.

Since the day the first truck left the factory the name GMC has advanced without falter, until today it stands seven full steps ahead of any other in the field.

It has come into its own because it has brought to motor trucking, a new expression of performance, of reliability, and economy.
