

Western Farmers Ship 1,800 Cars of Potatoes East

Market News Station Is Closed After 40 Per Cent of Crops Sold—Future of District Problematical.

Alliance, Neb., Dec. 7.—Special.—The market news station of the United States Department of Agriculture and the Nebraska department of agriculture, which has been located in Alliance since September 15, in charge of O. D. Miller, has been closed for the season. Market reports on potatoes during the heavy potato shipping season were issued daily. Mr. Miller's final report gives the following information to potato growers: Total shipments from western Nebraska to date total 1,800 cars, representing about 40 per cent of the crop. The quantity which will actually move will depend to a considerable extent on prices during the remainder of the season. Shipment figures for the last four seasons indicate that normally approximately 60 per cent of the crop of the western Nebraska district is shipped by the end of November. This year's heavy crop depressed prices and demand, and a shortage of railroad equipment retarded the movement during October and November from producing districts all over the country.

The commercial production in western Nebraska was estimated on October 1 as between 4,800 and 5,000 cars. This showed an increase of only 15 per cent over last year's 4,200 cars. The average showed an increase of over 45 per cent over 1921, but the unusually hot, dry season produced a poor yield in all parts of the district. This estimate was later further reduced because of freezing in the latter part of October, which eliminated nearly 5 per cent of the crop, including, besides the actual damage to potatoes in pits and those left in the ground, many fields which were not dug at all on account of poor yield and freezing injury. It now remains for market prices to decide whether western Nebraska shipments will exceed or fall short of the total reached last season.

As usual, about 50 per cent of the shipments of the table stock from western Nebraska has gone to cities and towns in the eastern part of the state, and the other important receivers have been Iowa, Missouri and Kansas. The growth of the potato industry in South Dakota has eliminated several markets in that state which formerly used Nebraska table stock, while the demand for Nebraska potatoes in Iowa has been reduced because of a surplus production there this year. The earlier shipments have gone principally to Texas and Louisiana, but later shipments will be made to Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Friend Fled With Wife, Children and Auto, Man Asserts

Police Seeking Fugitive Alleged to Have Left His Own Family to Flee With Another's.

Council Bluffs police began a search yesterday for a husband and father who is alleged to have run away with his friend's automobile, wife and four children.

The man being sought is Jess Hinley, 35, whose family has been living three months with the family of Ray Roach, in a house at 2139 Ninth avenue, Council Bluffs.

Hinley has a wife and two children, Jimmie, 4, and a baby girl, 7 months. Tuesday afternoon, Roach told Bluffs police yesterday, Hinley came to him at his work with the Droge Elevator company and asked if he could borrow Roach's Overland automobile. Roach consented.

When Hinley didn't show up with the car at 6 that evening, Roach went home, he said, and found this note: "Hen: As soon as you read this note, go to Mr. Hinley's."

Roach visited John H. Hinley, father of the man who borrowed the automobile and who lives near the Illinois Central Missouri river bridge, but the elder Hinley knew of nothing amiss.

said, and discovered his wife's trunk and clothing gone.

Neighbors told him, he declared, that they had seen Hinley and Mrs. Roach and the four children, Gladys, 12, Mildred, 9, Frank, 6, and Roy, 3½, drive off in the Overland at 5. Gladys had told a neighbor girl that they were going to Minnesota, he said.

Mrs. Hinley and her baby were in Missouri visiting relatives, and Jimmie was at his grandfather's house near the bridge.

Mrs. Hinley has been notified and was expected to reach the Bluffs last evening.

The Roach children were born to Mrs. Roach by her first husband who died several years ago, according to Roach, and up until two months ago were left with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, 1228 Fourteenth avenue.

Grandfather sobs.

Most zealous in the hunt for the missing family is Miller who sobbed as he told of his attachment for the children.

"I'm not worried so much about my daughter," he said, "for she is old enough to know what she is doing."

"But those poor little youngsters, they don't know what is happening and they are liable to be discarded somewhere along the way."

"That man Hinley didn't have any money when they left, I am sure, for he has not been working for some time."

Oakland Police Kill Bandit and Wound Boy

Oakland, Cal., Dec. 7.—An automobile bandit who robbed the San Ramon Valley bank in Danville, south of here, of $9,000 yesterday was killed by police about an hour later in the downtown district of Oakland. The money was recovered. A school boy, whom the bandit is believed to have picked up in his flight, also was wounded.

when the police shotgun squad opened fire on the bandit car.

The bandit compelled H. H. Daley, assistant cashier, and Chris Rasmussen, a clerk, to accompany him into a vault where he bled and bound them.

Officers caught sight of the fugitive near the town of Dublin and fired more than a score of shots. Eluding the hail of bullets, the bandit outdistanced the posse and headed toward Oakland, where a shotgun squad met him. When ordered to surrender, the bandit opened fire. The police men returned a volley that killed him.

Sallow, muddy, roughened or blotched complexions are usually due to constipation.
