

T. P. A. Head Says Laxity Is Breeding Contempt for Law

Deplores Alleged Tendency Toward Nonenforcement— Urges Traveling Men to Observe Statutes.

The younger generation is being taught that laws are being made to read rather than to obey by present-day nonenforcement of law, in the opinion of H. B. Ramey, commissioner of public utilities at Champaign, Ill., and president of the Travelers' Protective association, who spoke at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday noon.

Mr. Ramey called attention to a "dangerous element of men who are preaching a doctrine of 'hate' in this country. He said there is little if anything good about the government printed in labor papers of the country, and urged that steps be taken to counteract this propaganda in bringing home the truth.

For Law Enforcement.

"I want the T. P. A. to stand solidly for enforcement of all laws, including the Volstead act," said Mr. Ramey. "It doesn't matter what we think about the laws. . . I am opposed to any form of invisible government. . . . We should adopt the religion of our mothers."

Mr. Ramey recited achievements of the T. P. A. He asked the co-operation of manufacturers and jobbers, declaring the T. P. A. has been of great assistance to them. Aside from protective benefits it furnishes, the T. P. A. is striving for a greater morality, and hence greater efficiency among its men, Ramey said.

Sales Officials Present.

Large delegations of salesmen and sales officials of several Omaha concerns were present to hear Mr. Ramey, who was introduced by Robert Trimble. Mr. Trimble reviewed the history of the T. P. A. since its formation in Omaha in 1898 until the present, when it is fourth in membership in the United States.

Mr. Ramey, in the course of his speech, said the record of efficiency in the handling of public utilities by R. E. Howell, senator elect, was remarked throughout the country. Mr. Howell was present but did not speak. In closing Mr. Ramey declared the country is in better economic condition than it has been for four years, and that business is improving by leaps and bounds.

Legion Rifle Club Begins
Indoor Practice Tonight

The Russell G. Hughes Rifle club of the Douglas county post of the American Legion will begin gallery practice tonight in the National guard armory over the Central market in preparation for the selection of rifle teams to be entered in the indoor matches of the National Rifle association. The teams will compete for medals at the national shoot.

Omahan Who Saw the Passion Play Tells Impressions

Dr. George A. Miller, in Talk to Concord Club, Denies Natives Are Mercenary Sacrilegious.

The simple peasants of Oberammergau, who present "The Passion Play" every 10 years, are neither mercenary nor sacrilegious, according to Dr. George A. Miller, pastor of the First Christian church, who spoke to Concord club yesterday noon in Hotel Fontenelle.

Dr. Miller, who witnessed a performance of this famous play last May, asserted that his total expense for two nights' lodging, five meals and a desirable seat, was $2.

"This famous play, or rather demonstration—for such it is—stands unique in the world today," said Dr. Miller. "I have traveled far and seen much of the wide world, but I must say that the day I spent witnessing the Passion Play stands out as one of the most important days of my life.

Only Natives Participate.

"Only natives of Oberammergau are allowed to participate in the play and it is the life ambition of many of the natives to take one of the leading roles. The persons, who give the play, are not actors. They wear the costumes of the period represented, but there is no makeup of the face. The participants range from 3 to 90 years of age. When I attended, there were about 500 in the play. All were required to attend holy communion every morning.

The play started at 8 a. m., and at 12 there was an intermission which lasted until 2 p. m. when another four-hour series of scenes was started. There was not more than half a minute wait between the change of any scene. Anton Lang, who has portrayed the role of Christ since 1900, is a potter and appears like the Christ of middle life.

Vivid Portrayal.

"During the crucifixion scene I was unable with a pair of strong field-glasses to detect how Lang was suspended from the cross. The nails and the wounds were there and it was all so real. The auditorium in which they held the play, seated 4,000.

"I am able to state that these people refused $1,000,000 from an American motion picture concern for the privilege of filming the Passion Play. They do not make enough out of the receipts to pay the actual expenses. They are deeply religious.
