of the nation's domestic business for 1922 life insurance business. the past year, gives "a feeling of satvances," in the early new year.

Optimism, born of the accomplishments of the past months which Wymore Man Is Found Dead many officials of the government regard as a remarkable strengthening of the economic fabric, is evident throughout the statistics and details John Quinn, employed in the mainof the statement, which noted that the tenance department of the Burling production of the manufactured commodities averaged 50 per cent larger than in 1921. The farmer received approximately 17 per cent more for his products than in 1921, and the total volume of agricultural products was worth a much greater sum than that worth a much greater sum than that of a year ago.

ports had dropped 16 per cent, as compared with last year, but the comparison was on a basis of 11 months and, in addition, represented "a long climb" from a poor start, according to officials. Imports to September 22, when the new tariff law was effective, were slightly above last year and indications are, it was said unofficially, that the year's total may exceed last year's imports by a small margin.

The total volume of building, ordinarily a measure of the country's business health, was 52 per cent larger in the first 11 months of this year than in the same period last year, and the prediction was made that the full year's record will exceed that of ports had dropped 16 per cent, as com-full year's record will exceed that of The 1922 contracts for 11 months also represented a much greater expenditure of money than for the full year of 1921, it was said.

"There was a genuine swell in the volume of general trade, according to the summary, which mentioned a 6 per cent greater sale by mail order houses and a 13 per cent increase in business by chain stores as indicative o fthe business tide, declines appearing only in isolated lines."

Increases in production with the reduction of immigration was said to have taken care of the unemployment situation and labor shortages were reported in many localities, although this condition was not general. It was added, however, that ork appeared to be waiting for most laborers who sought it.

Freight Car Shortage.

The year's progress was reported Fu to have changed a huge surplus of shortage was general, it was said, despite a lower percentage of cars under repair than in many months. Fred Stromberg and Mrs. Frank Sasstrom, Mrs. Fred Stromberg and Mrs. Frank Scott. Also one brother, Edward Ritchie, all of Omaha.

Freight movements, however, were described generally as satisfactory.

There was a decline of 38 per cent in wheat exports, a condition linked with the foreign situation, but exports of wheat flour were almost the same as in 1921.

Big crops of corn and oats marked the year, each being larger than in the preceding season. The corn crop was 178,000,000 bushels greater and that of oats about 137,000,000 shels more than 1921. Exports of these commodities were larger by far than in the preceding year and in addition to prices were higher, the LEE LARMON 19th and Douglas. review stated.

Cotton consumption rose nearly 14 per cent in the first eleven months as compared with the corresponding period last year. This increase in cluded the record month of November, when more cotton was used than In any month since 1917. Prices were
