

Two Given Prison Terms on Charge of Operating Still

Complete Equipment for Making Hooch, Captured in Raid Set Up in Federal Courtroom.

A big still, said to have a capacity of 45 gallons a day, was set up yesterday morning in federal court where a jury heard the evidence against Mr. and Mrs. John Turinetti, Barney Bertino and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Azzolin, charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

The jury returned a verdict in the afternoon finding Turinetti and Azzolin guilty. Judge Woodrough sentenced each to prison for six months and, in addition, fined Azzolin $2,000. They were released late in the afternoon under $5,000 bond each, pending appeal. Bertino was acquitted.

Found in Operation.
The still was found in operation at 403 Bancroft street by a raiding force of federal prohibition agents December 13.

It is a triple still and the highest copper tank stood nearly 10 feet above the floor. A force pump, used to send the mash into the tanks, and about 40 feet of rubber hose, were attached to the still.

The two accused women were ordered discharged soon after the case was started, Judge Woodrough finding no evidence that they knew anything about the operations.

Was Just Visiting.
Bertino testified that he came to Omaha from Lead, S. D., December 5, and was merely visiting his sister, Mrs. Turinetti, when the raid was made.

Fred Mower, deputy register of deeds, showed that the house in which the still was found was bought by Frank Azzolin October 7, 1920.

His Nose Knows.
"Anything wrong with your nose?" asked Assistant United States Attorney Keyser.

"No, it's crooked, but it smells all right," smiled Azzolin.

The defendants were represented by two attorneys and had a stenographer to make a record of the case. The lawyers did not put John Turinetti on the stand.

Former Local Man Returns to Omaha

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Blackburn arrived in Omaha last week to make this their home. Mr. Blackburn is to be secretary and assistant secretary of the Prairie Life Insurance company after two and a half years with the actuarial department of the Travelers Insurance company.

Mrs. Blackburn is the daughter of George T. Hughes of Plainfield, N. J. Mr. Blackburn graduated from the Omaha high school in 1909. He is the youngest son of Thomas W. Blackburn and was born in Omaha.

Until their new home is completed the young couple will live at 3826 North Twenty-first street.

Retired Railroad Official Dies at Home in Omaha

William Henry Hancock, retired freight claim agent of the Union Pacific railroad, died Thursday night at his home, 4802 Capitol avenue. He was in usual health Christmas day and was taken with a chill and a bronchial attack Tuesday. His condition was not considered serious until Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Hancock was born in England June 6, 1850. His family came to America when he was 2 years old and settled in Michigan. Mr. Hancock entered the service of the Union Pacific October 13, 1884. He was made freight claim agent in the early 90s and retired on account of impaired health July 1, 1918. At the time of his death he was vice president of the Union Pacific Pensioners' association.

Funeral services will be held at the Burkett undertaking establishment, 3405 Farham street, at 2:30 Saturday, with burial at Forest Lawn. The active pallbearers will be men from the Union Pacific claim office. Honorary pallbearers will be as follows: Dr. A. B. Somers and Messrs. H. J. Stirling, A. R. McNitt, J. W. Maynard, M. J. Swartz and C. S. Stebbins.

"Fight? No, Just Spats,"
Wife Assures Detectives

Detectives yesterday investigated the home life of Mrs. J. V. Steadham, 602 South Twenty-seventh street after receiving a letter from her mother, Mrs. M. Van Lom, Racine, Wis.

The mother wrote she had received a letter from her daughter saying her eyes had been blacked by her husband who had promised her "a wooden box" for Christmas.

"Send a guard out there for her," the mother's letter begged, "and if she isn't already killed, please notify me of the conditions under which she lives."

"We are happily married," said Mrs. Steadham to the officers who called. "The only troubles we have are those little childish spats that are common occurrences in every home."

Asks Judge to File Charge of Inebriacy Against Him

Police Judge Wappich received a letter yesterday from Charles A. Baker, livery operator now in the county jail, asking him to file a complaint charging inebriacy against him so he can be sent to the state hospital at Lincoln. When Baker was sent to jail last week he told the judge he had got started on a spree and couldn't stop; that he needed help.
