THE OMAHA BEE: MONDAY, JANUARY 1, 1923.

THE MORNING BEE FOR A BUSY NEW YEAR.

Beginning with Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and coming on down the list, every agency that is assumed to be in touch with conditions predicts a busy time for 1923 in the United States. Retrospection shows that 1922 was not such a bad twelve months after all.

November's-record of exports of food products The Associated Press, of which The Bes is a member, is exclusively mittide to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it ar so otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published berein. All rights of republications of our special dispatches are also reserved. showed greater amount in both volume and value than for 1921. Similar revival of exports of manufactured goods is reported, indicating a healthy condition of foreign commerce. At the same time Private Branch Exchange. Ask for the Department AT lantic Person Wanted. For Night Calls After 10 P. M.: Editorial Department. AT lantic 1021 or 1042. 1000 affairs at home show a great change for the better. Unemployment is fast disappearing, workers are getting full time at high wages, and the home market reaps the benefit of the improved buying power Co. Bluffs - - - - 15 Scott St. So. Side. N W. Cor. 24th and N of the consumer. New York-286 Fifth Avenue Washington - 422 Star Bldg. Chicago - - 1720 Steger Bldg. Paris, France-420 Rue St. Honore

Specifically, the building trades have been the most active, the effort being to overcome the acute shortage in housing facilities created by the practical abandonment of that class of construction during the war period. The coming year will exceed the record of the year just over in this regard, according to Secretary Hoover's view. This in turn insures occupation for factory hands, and that makes sale for farm products, and so the movement goes around the beneficent circle. Operations in stocks and bonds during the last year rose almost to the peak attained by the boom following the war, when inflation was at its zenith. Prices are strong and high, indicating faith in the future. For Omaha the bank clearings for the year show a record of increase of over $78,000,000 the total being $1,902,158,685.91. No sign of falling off in this. President David Friday of the Mich igan Agricultural college says the farmer is entering on an era of prosperity that will equal the fourteen-year period that culminated in 1913.

A general chorus of encouragement is heard from all sides. Money is easy, interest rates are lower than in many years, enterprise is being extended, factories are busy, railroads are buying new equipment to take care of increasing business, and no sign of calamity is apparent. The year of 1923 promises to mark some new records in the United States.

LAUDER'S PLEA FOR PEACE.

ments. Breaking the law in order to compel others It was only yesterday, or the day before, that Harry Lauder was in Omaha, on his way from New proceeding. There are orderly ways in which to Zealand to England. War had been declared while secure stricter administration of law, and these he was in the Antipodes, and he was making his would eliminate the possibility of personal spite way back. One of his hopes was to reach home before his son, Capt. John Lauder, had gone to Last winter the Ku Klux Klan posted a warning France. In this he was disappointed, and when he in an Oklahoma town which illustrates what seems did go to France it was to search out the grave of the lad by whom he had set such store, and in whom he had such pride.

> Harry Lauder carried on throughout the war: his part was honorable and arduous, and a baronetcy was given him by his country as partial compensation for his services. Nothing, however, can restore to him the boy he loved, and, while his ardent patriotism has in no sense diminished, he is committed to the cause of peace, for he knows what war costs.

Therefore, it is not an idle statement on part of Sir Harry Lauder that he would rather build friendships than battleships. ' He abates in no degree his devotion to righteous justice, to the maintenance of government is a failure, there is no excuse for force law and order, but he does believe that men and nations alike can find as much cause for agreement as for quarreling, and that the search should be made for points of meeting rather than for excuse for paration. A little more singing to lighten the load a separation. Floggins have been administered to more than 100.

some of them women. Such a condition is a challittle more of handshaking and cheery greeting, a Nebraska Editors Discuss Question of an Economic Conference and Differ on Part to Be Played by President and Senate.

cedure

treatv

.

Blair Pilot.

matters and get things done

Norfolk Press.

of Germany is a weak thing. American financiers realize that the people of Europe are pretty thoroughly disgusted with their governmental lead-ers and may kick over the traces any willing to loan Germany and the other European countries money if they can make sure that they can protect that money and get their interest. Presilent Harding wants a free hand that he may give Wall street and those it

Bloomington Advocate.

Grand Island Independent. present tangle in world politics and commerce. Harding has thus far shown himself reliable in refraining A. F. Buchler: It would be a se ous mistake to place all responsibilfrom exercising autocratic measures, ity of dealing with the European situation in the hands of any one man, even the president. And power means responsibility. The senate, if not the and it is hoped for the sake of ex pedition that he will be given a free hand in dealing with the situation. entire congress, should handle it. Even the calling of another interna-Kearney Hub.

M A. Brown: Give the president a onal conference before France has free hand in dealing with the Eurocompletely ratified that of almost a pean economic situation. If there is year ago, is a very doubtful proneed for calling an international conference he alone is in position to de H. M. Crane: We are of the opinion hat the senate should have something to say in regard to European matters as well as the president. It Memory Tests begins to be conceded that it will be necessary for America to attend the 1. Who was known as "Long-shanks?" Edward I, king of England international economic conference in order to enable the foreign countries (1239-1307). to get on their feet and be able to What was the unicorn? pay their debts and begin to buy our 2. In mythology, a ferocious monster with the body of a horse, the head of a deer, the feet of an elephant, the tail products. Everybody is against any cancellation of the war debts.

of a boar, and a single black horn, two cubits large, in the middle of its forehead. Hunters found it impossible Don C. Van Deusen: If Harding should have a free hand in dealing with European affairs, why shouldn't to catch the beast until they found out it was a great lover of purity. They Wilson have had a free hand also? The senate, of which President Harecured a virgin to snare it. 3. Who published in Boston in 1789 ding-was then a member, seemed very much inclined to take things into a novel entitled "The Power of Sympathy"-probably the first American their hands when President Wilson novel to appear in print? Mrs. Sarah was negotiating the Versailles peace What is sauce for the goose Morton. The reason for such a late should be sauce for the gander. Perappearance of native fiction may be ascribed to the ascendancy of the clergy, who would not have tolerated onally, we believe the president should have a free hand in the nego-tiations with foreign nations. The The novel reading by members of their senate's business is to ratify or re-ject, not negotiate. They should flocks. 4. What is the highest denominamainly accept the president's negotiation United States postage stamp now tions as the best that could be ob- in use? The $5 stamp.

reports of conference committees "Kathleen Mavaurneen?" Louisa reports of conference committees whether they altogether like them or Macartney Crawford. not. It is the only way to expedite

Th Pilot editor was and still is in favor of the League of Nations and believes we made a big mistake in not going in t in the first place, one that can be corrected, for we have lost much of the prestige we then had. We didn't like to get into the war, but ve had to. We still have a duty to we had to. We still have a duty to perform in helping a war-torn world to settle down. We can at least try to help settle matters and, if we should fail, we will have done out duty and none can blame us for not trying. If this isn't the opportune duty and none can blame us for not trying. If this isn't the opportune ime to call an economic conference, Tira, a native woman, beautithen let us stand by until it is time and then call it. If a number of the stand in the stand is a strik-ing character. Her husband, a repressed, overworked farmer, is an-other type that lends a psychological what? Common Sense The Most Valuable Employe. "She is not only a good stenogra-pher and typist, but she has brains and good judgment and she them. This is the sort of recommendation It is the kind of recommendation that every girl employed in an office should strive to warrant. than a machine when you are paid for office work.

"The People's Voice" HIM MOTOR'S COLD ditorials from readers of The Morning Bee. Readers of The Morning Bee are invited to use this column freely for expression on matters of public inferent. JUST LET ER GET WAR THIS MORNING. Always a Penalty. Sterling, Neb .- To the Editor of The Omaha Bee: On reading The Omaha Bee Sunday my attention was called to the statement of Will Hays: You will not be unmindful of the words of Him who first taught us to forgive." This refers to the "Ar-buckle case," and if I did not see whither such argument is drifting I YEP HERE HE COMES. would not enter protest. The country is full of crime, and HASNT RECOGNIZED ME the cause is because the doctrine of forgiveness is preached and practiced without regard to resurts. So long as you teach people that it does not mat-ter what crime you commit "you can ask God to forgive you and He will do it"-just so long-will we have mints robbed and holdups an every-day occurrence. Preach to the world that all must answer for their wrong-

VILLIANS -

shown.

Faithful to Fatty.

Pop and the Cop

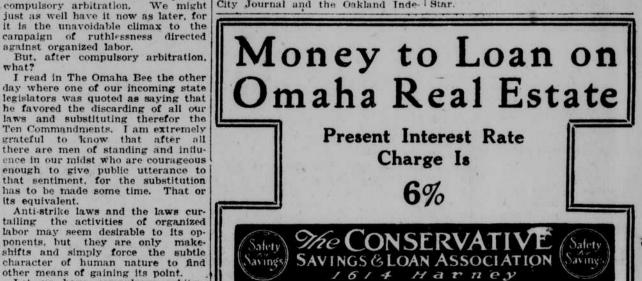

lar class to the detriment of another. Let's hasten on-get it all out of our systems-and then perhaps enter into that desirable state where we will do unto others as we would be done by. HODERLY should be the end of it. I certainly would enjoy seeing all the people HOPEFUL. making these statements against Howells, Neb.-To the Editor of put up against the same charges that The Omaha Bee: The discussions of he was.

country editors regarding Fatty Ar Arbuckle is no worse than thoubuckle are disgusting in the extreme. sands of others that are defaming Especially so is one statement by one him, and I hope the day may come editor that if the public refuse to see when I can take his hand and tell editor that if the public refuse to see when I can take his hand and tell Fatty. Hollywood will clean up more him I believe in him, also that I may quickly than the employment of ten meet some of these knockers face to Hays. I am personally acquainted with this editor and have never seen face and tell them to go jump in the lake. T. P. WARD. any great reform that he has pulled

Those Dull Details.

although he has always been There seems to be at least three details common to all the payroll and classed as a trouble maker. I am one of the public that refuse to be bamboozled into staying away from a theater where Arbuckle is being bank robberies: "First, the attack "was well planned;" second, the bandits "used a stolen motor car;" third, I admire the statement by the Falls "the bandits escaped."-Kansas City City Journal and the Oakland Inde-

A Book of Today Intense experiences and emotions fill Alice Brown's new novel of New are best presented through organized England life, "Old Crow." It is the labor. His suggested method for prestory of an eccentric old uncle and his venting strikes, however, will not andeavoring to pull them this way and However, that does not necessarily

Marie Weeks: The newspaper renternational economic conference seem evasive and unsatisfying. Beween the lines citizens read the handwriting of diplomacy, which is the antithesis of "open covenants openly arrived at." The government

Marie Weeks: The newspaper re-ports in the matter of the proposed international economic conference published by Macmillan.

there are men of standing and influence in our midst who are courageous USCE enough to give public utterance to that sentiment, for the substitution

a man who has an expert office girl gives he

There should be a desire to be more ponents, but they are only make has to be made some time. That or its equivalent. Antistrike laws and the laws cur-tailing the activities of organized labor may seem desirable to its op-shifts and simply force the subtle character of human nature to find other means of gaining its point.

against organized labor. But, after compulsory arbitration, I read in The Omaha Bee the other day where one of our incoming state legislators was quoted as saving that he favored the discarding of all our laws and substituting therefor the Ten Commandments. I am extremely grateful to know that after doing-that they cannot escape it-

A Note of Appreciation.

'The Omaha Bee, read and pondered

in life. They are entited "Easy Money and Afterwards" and "Oppor-tunity for the Country Boy." A life of 83 years, and 60 years in the ministry, mostly in cities but somewhat in the country, enable me to appre-ciate those editorials. I have been acquainted with The Bee for 20 years, but it was never as good as

now. J. M. CALDWELL, Pastor of the Valentine Presbyterian

Settling Labor Disputes.

Omaha.-To the Editor of The Omaha Bee: I note the article in the ssue of December 29 signed "Member of Labor Union," and, reading between the lines, one comes to the conclusion that the writer has had his trials and tribulations in his years of service on the firing line battling for the principles that he is convinced mean that the time is not ripe for

PARSON BOB.

Jesus Christ.

Church

to law and order. If it existed anywhere els in the world, American public sentiment would be outraged. It is a situation that demands deep thought, not shallow acquiescence.

MORNING-EVENING-SUNDAY

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BEE TELEPHONES

OFFICES

Main Office-17th and Farnam

A CHALLENGE TO GOVERNMENT.

of more than local importance. The thing that happened there is capable of repetition in many other communities throughout the nation. It is nothing less than a symptom of an epidemic that threatens to spread far and wide unless promptly

s masked gang were kidnaped, slain and their bodies hidden in a lake. They had committed no crime, and they were granted no trial, but were doomed to torture and death because they had dared to de-judgment above the law, this is what may be expected. Shrouded in secrecy, they cast off the re-law encourages such movements in two ways. In the first place, such hooded mobs have little or no fear of being arrested and punished for their violence. In the second place, the loose administration of law in other cases leads to the feeling that some strong hand is necessary to suppress crime and support public order. There is a contradiction here that condemns the basic principle of such move-

to respect it is a particularly dangerous and unwise

being confused with the spirit of righteousness.

'We are here in Coal county 500 strong. We stand for our churches. Officers of the law, do your duty and we are with you. Fail, and we are against you. We oppose socialism and bolshevism.

We are 100 per cent Americans. We are for white supremacy. We are for public free schools. Agitators, better clear out. We know who you are. Gamblers and bootleggers, hit the hike. We will be back soon. Blood won American freedom.

out analyzing a document of this sort, will feel that it is warranted by the circumstances. It may have been that conditions were very bad, but unless our and violence to clean up. Ours is after all a violent race, much given to short cuts and direct action.

In the last two years 85 persons have been lynched

by mobs and more than 50 tarred and feathered.

Doubtless there are many Americans who, with-

Blood will preserve it if necessary," to be a general policy.

straints of civilization and revert to barbarism.

When men organize to see their prejudice and

The laxity of public officials in enforcing the nounce the methods of the Ku Klux Klan.

Two young men who had incurred the enmity of checked.

That amazing story of brutality in Louisiana is

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY NELSON B. UPDIKE, Publisher. B. BREWER, Gen. Mana

The energy with which, now six months after the Louisiana outrage, the case is being investigated gives rise to the hope that some public officers have come better to realize the necessity for a strong hand. No lawless individual or class should enjoy protection or immunity from punishment. Crime must be put down, whether committed by unorganized individuals or by a gang in white robes. The government must show its power, making itself feared by all_wrongdoers and trusted by all decent men and women.

"SAGE OF SILVER CREEK."

When the list of men who were active in public affairs of Nebraska is finally made up, the name of Charles Wooster of Silver Creek should get a high place. One of the pioneers of the state, he came to Nebraska from service in the Union army, and settled down to make a farm. He did this in a way that won for him a competence, but to the end of his days he remained a farmer. Yet he found time for other matters, and showed great interest in all that was going on about him. His views were his own, and were not always popular, but he held them independently, and battled lustily for his notion of the right. Compromise was not in his nature, and nobody was left in doubt as to where the "Sage of Silver Creek" stood, once he had made up his mind.

He first came to general notice in connection with the populist movement in 1890, and in the legislature of 1897 he attracted much attention by his opposition to the Transmississippi and International Exposition, about to be held at Omaha. So rigid was he on the point that he did not visit the exposition at any time. To illustrate another phase of his character, it may be permitted to tell of his contribution to the support of French war orphans. He subscribed $10 per month, or the number of francs equivalent to, that sum, to the fund that was administered, his donation being sufficient to support two orphans. When the franc began to decline in value, Mr. Wooster engaged in a rather extended controversy with the French authorities because they did not increase the amount in francs allowed each orphan, or at least the particular orphans he was contributing to sustain. He was giving $10 a month, and he wanted the young folks to have it all, no matter how many francs it represented.

His last active effort was to attend a meeting at Hastings, the object of which was to form an organization to work for lower taxes. He was the true stormy petrel in this respect, his connection with the Farmers' Union and similar bodies giving him ample opportunity to expound his views and air his opinions. His contributions to the press of the state were always interesting, although not always couched in terms that woud endear him to the person he had under consideration.

"Charlie" Wooster was a strong man, a patriot and a good citizen, and even those who did not think as he did felt for him the respect due a courageous adversary who did his fighting in the open.

Head of Omaha's booze sleuths has the American record for capturing stills, but he hasn't exhausted the supply as yet.

little less of self and a little more of service-these are ingredients for a prescription which, if acy. That has been, will be and is the cause of most wars. Chamber of taken right, will make come true another thought of Commerce representation does not Sir Harry's, that each day be a happy day, instead Sir Harry's, that each day be a happy day, instead of the once-a-year greeting of "Happy New Year." The people elected the senate to rep-For the birth of each new day is itself a miracle, as resent them. much a wonder as the birth of a new year, and deserving of as much effort on the part of each to make it a happy one for all. May the gospel according to Lauder spread!

A permit has been issued for a $40,000,000 power dam on the Colorado river in Arizona, if you want to know where the opposition to the sevenstate treaty for dividing the waters comes from.

Discussion of conditions at the County hospital reminds us that it is not too late to take steps to establish the city and county hospital, so long mooted and so badly needed.

A special train to carry democrats to Lincoln on inauguration day is something of a rarity in Nepraska. It has happened but few times in history.

Organized agriculture is now considering its problems, but what the wheat belt most needs is about four inches of closely packed snow.

"Charlie" Wooster could tell a sham farther off than most men, and he loved to smash one.

Happy New Year to you all!

The Craze for Oriental Curios From Arts and Decoration.

Your true Asiatic treasures his works of art whether he be a mandarin or a simple trafficker. He has a tender and admiring affection for them, and cherishes in them his ideals of beauty. He is endowed by nature with the artistic sense. He has a keen eye for color, good taste, and a wonderfully clever hand for shaping things.

A person who haunts the curiosity shops of Pekin, Canton, Tokio and Yokohama catches deep glimpses now and then into the secret depths of the oriental soul. He finds people buying, haggling, bartering. Na' tives and foreigners alike are feverishly interested in collecting curios. Half of Asia lives from them. Every year the volume of this trade increases, The marvelou-Ali Baba treasures of China and Japan captivate the imagination of the European. Only in these lands can he revel in such a wealth of shimmering silks, wrough gold and silver, and precious stones. In western coun tries such treasures are hidden behind lock and key In Asia they are exposed by the wayside and in oper booths. A Chinese Croesus will let a pearl fall from his jewel-embroidered mantle and leave it lying in the dust The curio fever has seized everyone-buyers, sellers barterers, tricksters and tricked. Here is a youn; Chinese foreign office official, who hangs his gold-em broidered mantle on a peg and becomes a curio dealer; there is a German calico salesman, who by chance dis covers an old treasure of little boxes and caskets and Tanagra-like idol statuettes, from the time of the Handynasty. They show traces of Greek and Roman in fluence. He is now scouring China for treasures which the market of London and Paris eagerly absorbs.

Even high Chinese notables are so possessed by this wild collecting-mania, that they plunder ancient ances tral tombs in search of antique bronzes, prehistoric pot tery and sepulchral images. The common people are bribed to be quiet. Reverence for the dead runs in the blood of the Chinese peasant; he will have nothing to do with this violation of ancient tombs. The people who come at night to carry off old inscriptions and famous reliefs of the Wei and Han dynasties, from cliff and burial mounds, are professional grave-robbers. Indeed, European collectors condemn such vandalism-unless they profit directly by it!

has gotten ready to remove the lid on a cauldron of financial diplomlook to us as the American way. Let McCook Gazette.

H. D. Strunk: It would seem that the best results might be obtained by giving President Harding a free hand in dealing with the European situa-tion. The fact that the people might then place the responsibility definitely for the results would have a tendency to cause deeper concern on the part of those at the helm of affairs, and result in a more just settlement of such questions. Public sentiment is not capable of judging as to whether or not America should call a new inor not America should call a new in-ternational economic conference. There is no good reason why it should be. President Harding and the senate should be in a position to run the business of the United States and the public should hear confidence in the public should have confidence in their integrity and ability. Public sentiment, however, is certain of one thing, and that is that some acion should have been taken long ago by this august body to prevent the onomic conditions which face this country today.

Falls City Journal.

Aaron Davidson: A new interna-tional conference having the sage counsel of experts on economics cer tainly could do no harm and may ac-

Open to me the gates of righteous-ness: I will go in to them, and I will praise the Lord -- Psaim 118:19. Our Heavenly Father, we pause at the opening of this day to place ourthe opening of this day to place our-selves in harmony with Thy great "New years for old! New years for old! So Time is crying out his wares. plans. and sinful to oppose or attempt to hinder Thy purposes. Hear our humble appeal for Divine wisdom, for spiritual sensitiveness to Thy messages, for broader views of our duty, and for peace of God which fills the when working in full harmony soul with Thee. Let each of these blessings be given to all whom we love. incline them to stop and pray-to watch and act, under the impulses which come from Heaven. Make know Thy love and law to all people in all lands, and hasten the era when all mankind shall accept the teaching of Thy Son, and of the Holy Prophets, and thus in sincere agree ment live in peace with all, and in full obedience and devotion to Thy Holy Will. We ask these great blessings in the Name of our Lord Jesus, Thy Son, and our Redeemer. Amen. RUSSELL H. CONWELL, D.D., Philadelphia, Pa.

uld be interest in your work and interest means thought, and respect

These facts apply not only to office girls, but to all kinds of employes. Those who do not and who will not think must expect that part of the sal-ary or wage which might be paid to them is bound to be paid to son some other person who does do thinkng for them. . Every department in business needs thinkers, and to the thinkers go the big salaries and this is as it should be. The employe who needs the least guidance is considered the most val-

How about it, is it necessary for someone to do all the thinking for you? (Copyright, 1922.)

UFICS I Jauolas Mailo NEW YEARS FOR OLD.

"New years for old! New years for So Time is crying out his wares." He'll take your cross and give you And give you hopes for your der What love is lost? What love is "New years for old! New years for

New years for old! Whatever dream Died yesterday, today is here, Ahead of you new visions gleam, Whatever visions disappear. New years for old — new lights ahead For every candle that is dead.

New years for old! Bring hither, then, Your disappointments and your griefs Your hurts, your hates of other men, Your shattered faiths, your disbeliefs-Yea, bring them all, and Time will give New faiths for old, new lives to live.

We know that it is unwise inful to oppose or attempt to Thy purposes. Hear our hum-ppeal for Divine wisdom, for (Copyright, 1923.)

and get busy. Helps to n.aintain health Try it

'Your Money Back If YOU Are Not Satisfied'

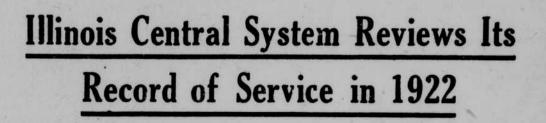

¥ 1346

at our risk

PRAT: FOOD COMPANY Phila., Chicago, Forente Bay Prattis in .2 or 25. ib. palla: 60 1 0 10. Dags

PRATTS BOU YEAR

other means of gaining its p Let, us have compulsory other human arbitra thought means better service, and tion, or any other human law that service means better salary and more may seem beneficial to some particu-

As we enter upon the new year, it is fitting that we review, briefly, the events of the past year and pledge our most earnest efforts to the task of meeting the problems ahead.

The past year began with a business depression and ended in a period of business activity that carried the tide of traffic on the Illinois Central System higher than ever before. The freight traffic handled in 1922 (December estimated) was 16,676,800,000 ton miles, an increase over 1921 of more than 21 per cent. The great increase in business came in the last six months of the year. In the first six months of the year, up to July 1, the Illinois Central System handled an average of 1,169,065,500 ton miles of freight per month. In July it handled 1,311,564,000 ton miles; in August 1,649.538,000 ton miles; in September 1,690,-066,000 ton miles; in October 1,759,576,000 ton miles, and in November 1,703,-662,000 ton miles. The October business was the greatest in any month in the history of the system.

The handling of this mounting tide of business was made possible by the loyal team-work of the employes of the Illinois Central System and the splendid co-operation received from our patrons.

Despite the difficult conditions of the year-the unsettled state of business and the unrest generally existent-the Illinois Central System, looking to the future needs of its patrons, contracted for new equipment costing approximately $18,000,000. For other improvements, including reduction of grades and construction of new main line and yard tracks, it incurred an additional expense of $7,500,000, making a total outlay of $25,500,000 for new facilities and enlargements.

During the year the patrons of the Illinois Central System have had neither all the transportation service they deserve nor all the service we wanted them to have. The shortage of railway facilities has been of national scope. The losses of the year suffered by shippers as a result of the inadequacy of transportation will not be altogether in vain if they serve to teach the American public the absolute necessity of having an efficient, well-equipped transportation machine, and if they demonstrate that the public cannot have such a machine unless the railroads are regulated constructively.

Some of the prominent antagonists of the railroads are expected to make efforts during this year that will, if successful, place further restrictions upon the railroads, making it still more difficult for them to take the steps necessary to forestall further transportation shortages. Farmers, business men, wage earners and all other classes of our population should be active in opposing these efforts, because their interests in the stake of adequate railway transportation are just as great as, and in some instances greater than, those of railway men themselves.

The New Year season is an occasion for pledging ourselves to the tasks before us. We of the Illinois Central System face the new year hopefully. We will leave no stone unturned in our efforts to merit a continuance of the support and cooperation which our patrons have so generously accorded us in 1922.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM. President, Illinois Central System.

complish some good in unsnarling the Daily Prayer