

Committee Orders Favorable Report on Milk Measure

Bill Would Prohibit Movement in Interstate Commerce of Lactical Fluid Mixed With Oils.

By GEORGE F. AUTHIER, Washington Correspondent The Omaha Bee.

Washington, Jan. 4.—(Special.)—Favorable report on the long-antecedent milk bill has been ordered by the senate committee on agriculture and forestry.

The purpose of the bill is to protect the public health by forbidding the movement in interstate and foreign commerce of compounds of skim milk and vegetable oil made in the semblance of milk.

It passed the lower house in May, 1922, by a vote of 230 to 40. It has been pending in the senate committee on agriculture since that time.

The committee adopted that report and two amendments proposed by Senator E. F. Ladd of North Dakota, a member of the subcommittee.

One of these amendments clarifies the bill without changing its purpose by saying that "skim milk, as herein defined is an adulterated article of food, injurious to the public health, and its sale constitutes a fraud upon the public."

The other amendment provides for an exception to the bill in the case of proprietary food compounds designed exclusively for infant feeding and customarily used on the order of a physician.

The report that says "your committee does not doubt that the sale of filled milk as at present carried on is a violation if not of the letter, of the spirit, of the pure food and drugs act."

It points out that investigations conducted in many large cities revealed that dealers were selling the compound as being as good and better than regular evaporated milk.

Referring to bulk shipments, the committee points out that some hotels and restaurants and ice cream makers are using filled milk instead of genuine milk and for that reason "the customer has no means of knowing what he is getting and a label could not protect against fraud in such a case."

Moonshiner Who Shot Pal Nabbed by Posse

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 4.—Brought to bay by a sheriff's posse, William Herb, who shot and seriously wounded Ed Bennett of Sioux City yesterday in a moonshiner's feud, surrendered in a lonely cabin across the Sioux river from Sioux City.

In this cabin, it is alleged the men had been operating stills. Sheriff E. F. Sherman of Union county, South Dakota, advanced the theory that the dispute which led to the shooting had its inception in the division of money received by the men for liquor during the holidays.

Two large stills, a quantity of moonshine and more than 250 gallons of mash were found in the cabin. Herb is in the county jail at Elk Point, S. D.

Criminal cases that have been on the docket since the packing house strike of a year ago have been dismissed on motion of the county attorney.

Feature Transactions of Livestock Exchange

John A. Christensen of Lindsay brought his first load of hogs to the local stockyards yesterday, marketing a shipment of high-class Hampshire porkers, that averaged 263 pounds.

Mr. Christensen has been helping his father raise livestock for several years, but yesterday was the first time he brought in a load of his own raising. He received the top price of the day, $8.25 a hundred.

"Now that I have broken into the game on my own account and have received a good margin of profit, I hope to make two or three shipments of livestock every year to the local market," said Mr. Christensen.

Joe Kaup came from Stuart to the local market with a load of choice Duro-Poland China hogs, averaging 253 pounds, for which he received $8.25 a hundred, the top price of the day.

Mr. Kaup also brought in two loads of cows which he had had on feed for the past 90 days, for which he received an even $6 a hundred. Mr. Kaup said he put the hogs, brought in yesterday, on feed last May and that they made an excellent gain in weight, and he was pleased with the price he received.

William Thiele of Clearwater was on the local market with a consignment of cattle and hogs. The hogs averaged 227 pounds and were sold for $8.15 a hundred, and he received $9.25 a hundred for eight head of steers, averaging 1,135 pounds.

"It has been an excellent season for livestock feeders," said Mr. Thiele, "and there is more grain than stock in my section. Big feeders are buying corn at 60c a bushel."

Kerosene on Beard and Lighted Cigaret Make Work for Fire Fighters

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Men who fall asleep in barber chairs and awake to find themselves all shampooed and massaged and in debt $6 or $7 were revenged when Anton Klivek took a nap at the Dole Barber college.

Mr. Klivek is a sophomore student at the college. A month or so ago he began to grow a Van Dyke beard. Today he made the experiment of promoting the growth by applying kerosene, but neglected to wash it off carefully.

Then he made the mistake of falling asleep in the chair with a lighted cigarette in his mouth. The resulting explosion brought firemen just in time to save the barber college. Mr. Klivek's shirt was smoldering, his lungs were filled with smoke, his cherished beard was gone and he was unable to attend any relations until he had been revived with a pulmotor.

"I didn't order a singe," he protested as soon as he regained consciousness. The resulting explosion brought firemen just in time to save the barber college.

Expert Gives Advice on Winter Care of Battery

"When winter comes—there are several good things that motorists should do to help out their batteries," said D. T. Swain, local representative of the Electric Storage Battery company, manufacturers of the Exide battery.

"Be sure the battery is in good condition, that the specific gravity of the electrolyte is at 1.250. If the gravity is low the battery will freeze. If the battery doesn't start the engine, get out and see that you are getting gas and spark. Put lighter oil in the car, thus making the engine easier to start.

"It is a good idea to pour hot water on the manifold and over the carburetor when you start the car for the first time on a cold day to loosen up the stiffness a little."

Trade Bodies Hit Hard by Federal Court Decision

Judge Knox Signs Final Decree in Government's Case Against Gypsum Industries Association.

New York, Jan. 4.—Federal Judge Knox signed a final decree in the government's case against the Gypsum Industries association, setting forth a code of principles by which trade associations will be governed under the Sherman anti-trust law and stipulating what they are prohibited from doing.

Both the government and the attorneys for the Gypsum Industries associations consented, and the order was filed as a formal decree of the federal district court.

Explaining the terms of the decree, United States Attorney Hayward said: "The method devised is unique in the respect that it practically destroys the trade association and its regular weekly or monthly meetings at which opportunities were afforded, as the government contended, for open or illicit price fixing by the group, for arrangements for the curtailment and limitation of production and for defining and devising the many other abuses that have resulted from such trade association meetings.

"In the place of the trade association, the decree substitutes a non-profit making corporation for the joint welfare of the members, with powers limited expressly by the decree and by its charter of articles of incorporation to certain well-defined and concededly lawful activities."

High Court Hears Ship Liquor Case

Attorney for Foreign Ships Argues Daugherty Ruling Would Legalize Seizure.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The 10 cases brought by foreign steamship companies, and the two brought by American operators to contest the construction placed by Attorney General Daugherty upon the prohibition amendment and enforcement act were up for oral argument in the supreme court today.

Under the ruling foreign ships will be prohibited from entering American waters with intoxicating liquors in their sea stores and American ships will be prohibited from having such liquor aboard at any place. The case came before the court on appeal from a decision by Federal Judge Hand in New York, upholding the attorney general.

The argument will continue tomorrow with a notable array of counsel, including former Attorney General Wickham for the foreign steamship companies, Reid L. Carr, George A. Ellis and Frederick H. Stokes for the United American Lines and John M.

Woolsey, Clitus Keating, J. Parker Kerlin and Ira A. Campbell for the International Mercantile Marine company. The government is represented by Solicitor General Beck, Assistant Attorney General Mabel W. Willebrandt and Special Assistant Wheat.

Expressing the belief "that the use of liquor did more than any other one thing to debauch and degrade our manhood and womanhood," the government attorneys insist that it was the purpose of the prohibition amendment to make the United States absolutely dry. They also argue that this has been recognized by the supreme court in recent decisions under which foreign vessels were prohibited from transshipping intoxicating liquor in American ports, and foreign liquor shipments in bond were forbidden across United States territory.

Counsel on both sides admit that congress can prohibit foreign steamships from bringing intoxicating liquor into American ports, but Mr. Wicksham asserts that, had congress intended to bar liquor from the sea stores of foreign vessels, it would have been explicit to that effect as it was in excluding smoking opium.

The construction urged by the government, if enforced, he contends, would result in the search of all foreign ships upon reaching American ports and the confiscation of those vessels upon which intoxicating liquor was found. It would also, he argued, oblige the government to stop the supply of wines and liquors to the foreign embassies in this country and foreign ships forced into American ports would be forfeited if liquor was found aboard.

Tables Ordered Out of 47 "Black List" Places

Forty-seven places of the 117 named by Elmer Thomas of the committee of 6,000 as poolrooms, cigar stores and soft drink saloons stretching the gambling laws by permitting card games, dice games, pool games for money and punch boards, have been ordered to get rid of tables that might be used for these purposes.

This order was issued following an investigation by Detectives Danbaum, Davis, Gurnett and Killian, who made individual reports on each place.

The proprietors were warned that if they did not obey the order the patrol would be backed up to their places and the tables and proprietors loaded in and taken to jail. Eighty tables were said to have been found in these 47 places. The officers reported, however, they found no gambling on their visits.

Car Theft Suspect Taken to Lincoln for Hearing

"Red" Walters, arrested in Ashland recently, held here by federal authorities, released under $10,000 bond and rearrested because of alleged defects in the bond, was taken to Lincoln yesterday afternoon to be confined in the Lancaster county jail pending a hearing today or tomorrow before Federal Judge Munger.

He is resisting efforts of the government to take him back to Kansas City, Kan., to answer indictments charging him with transportation of stolen automobiles. He denies that he is Walters, but government agents say his fingerprints prove him to be the man.
