

MARKET, FINANCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL NEWS OF THE DAY

Omaha Grain

Omaha, January 5, 1923. Receipts at Omaha totaled 204 cars as compared with 176 cars last year. Total shipments were 291 cars against 35 cars a year ago.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Grain prices were lowest early in week with wheat at a new low on the present downturn but on the break there was an excellent class of buying which absorbed the surplus in the pits and general short covering later brought about a sharp upturn.

Financial

New York, Jan. 5.—The attitude of today's markets in view of the previous day's news from Paris, was interesting. In none of them, except the market for German exchange, was there repetition of the weakness with which the adjournment of the conference was greeted on Thursday afternoon.

Omaha Produce

Further selling of wheat for foreign account was in evidence early today, which had some effect on values but was around the inside figures there was buying by strong commission houses and also some short covering.

Germany was in the market for hard winter and the market was credited to the local professionals who were good sellers of late. The decline was quickly checked. Offerings were rather light on the way up, with a majority of the pit shorts coming in on their lines and some took the bull side.

Advances of a point or more were numerous in the stock market, although most of the gains were only fractional, and bonds continued firm. Even in the case of the French government bonds, such decline as there was slight and, outside of those held by the United States, the European government securities were generally higher.

A great deal of attention will naturally be held to the weekly reports of the mercantile agencies. The climax of "holiday" trade is definitely past and in the somewhat startling exhibition of the closing weeks of the year.

While the declines in the French and Belgian bonds were directly due to the news from abroad of the breaking of the conference at Paris it was pointed out that the general market was comparatively small and that the day's trading was an indication that investors are not holding their breath for the new year.
