American Firm Plans to Spend $13,000,000 on Extensive Wireless Equipment at Chinese Trade Centers.

Shanghai, Jan. 11.—The construction of high-powered radio stations in China at a cost of $13,000,000, which will insure for the first time complete American control of wireless communication in the great radio centers of China, will be begun immediately.

The largest, most efficient and most completely equipped wireless station in the world will be erected in Shanghai under the personal direction of R. P. Schwerin, president of the Federal Telegraph company of Delaware and of California, who, with expert United States engineers, has arrived in Shanghai.

The Shanghai station, according to Schwerin, will occupy one square mile of land. There will be six supported masts, each 1,000 feet in height.

The power house will be equipped to generate 2,500 kilowatts, making possible a radio frequency of 20,000 cycles per second from a voltage of 120,000. There will be two 1,000 kilowatt federal transmitters. Wave sound lengths will travel from the new plant at the rate of 149,000 feet per second.

The new plants will be operated by the Federal company until the Chinese government can pay for the stations and take them over.

Business men and residents of the far east are rejoicing over the new radio plant, as it means that in a comparatively short time China will be connected with the other countries of the world by wireless.

His Committee Opposes Hays

Prominent Members of Hays' Organization Would Bar Arbuckle.

Will Hays' own committee on public relations came out last week in a stand against the return of Arbuckle to the screen, according to a recent story carried by New York papers.

The committee on public relations, headed by Lee F. Hamer of the Russell Sage foundation in New York, was organized last June as a pet project of Will Hays, and represents national civic, religious and educational bodies.

This was the group which came out in flat defiance of Hays' views, first, on the grounds that Arbuckle's return would be detrimental to the youth of America, and second, because it would diminish the confidence of the public in the motion picture producers who have gone on record as wishing to maintain the highest possible moral and artistic standards in the movies.

The committee further recommended that Hays advise the industry at large to refrain from exhibiting Arbuckle's pictures.

Thomas Meltsch and twenty other players and technical men sailed on the Santa Luisa on December 28 for Panama where exterior scenes will be filmed for "The Ne're-Do-Well," a new picture to be made from Rex Beach's novel. Scenes will be taken in Panama City, Colon, and at various points along the Canal.

None but horseback riders were able to accompany James Cruze to southern Utah for the filming of Emerson Hough's story, "The Covered Wagon." The location was 85 miles from the nearest town and great distances had to be covered daily in making scenes for the picture. Riding in flippers over the roadless plains was out of the question as a daily exercise.

Slayer of Own Father Escapes

Ex-U. S. Army Captain Breaks Jail at Wichita Falls, Tex.

Wichita Falls, Tex., Jan. 11.—Another chapter was added to the varied career of Henry Toussaint, former officer in the United States army, self-made man and convicted slayer, as authorities searched for him early today following his escape yesterday from the county jail.

Toussaint was sentenced to death after he was convicted of charges he killed his father, who was 69 years old.

At 9:20 o'clock last night he was in his cell. At 10:15 he was gone but the four doors between him and freedom were still locked.

The refugee was born in the slums of Washington, D. C., worked his way through high school, took a post graduate course in engineering at Harvard, and became an officer in the army. He visited his wife last night and then his defense attorney, before he fled or sought a cache here.

His wife said she told him to give himself up to the sheriff but he laughed the remark off. Luther Hoffman, defense attorney in his 1921 trial was next sought. The attorney was out but servants called police when excited at a lurking figure in the neighborhood, they said Hoffman returned before the police arrived, and the attorney said he saw Toussaint.

Death of Mother Ends Long Fight for Baby

After fighting for almost two years to keep her 3-year-old baby Mrs. Ann Hollenbeck Pullis, 23, died yesterday at Kearney, Neb.

The child, Elaine, had been awarded to the mother, who formerly lived with her parents at 2209 Clark street. James Pullis, the father, also sought possession of the baby following divorce action instituted by his wife.

But Pullis, a veteran of the world war, was unable to do manual labor and so could not pay alimony. He finally promised his wife $3,000, if she would relinquish the baby.

The wife, to secure money to cure an alleged lingering illness, agreed, but, according to her attorney, Pullis failed to live up to his agreement.

In her divorce petition, the wife charged cruelty.

Winter Cruises to South Start

Pastores Sails from New York for West Indies and Central America.

New York, January 11.—The winter migration to the land of palms, Panama and personal liberty is on. A shipload of lucky ones has waved its collective goodbye to the Statue of Liberty and smiled its collective, superior smile on Sandy Hook.

Among the passengers was E. R. Grabow, general manager of the United Fruit company, who is pioneering a party of friends on the cruise.

Captain Glenn, up on the bridge, wore a broad smile. With good reason, for the Pastores, besides being the first cruise ship of the season, was the first American transport to land American troops in France; it carried President Harding home from Panama and the West Indies.
