Bryan Launches Attack on High

Pre-Election Letter Is Made Public-Move Said to Be Effort to Square Self With Wets.

Lincoln, Jan. 14 .- (Special.) -- Gov-A. High, unpopular in Nebraska by criticising action of Mr. High and the endorse the Bryan candidacy for gov-

The letter released at this time is taken here as an attempt of the new governor to square himself with the wet element, which was admittedly double-crossed by Governor Bryan, when, following his campaign promise to abolish the state sheriff, he put Tom Carroll, under a different title, in the same position held by State Sheriff Gus Hyers.

Baker Writes Letter.

High's action written by William Jennings Bryan, follows:

"Mr. Wheeler has forwarded to me the enclosed letter from Mr. Bryan. 91 Schools Will It seems to me there must be some nistake about your statement of September 28: 'We are, therefore, opposed to any candidate who lends his support to the nomination and elec-tion of Senator Hitchcock.' If you are correctly quoted in this, it is certainly a most serious mistake. That policy would ruin us everywhere. Men engaged in party politics may be all right themselves, but they may stand for their party ticket with wet men on the ticket. To adopt the policy indicated in this statement would narrow us down to a very small per cent of the voters.

Friends of Drys.

"Mr. Charles Bryan has been a good friend of our movement; through the Mr. W. J. Bryan have done herculean service in our cause. In addition to that, Mr. Bryan himself gave up his time and paid his own expenses up to the time of the ratification of the eighteenth amendment. Our policy has always been nonpartisan, our appeal has been to our people to vote for a good man on the opposite ticket rather than a bad one on our own; and when both party nominees are friendly to the things we are trying to do, we have carefully kept our

The proposition, he said, 50 or 60 years ago a patent was granted for a stove with a jacket around it, to be placed in the basement, which it was claimed, would de-liver enough heat through a single opening in the floor above it to heat an entire house. The original idea, however, provided no means for removing from the rooms the cold air which the heated air must displace in which the heated air must displace in order to warm the house properly. Consequently, success never crowned the efforts of the original inventor.

The Bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture has made an extended study of the construction of one-register furnaces, found their limitations and have embodied their findings in a booklet which explains the system, illustrates the circulation of cold and warm air in the rooms, and points warm air in the rooms, and points out conditions under which satisfac-
