Links High Invades Omaha and Trims Technica Quintet, 24 to 15

Short Passing Game of Links Puzzles Maroon Basketeers

McIntyre Opens Scoring With a Field Goal Soon After Game Starts—Zust Plays Best Contest for Drummond's Cagesters.

INCOLN high school's cage squad invaded Omaha yesterday afternoon and by exhibiting a real brand of basket ball handed the Technica quintet the short end of a 24 to 15 count on the Creighton court. The affair was nip and tuck with the Links getting away to an early start which they held throughout the remainder of the contest. The first period ended with the Capitol City lads holding an 11 to 4 lead. Tech attempted a comeback in the second period but fell short.

The short passing game of the visitors soon told on the Maroons and short shots accounted for the early scores. McIntyre opened the scoring by affing a neat goal through the hoops for the Red and Black's first work on the part of both quintets before either team could locate the iron rim, many long and erratic shots being taken by the locals.

The Lincoln five counted five points before Tech got started. Captain Walsberg sunk the leather from the side court for the first tally. Free throws by Olds of the invaders hounded the count up to seven against the Bookkeepers and successful shots by Lewis and Brown in fast succession ended the work of the first half.

Omaha's Champion Girl Basket Ball Player

YOU'VE read about the basket shooting ability of Creighton's tossers and the floor work of this and that athlete, but have you ever been informed of the basket ball playing of one Marjorie Jackson, 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Anna Jackson, 1429 South Fifteenth street, who is the star forward on the Sacred Heart High school quintet?

Little Miss Marjorie is the champion girl basket shooter of Nebraska and several other surrounding states as far as we know.

This is Marjorie's first year at the flipping pastime and already she has proven to be the outstanding star on her team. She scored 46 of the 50 points her team chalked up against the Catholic Sokols, and together with her running mate, Philomena Conlan, collected all of her five 21 tallies that were scored against the Daughters of America. The Daughters lost, 7 to 21.

Wolters of Ames to Show Wares in Garden Meet

Crack Half Miler of Middle West Entered Against Pretty Field in Millrose 600-Yard Event.

New York, Jan. 20.—Eastern critics are going to get a glimpse of one of the greatest middle distance runners turned out of the middle west in years January 21, when Wolters of Ames will display his athletic prowess at the Millrose Amateur athletic games in Madison Square garden. The Millrose games committee received word from Art Smith, track coach at Ames, that he was bringing Wolters and Rathbun east for their games, and feels confident that these two runners will perform sensationally in the big meet.

Although very little has been heard of Wolters here in the east, he is well known in the middle west, where last spring he won the Western conference quarter-mile in 48 seconds and back back a few minutes later and won the half in 1:55, an achievement unequaled last year.

Wolters was invited to run in the famous Millrose "600," and his acceptance rounds out one of the greatest fields that has ever started in this race.

The distance should be just to his liking, and as he captured the Missouri Valley indoor 600-yard championship last winter and also competed on the Ames relay team against Penn State at the Millrose games last winter, indoor running is not new to him.

It was Wolters who opened up such a big gap on the first Penn State runner in their match two-mile relay at the Millrose games last year, and it was only the wonderful running of Allen Helfrich on the last leg that enabled Penn State to pull out that victory.

Rathbun, the national college and Western conference two-mile champion, will play the Minneapolis American association team next season.

Milan's retirement to the minors follows an announcement that Donit Bush would manage the Washington team, displacing Milan.

Milan has been in the major leagues 18 years, all with Washington. Throughout his career he has been consistently a first-class hitter and in his prime, a wonderful fielder and base stealer.

In 1912 he established a modern world's record for stolen bases, 88, which lasted until 1915, when Cobb surpassed him by one. Milan hit over 300 in four seasons for Washington and consistently close to that limit on nearly all other occasions. Milan is 36 years old.

Milan a Discard After 16 Years

Summer Ball Hit by Coaches

As a result of professionalism creeping into state interscholastic football during the past season, drastic rules will be in force next fall in order to exclude any high school student who plays summer semi-pro baseball.

State football coaches in session here yesterday, admitted the need for strict eligibility rules, and appointed a committee composed of R. H. McGee of Columbus; R. H. Yanke of Grand Island, and D. E. Porter of Omaha, to draw up a new set of rules.

A. M. Nelson of Auburn was elected president of the association to succeed G. A. Wisnig of Kearney. J. T. McCommons of Superior was elected alternate.

College Track Teams Training for Title Meets

Caliber of College Performers to Be Determined in Annual Illinois Indoor Relays—Kansas Relays in April.

With the National Collegiate A. A. track and field games to be held on a St. Louis field June 15 and 16 as the objective, athletes of universities and colleges in all sections of the country are training for the many events to be held this winter and spring.

The usual number of dual track meets will be held in all parts of the country. These, however, will be forerunners to many important indoor championships. The colleges will be presented in the sectional A. A. indoor track and field championships and also in events to be staged by the various athletic clubs.

In the middlewest the season will officially open with the annual indoor handicap meet of the Illinois A. C. to be held in the Broadway armory, Chicago, on January 25. College performers will take part, and the Ames relay team will be pitted against a quartet from either Notre Dame, Illinois, Michigan or Chicago. The First Regiment A. A. will hold its annual meet a week later.

Caliber of the college performers will be known to a certain degree of certainty on March 2 and 3, when the annual indoor relays of the University of Illinois are held in the marionette armory at Urbana. This has grown into one of the leading events of
