

Council Bluffs Society

Kelher-Kelley.

Announcement is being made today by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kelley of the marriage of their daughter, Emma Dorothea, and M. J. Kelher, which was solemnized in Omaha December 31.

Visitors Feted.

Council Bluffs has been drawing an unusually large number of visitors this winter, all of whom have been widely entertained by our matrons, maids and men whose slogan seems to be "Hospitality."

For Mrs. A. J. Packard, sister of Mrs. H. A. Quinn, who is here from Ottumwa, Ia., for several weeks, the calendar has been full, and Mrs. Frank Garrett's guests, Mrs. C. W. Boucher and Mrs. L. M. Pierce of Valparaiso, Ind., have been equally popular during their stay, which terminates today.

On last Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Quinn gave an Orphan party for nine, followed by supper at the Brandeis restaurant, to compliment Mrs. Packard, and Tuesday evening the Elmer Shugarts invited to their home for dinner six guests who later went to see "Tip-Top." This affair was also planned for Mrs. Packard, who on the same day shared honors with the Indiana visitors at a bridge-tea given by Mrs. W. L. Douglas, and on the day following were complimented with a bridge-luncheon at which Mrs. Quinn was hostess. Thirty-two guests were present and prizes for high scores were awarded Mrs. W. W. Sherman and Mrs. Elmer Shugarts.

Thursday Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Boucher and Mrs. Garrett lunched with Mrs. Fred Davis in Omaha and later attended the matinee, and Friday Mrs. Charles Woodbury gave a bridge-luncheon for Mrs. Packard.

A dinner of 12 covers was arranged for these three visitors Friday night by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Doolittle, and Saturday night Mrs. Packard was honor guest at a dinner planned by Dr. and Mrs. Woodbury.

Mrs. B. O. Brington will entertain for Mrs. Packard Tuesday. Mrs. Joe Smith is planning a party for her on Wednesday, and she will be one of the guests at a dinner on Tuesday evening which the W. S. Stillmans are to have preceding the dance at the Eagle hall.

Elizabeth Woodbury Entertained.
That some of our beautiful young girls are not only popular in Council Bluffs, but elsewhere as well, is evinced by the newspaper accounts of a recent visit in Asheville, N. C., of Miss Elizabeth Woodbury of this city.

Miss Woodbury is a student at Ward Belmont, in Nashville, Tenn., and this year did not return to Council Bluffs for the holidays, but visited with a classmate, Miss Nanine Iddings, where she was honor guest at several delightful functions, and formed many warm friendships with her charming personality.

Bridge-Luncheons.
Two beautifully appointed luncheons, followed by bridge, were given last week by Mrs. Wood Allen and Mrs. George Gerner at the home of the former.

Twenty guests were present on Tuesday when the prize for high score was won by Mrs. L. E. Gurney. Mrs. Garland Rounds received the cut-for-all.

Five tables were again arranged on Wednesday and Mrs. George Mayne and high score for the afternoon. Mrs. Frank Binder won the cut-for-all.

Laura Matthews Lands.
Miss Laura Matthews of this city, landed in New York on the Homeric Saturday, January 13, and will probably remain in the east to continue with her social service work.

Just about four years ago this Council Bluffs girl went overseas as one of two delegates sent by the Iowa Federation of Women's clubs, to do recreation work, and after the return of our American troops she stayed on as executive head of a settlement house maintained by the Methodist centenary fund.

In addition to her many other ac-

"Baby Don" Coming Soon

Donald Macrae IV is a young lad from Des Moines who will arrive in the near future to visit his grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Macrae, Jr.

Being the first-born son of a Macrae, he naturally was christened Donald, to conform with a custom established in that family many years ago, but by that name he is seldom called, for having a father "Donnie," a grandfather "Don" and being the great-grandson of the late "Donald" compliments Miss Matthews has recently entered the field of journalism and of late has been publishing an interesting series of her articles in the press.

Mehlhops Entertain.
Mr. and Mrs. John Mehlop, Jr., entertained at dinner on Saturday evening to compliment Mr. Mehlop's brother, who is a visitor at their home.

Plans for Wednesday.
A novel party is being arranged by the Citizens Gas and Electric Light company, and on Wednesday of this week they will be hosts to the members of the Women's club.

Arrangements are being made to convey the guests to Omaha late in the morning for an inspection of the plant, after which an electrically cooked buffet luncheon will be served.

Dinners.
Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stillman gave a dinner at their home last Thursday and will entertain in a similar manner on Tuesday next.

Dinner-Dance.
Mr. and Mrs. Osro Hill of Freeport, Ill., were honor guests on Thursday evening at a dinner-dance given at the Brandeis restaurant for 23 couples by Dr. and Mrs. A. V. Hennessy and Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Hennessy.

The Hills have been in the city since the latter part of December and have been extensively entertained by friends of the Hennessys with whom they are visiting.

Radio News.

When the regular weekly program is given at the Peterson radio studio next Thursday, an interesting "listener in" will be John Keating, formerly of this city, but now of Portland, Ore., who, on that evening, expects to hear his nephew, Harold Hughes, sing "Towa" and "Let That Sometimes Be Today."

Mr. Keating, under the nom-de-plume of "Lynn Udall, several years ago made a great reputation for himself by writing a series of popular songs, some of which were "Just One Girl," "Stay in Your Own Back Yard," "Just as the Sun Went Down" and "Ziz Ze Ze Zum Zum."

Of late he has confined his efforts to other fields, but just recently sent to his sister, Mrs. George F. Hughes, two songs which he had written and which have not as yet been published. These will be sung next Thursday and it is very likely that Mr. Keating will be able to hear them, as Mr. Peterson has had very encouraging reports from radio stations in Los Angeles, Cal., Philadelphia, Pa., Duluth, Minn., and points in Texas, where WPAF concerts are heard very clearly.

On the program last week a clever little bedtime story written by Mrs. Paul Burke, formerly of this city but now of Dubuque, Ia., was read by her sister, Miss Adele Keeline.

Out-of-Town Girls Entertained.
Miss Katherine Searles entertained at a bridge-luncheon last Thursday, complimentary to her house guests, Miss Elizabeth Englebeck of Des Moines, Ia., and Miss Louise Gibbons of Kearney, Neb.

Prizes for the game were awarded Mrs. Donald Annis and Mrs. Roy Garner, and the honor guests received favors.

Mrs. Robert Lindsay also gave a party for these visitors on Tuesday last, when two tables of guests were present for an afternoon of bridge.

Miss Englebeck returned to her home on Friday and Miss Gibbons leaves today for Kearney.

February Guests.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilcox, formerly of this city but now of Montebello, Cal., are planning to leave their home late in the month and journey to Cincinnati, O., where Mr. Wilcox will go as a director of the National Florists' convention.

From there they will make a short trip to New York, and enroute back to California expect to stop in Council Bluffs for a few days' visit.

Mrs. Wilcox, before her marriage, was Miss Florence Keeline.

Dinner Series.
The second in a series of dinners planned by W. A. Maurer was given at his home on Thursday evening when covers were laid for 17.

Buffet Luncheon.
Complimentary to Miss May Bradley of Chicago who is spending the winter in Omaha, Mrs. F. S. Howell entertained at a buffet luncheon on Saturday.

Miss Earenflight Home.
Miss Frances Earenflight, popular Council Bluffs girl, who has attained such an enviable reputation in terpsichorean art, arrived home last week from Chicago, to visit her parents until she leaves with the Pavley-Oukrainy dancers for Europe early in the spring.

Mr. Oukrainy is now in France and hopes to be joined, not later than April, by Mr. Pavley and the other members of the company for an engagement there.

Birthday Party.
An enjoyable party of last week was on Tuesday when Mrs. George Wickham entertained 20 little boys and girls in honor of her daughter, Mary Virginia, whose fourth birthday it was.

Appropriate games were played and at 5 o'clock the guests were served a dainty luncheonette from kindergarten tables, each of which was arranged with favors which could be carried home.

Mardi Gras Masked Ball Plans.
With the Mardi Gras masque ball but about three weeks off, the members of Central chapter of St. Paul Episcopal church, who are sponsoring this affair are bending every effort to insure its being the biggest event of the season.

Just what popular girl in the city will take the place of Miss Claire Kinzel, the present reigning queen, is the subject of much discussion, and already the names of several charming ones are being mentioned, among whom are Misses June Davis, Kathleen Peacock, Norma Tyler, Leontine Louie, Bess Bettey, Genevieve Tinley and Katherine Searles.

Joe W. Smith seems the probable choice for king although several others have selected for their candidate Julius Rosenfeld, X. W. Kynnett, Chester Dudley, Dr. A. V. Hennessy and Pusey McGee.

Fred Hurd is to be the master of ceremonies and George Wright the floor manager with a committee of William Coppock, Charles Brainerd, Harry Menoit and W. L. Douglas to assist him.

During the grand march all participants will pass by a box which will be occupied by newspaper men and women, and prizes are to be awarded for the most artistic and most comic costumes.

Series of Parties.
Mrs. X. W. Kynnett was a hostess of last week who planned two luncheons at her home, both of which were followed by bridge.

On Thursday a color scheme of lavender and yellow was used, and the lovely spring violets made effective decorations for the tables, on which were also placed lavender candles, in glass, candlesticks tied with bows of yellow.

Mrs. Robert Perego had high score at bridge, and Mrs. Lewis Cutler received the consolation.

On Friday when the same idea was carried out on the decorations and Mrs. Roy Maxfield won the prize for high score, and Mrs. Scott Cavalt was awarded the consolation.

Mrs. Kynnett and her husband also entertained on Sunday last at a charmingly appointed tea which was preceded by a musical program of six numbers.

Mrs. Hart in Hospital.
Mrs. Ernest Eldred Hart, who recently broke her limb when she slipped on the stairs, has not been recuperating very satisfactorily and last Wednesday was taken to Edmundson hospital, where she expects to remain for a couple of weeks.

Mazel Moore Home.
Miss Hazel Moore arrived home Friday morning to visit for about 10 days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Moore on South Sixth street.

For the past five years Miss Moore has been located in New York City, and from there makes various concert tours throughout the east. She has a coloratura soprano voice of great range and beauty with which she delighted a Council Bluffs audience there years ago when she and Arthur Middleton appeared in a joint recital at the city auditorium.

Personals.
Mrs. Henry Hart is expected home in about 10 days from the east where she has been visiting since November.

Otto Sjolander who formerly lived here and is now located in the northeastern part of the state, was in the city last week renewing old acquaintances.

Mrs. Hervey Jackes of Regina, Canada, who came several weeks ago to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cady, expects to return home on Monday, and will be accompanied there by her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wickham and son, Bernard, expect to leave early in February for Cuba, and for several weeks will be at Havana. En route home they plan to spend some time in Miami and Palm Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Donald Macrae, Jr., will arrive home Wednesday morning from Indianapolis, Ind., where she went in the interests of the American Legion Auxiliary, of which she is the Iowa president and national vice-president.

Evening Cards.
Mrs. David Callahan, 829 South Fifteenth will entertain at cards the evening of Wednesday January 23, at her home for the benefit of the church of the Holy Cross.

The COFFEE
that is universally liked

Butter-Nut coffee plays no favorites.

Good enough for the most critical, cheap enough for the most economical.

There is no economy in cheap coffee. The cost per cup is too little to risk the final outcome of any meal. Good cream and sugar and a good meal demand the best in coffee.

A 5-cent saved in coffee might spoil the family's meal.

Butter-Nut
"The Coffee Delicious"

For real vigor, yet that indescribable deliciousness, flavor and fragrance, Butter-Nut is economy with a forethought.
