

Once more "at home" in the Executive Mansion in Albany—Gov. Alfred E. Smith with his family at the fireside of the official residence in the State capital after being sworn in for his second term.
International.

At the same desk he occupied two years ago—Gov. Smith, photographed in the Capitol after his inauguration.
Wide World.

Back to private life. Ex-Governor Nathan L. Miller at his desk in New York, where he has resumed law practice.
International.

Former Governor and Mrs. Charles S. Whitman in complete enjoyment of winter's outdoor sports on a skiing trip at Lake Placid.
Pacific & Atlantic.

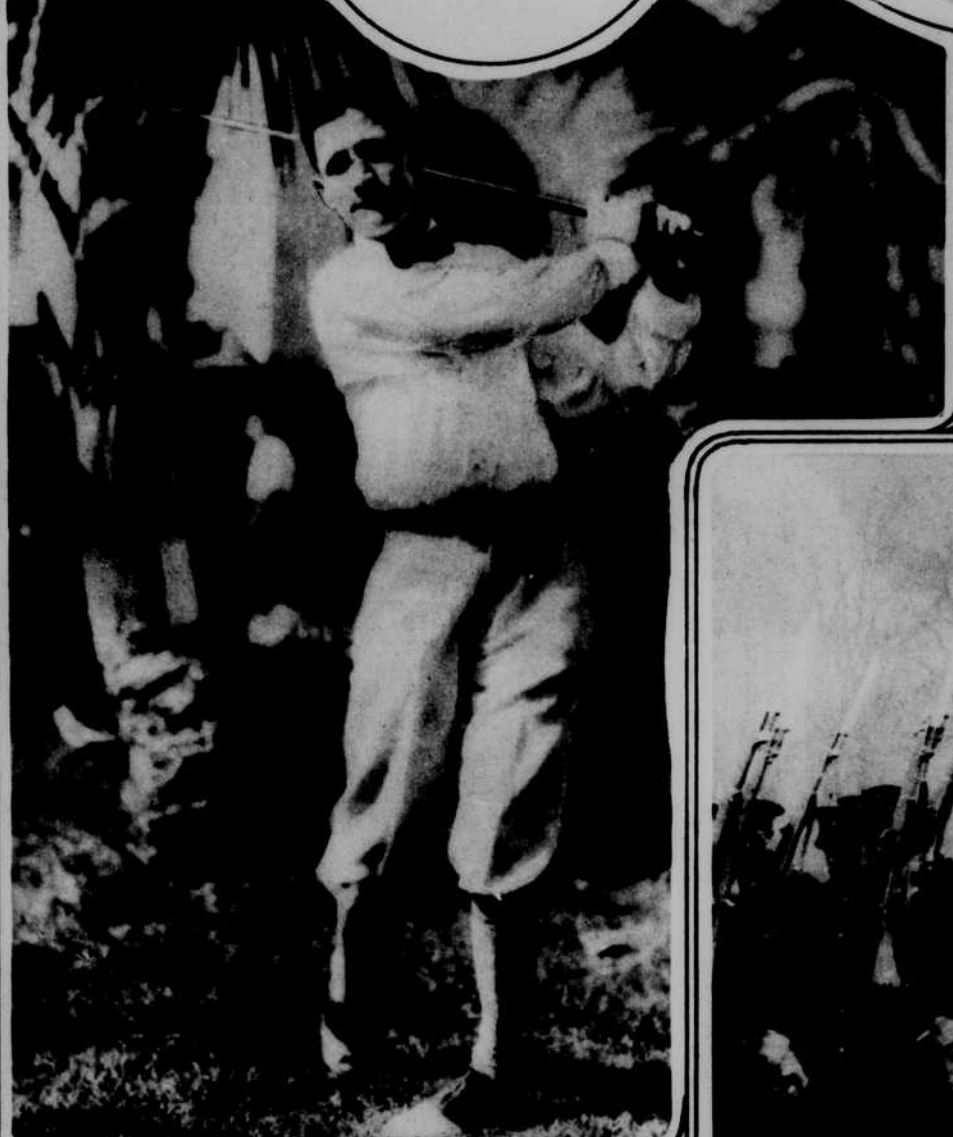

Col. George Harvey, American Ambassador to the Court of St. James, arriving in America on the steamship Berengaria for a conference with President Harding.
Keystone.

Skating in the air—a striking photo of Miss Frieda Whitaker, American champion, in a thrilling exhibition on the ice at St. Moritz.
International.

Mrs. F. Nano, wife of the Secretary of the Rumanian Legation and one of the most beautiful women in the Diplomatic Corps at Washington: snapped at the New Year's reception in the Pan American Building.
Harris Ewing.

Commander Albert Cushing Read, who flew the NC-4 on its transatlantic flight, is an ardent golfer and spends much of his time on the links at Miami, where he is enjoying a short vacation.
Fotograms.

Great Britain's last troops to leave Southern Ireland cheered by crowds as they march through Dublin with Free State troops as a guard of honor.
Pacific and Atlantic.