

Necessities Are Beyond Reach of German People

Better Wages Than Ever, But Prices Much Higher—Factories Are All Humming.

Lima, O., Jan. 20.—German workmen are finding it almost impossible to support their families on the wages they receive, according to Leon Loewenstein, who recently returned to his home here from a trip to Europe.

"Notwithstanding that wages are higher than ever before in the history of Germany, prices are advancing at a rapid pace," declared Loewenstein. "Necessities of life are nearly out of reach of the common people. Prices advanced from 200 to 1,000 per cent in the last three months."

"In the face of such economic conditions, there is no idleness in Germany. Every factory that can obtain raw material is working. There seems to be a desire on the part of everyone in the country to improve the national condition," Loewenstein said.

Travel Cheap.
"The universal opinion, outside of Berlin, is that the country will not return to a monarchical government. The republic has endeared itself to the people, who feel that the German reparations to the allies should be paid, but who frequently express the desire for a longer time in which to pay."

Low cost of traveling in Germany is shown by Loewenstein's experience in going from Cologne to Stuttgart. The trip consumed two hours on the fastest express train in Germany. A party of three made the journey at a total cost of 50 cents in United States currency.

Discussing industrial conditions in Germany, Loewenstein said:
"Just as John D. Rockefeller is the controlling power of the Standard Oil company and its subsidiaries, just so is Hugo Stinnes the leader in almost every industry and business in Germany."

Stinnes in Control.
"Stinnes owns mines which produce every mineral found in the country, heads companies which convert the minerals into raw materials and controls concerns which make the finished products. He also controls the shipping on all the German rivers and controls the electric and telephone systems of Germany."

"Every village and hamlet has electric lights—a thing unheard of a few years ago. It is possible to talk over the telephone from every town to any part of Germany."

"Railroads, which are partly under Stinnes' control, run regularly. There seems to be an improvement in schedules over prewar conditions," said Loewenstein.

Cause of Race Hatred Is Told

Noted Sociology Professor Blames "Oppression Psychosis."

Columbus, O., Jan. 20.—The most serious menace confronting the white race is "oppression psychosis," according to Professor A. Miller, Oberlin College sociologist, who addressed a local audience. "Professor Miller defined 'oppression psychosis' as a mental attitude developed by a race, or class, toward another race or class by which it has been dominated."

Pogroms, racial clashes, religious upheavals and other demonstrations of class hatred are manifestations of "oppression psychosis," Professor Miller said. He declared that it is the root of most of the seething hatred, social, racial and otherwise, which has transformed the world into something like a slumbering volcano which would disperse violent activity at the slightest provocation.

A disposition to unite in opposition to white domination is being created in the colored races by "oppression psychosis," Professor Miller stated. He expressed belief that elimination of race prejudices and a remedy, making it possible for all peoples to live together peacefully. He said the colored races must be patient, and the white race must show more sense.

One-Legged War Hero Leads One-Legged Bride to Altar

London, Jan. 20.—The unusual sight of a one-legged groom leading a one-legged bride to the altar was a feature of a recent wedding at Bethham, a London suburb.

The groom was Robert Payne, a former soldier who lost a leg at Fives in 1917. The bride was Miss Alice Smith, a pretty girl who lost one leg through an accident when a child.

Payne hobbled to the altar on crutches, while Miss Smith's infirmity, due to the wearing of an artificial leg, was scarcely noticeable.

One Twin Born in 1922; Other Arrives in 1923

Bend, Ore., Jan. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. George Doone of Terrebonne, Ore., are parents of twin sons—born in different years. The stork brought No. 1 in the fading hours of 1922. The second arrived shortly after the advent of 1923.

Tots Stage Show in Court.

Springfield, Mass., Jan. 20.—An impromptu circus performance was staged in the district court here when the four small sons of Mr. and Mrs. Anesto Milic entertained Judge Wallace R. Heady with wrestling matches and other acrobatic stunts.

The children were brought into court as neglected children after their parents deserted them in a Ferry street tenement.

In court two of the brothers, who are twins, dropped from the chairs and stood on their heads. This unexpected entertainment amused the court and the boys decided to stage a wrestling match. When they had finished the court proceeded with its work.
