Busy Week Ahead for Omaha Cage Teams--Nebraska to Play Four Valley Quintets--So. Dakota Here

Omaha basket ball teams will resume practice this afternoon in order to be in condition fo ranother lap of the 1923 cage race which will be reeled off this weekend.

Nearly every high school in the state will get into actoin sometime this week. The majority of games are carded for Friday and Saturday, however.

The University of Nebraska quintet will buck up against four Missouri valley teams this week. Tonight on the Husker court the proteges of Coach Owen Frank will battle the Missouri Tigers. The Tigers, it might be repeated, are strong in all departments of the game and are sure to cause the Nebraska tossers plenty of trouble.

Drake will entertain the Cornhuskers in Des Moines on Thursday evening in a regular valley contest. The following night the Nebraska quintet journeys to Ames to meet the Iowa State Cyclones. The Nebraska team will end its three-day trip into Iowa with a game against Grinnell on the latter's court Saturday evening.

Last Year's Western League Champs Need Pitching to Make Team Again Pennant Contender

Tulsa, Okla., Jan. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—If Tulsa's champion Oilers can get pitching in the pennant race now looming on the distant baseball horizon, another Western league flag may fly at McNulty prk.

For Jck Lelivelt will ead amost the same team of wreckers into the fray that marched roughshod over the opposition in 18922. So far as is known at this time the only members of the 1922 team not coming back this spring, save in the hurling department, are Herschel Bennett, start leftfielder, and George McGinnis, shortstop. Bennett was sold to the St. Louis Browns for a fancy figure, while McGinnis, still the property of the club, will be replaced at short by Dudley Lee, purchased from St. Louis after starring in the Southern league for the last two seasons.

Strengthened at Short. It is not known yet who will fill that dull and aching void created in left by the departure of the flashy Bennett. But the management has announced that a gardener of proven ability would be purchased.

At shortstop it is believed that the team has been materially strengthened by the shift from the erratic McGinnis to Lee. The new shortfielder is said to be a brilliant fielder, though not a heavy hitter.
