

Bill to Abolish So. Omaha Phone Toll Rate Is Killed Committee Is Unanimous in Stand; Commissioner Koutsky Opposes Measure—Elsasser Only Defender.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—The Timme bill calling for abolition of the 5-cent toll rate between Omaha and South Omaha telephones, was killed in the house committee on telephones and telegraphs.

Joe Koutsky, Omaha city commissioner, declared that at present South Omaha subscribers enjoyed service approximately 33-1/3 per cent less than the Omaha service, and if the toll was discontinued, it would undoubtedly force the South Omaha rates to the same level as those charged in Omaha.

Means Higher Rate. "At present, the South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

Right Now, if any South Omaha exchange has about 3,500 telephones, while the Omaha exchange, which charges more, has 45,000 telephones, and that accounts for the difference in the rates," he said.

telephone user or any Omaha telephone user wants service in both cities, we have a flat rate for the service.

Butler was in Lincoln, however, attending a meeting of Nebraska municipalities.

Butler Wants Help. "I wasn't aware I was to be present," Butler said.

Elsasser charged that half of the packing house workers lived in Omaha across the division line, and that a discriminatory rate existed.

"If you would change it, where would you get it?" John R. Hughes asked.

"We should get a telephone rate reduction," Elsasser retorted.

Guy Pratt, vice president of the Northwestern Telephone company, did not make a reply, but his laughter at Elsasser's statement was audible.

When the vote was called in committee to either recommend the bill for passage or kill it, all votes to kill were audible, while, if Timme, a member of the committee, voted to recommend it favorably, he could not be heard from a distance of six feet.

Elsasser is not a member of the committee.

Bill Gives Encouragement to Citizens to Stop Graft to Citizens to Stop Graft

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Financial encouragement for private citizens who unearth bona fide financial scandals in public affairs is urged in a bill introduced in the lower house by Representatives Mitchell and Yochum.

Under terms of the bill, any taxpayer who reveals extravagance or graft which results in cutting of public expenditures shall be allowed a bounty of one-half the amount of the state, county, school board or municipal.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Financial encouragement for private citizens who unearth bona fide financial scandals in public affairs is urged in a bill introduced in the lower house by Representatives Mitchell and Yochum.

Under terms of the bill, any taxpayer who reveals extravagance or graft which results in cutting of public expenditures shall be allowed a bounty of one-half the amount of the state, county, school board or municipal.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Financial encouragement for private citizens who unearth bona fide financial scandals in public affairs is urged in a bill introduced in the lower house by Representatives Mitchell and Yochum.

Under terms of the bill, any taxpayer who reveals extravagance or graft which results in cutting of public expenditures shall be allowed a bounty of one-half the amount of the state, county, school board or municipal.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Financial encouragement for private citizens who unearth bona fide financial scandals in public affairs is urged in a bill introduced in the lower house by Representatives Mitchell and Yochum.

Under terms of the bill, any taxpayer who reveals extravagance or graft which results in cutting of public expenditures shall be allowed a bounty of one-half the amount of the state, county, school board or municipal.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Financial encouragement for private citizens who unearth bona fide financial scandals in public affairs is urged in a bill introduced in the lower house by Representatives Mitchell and Yochum.

Under terms of the bill, any taxpayer who reveals extravagance or graft which results in cutting of public expenditures shall be allowed a bounty of one-half the amount of the state, county, school board or municipal.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Financial encouragement for private citizens who unearth bona fide financial scandals in public affairs is urged in a bill introduced in the lower house by Representatives Mitchell and Yochum.

Under terms of the bill, any taxpayer who reveals extravagance or graft which results in cutting of public expenditures shall be allowed a bounty of one-half the amount of the state, county, school board or municipal.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Financial encouragement for private citizens who unearth bona fide financial scandals in public affairs is urged in a bill introduced in the lower house by Representatives Mitchell and Yochum.

Under terms of the bill, any taxpayer who reveals extravagance or graft which results in cutting of public expenditures shall be allowed a bounty of one-half the amount of the state, county, school board or municipal.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Financial encouragement for private citizens who unearth bona fide financial scandals in public affairs is urged in a bill introduced in the lower house by Representatives Mitchell and Yochum.

Under terms of the bill, any taxpayer who reveals extravagance or graft which results in cutting of public expenditures shall be allowed a bounty of one-half the amount of the state, county, school board or municipal.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Financial encouragement for private citizens who unearth bona fide financial scandals in public affairs is urged in a bill introduced in the lower house by Representatives Mitchell and Yochum.

Under terms of the bill, any taxpayer who reveals extravagance or graft which results in cutting of public expenditures shall be allowed a bounty of one-half the amount of the state, county, school board or municipal.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Financial encouragement for private citizens who unearth bona fide financial scandals in public affairs is urged in a bill introduced in the lower house by Representatives Mitchell and Yochum.

Under terms of the bill, any taxpayer who reveals extravagance or graft which results in cutting of public expenditures shall be allowed a bounty of one-half the amount of the state, county, school board or municipal.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—Financial encouragement for private citizens who unearth bona fide financial scandals in public affairs is urged in a bill introduced in the lower house by Representatives Mitchell and Yochum.

State Bank Bill Given to Senate

Commission Provided to Govern Institutions—Bryan Informs His Opposition.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—The banking bill was introduced in the state senate today by Senators Blise, Banning, Smrha, Warner, Gumb and Hastings.

It amends the bank guaranty law along the lines suggested by the state bankers' association.

Under the provisions of the bill, a banking commission, composed of members elected from each of nine districts, is created.

Election is by the members of the guaranty system. The commission is invested with power to examine banks, similar to the authority now possessed by the state banking department.

It shall have the authority to name and fix the compensation of receiver for failed banks and may draw on the guaranty fund to keep a weak bank going.

Depositors are to be paid by the sale of receivers' certificates, which are made lawful investments for state and other governmental subdivisions.

Governor Bryan has indicated that he will oppose the passage of the measure in its present form.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—I. W. Jacoby, Havelock, introduced a resolution in the lower house requesting Governor Charles W. Bryan and City Commissioner Dan Butler of Omaha to turn any information of a combination of coal dealers in Omaha and Lincoln over to Attorney General O. S. Spillman.

The resolution provides that if such information is sufficient to warrant prosecution under any laws existing that the attorney general be instructed to prosecute.

The resolution will be considered tomorrow morning. The governor and Butler fathered the municipal coal yards in Omaha and Lincoln.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—James Allan, a private detective in Omaha and a member of the lower house, introduced a bill which would raise the amount to be paid by the county attorney of Douglas county for employment of a detective or detectives from $1,500 annually to $2,500.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—A bill backed by the Douglas county sheriff's office was introduced in the lower house by Representative George S. Collins. It would raise the limit on deputies employed by the sheriff to 25.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—A bill turning the state soldiers' home at Grand Island over to the federal government, free of charge, providing the federal government transforms the home into a hospital for veterans of foreign wars and their wives was advanced to third reading in the lower house.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—The anti-capital punishment bill has been killed by the house judiciary committee.

Woman Goes to Africa on Trip of Exploration

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo. She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

She is shown in her African costume.

Lady Dorothy Mills, authoress and explorer, daughter of the Earl of Oxford, has started from England for West Africa. She has made several trips of exploration into Africa and this time will go as far as Timbuctoo.

Howell to Fight for Light Bill

Senator-Elect Urges Passage of Trice - Defeated. Munny Measure.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special)—The Howell Omaha munny light bill, introduced yesterday, was referred to the house committee on cities and towns this morning.

The Howell bill, which has been a bone of contention at three previous sessions, provides that the Metropolitan Utilities district of Omaha may at any time call a special election to vote bonds for extension of the "baby" electric light plant at Florence.

It gives the proposed munny plant exclusive right to the Omaha street lighting plant, and, under its provisions, if the Metropolitan Utilities district and Omaha city council fail to agree on the price of street lighting the problem shall be referred to the Nebraska railway commission for adjudication.

The bill also gives the munny plant power to sell current to lighting districts which may be formed in county districts.

R. Howell appeared at the statehouse this morning and announced he would wage an aggressive fight for passage of his bill.

Resolutions Ask Removal of Governor of Illinois

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 24.—(By A. P.)—Impeachment resolutions asking for the removal from office of Gov. Len Small, State Auditor Andrew Russell and Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling were last night delivered to Representative Michael Igoe, Chicago, democrat, by the legislative reference bureau.

The three state officers are republicans. Representative Igoe said he would introduce the resolutions in the house in the morning, during the regular order of business.

The resolution, upon completion of a recitation of alleged facts regarding criminal indictments and actions of the state officers in recent election recount decisions, as members of the state canvassing board, says: "Resolved, that Len Small, governor of the state of Illinois, be, and he hereby is, impeached for willful and corrupt conduct in office, and high crimes and misdemeanors."

The other resolutions contain the same statement in individual relation to the state auditor and lieutenant governor.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

The house would have to vote a two-thirds majority before the resolutions would be presented to the senate, which would sit as a judicial body under separate oath, in the event of further proceedings than the presentation. A two-thirds vote of the senate would make impeachment effective. The chief justice of the state, in the event of an impeachment proceeding, would provide in the senate.

Scottsbluff Commerce Body Opposes Bill of Legislator

Scottsbluff, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—The Scottsbluff Rotary club unanimously adopted resolutions opposing two measures sponsored in the legislature by Representative W. M. Barbour of this district, one of them seeking the elimination of manual training and domestic science from the schools and the other reducing the possible school levy.

County Superintendent Takes Position at Cotner

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.

Geneva, Neb., Jan. 24.—(Special)—Miss Margaret Haughwout, who has been county superintendent of schools here for four years, will go to Lincoln and take a position as assistant in the department of education at Cotner university.