

Park Named for Marshal Foch by Crow Tribe

Chief of All Warriors' Asked for Fitting Memorial, Preferably Captured German Cannon.

Billings, Mont., Jan. 30.—The spot at the Crow Indian agency, where the great French soldier, Gen. Ferdinand Foch, was initiated into the Crow Indian tribe, November 28, 1921, has been named Foch park by the Crow Indians in general council. At the same session a letter was written to Gen. Foch asking that Ah-Ba-Ko-Ta Ba-Tsa-Chish, or "chief of all warriors," as the Indians call him, send them some fitting memorial to place in the park in his honor. The French general was made an honorary chieftain of the Crows at elaborate initiation ceremonies in 1921, which thousands attended. The Indians prefer a captured German cannon as a memorial, it was said. The letter to Foch was signed by Plenty Coos, chief of the Crow tribe. It calls attention to the fact that the only all-American all-Indian Legion post in America is located at the Crow agency.

French Dragoons Charging German Rioters Threatening Essen

This is the first photograph to reach this country of the actual rioting of Germans in Essen, which occurred almost simultaneously with the departure of the American troops from the Rhine valley. This remarkable picture shows a French dragoon (on horseback) riding down the disturbers in front of the Kaiserhoff hotel, where the French commanders are quartered.

105,000 Horsepower. Naval experts will make a comprehensive report of the Omaha's performance. She is the longest ship ever built in the Pacific northwest—250 feet, six inches over all—and is 55 feet, four inches extreme beam, with a mean load draft of 13 feet and six inches and displacement at that draft of 7,100 tons. She is driven by four huge propellers, turned by turbines capable of developing 105,000 horsepower. Following today's cruise, the Omaha will go to the Puget Sound navy yard where her fighting machinery will be installed. This consists of 12 six-inch high power rapid fire guns, two three-inch antiaircraft guns, two three-pounders and two machine guns. The twin torpedo tubes also will be installed aft on the main deck and airplane catapults will be installed. Captain Hanrahan, although a young man, has had a wide experience in naval affairs. He comes to the Omaha from the command of the U. S. S. Galveston of a special service squadron in Central American waters, where he has been for six months.

Fremont, Neb., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Alleged violations of the eighteenth amendment have apparently become so rampant in the vicinity of Arlington, Washington county, that citizens have formed a league of voters for law enforcement. The organization has been completed with H. W. Schettger, an official of the Arlington State bank, elected as president. Following alleged freedom of the bootleggers and booze manufacturers to carry on their occupations without disturbance, the citizens called a mass meeting to consider drastic steps toward assisting enforcement of the statutes. North Loup Pays Tribute to Mrs. Mary E. Sheldon

North Loup, Neb., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—After long illness Mrs. Mary Ellen Brown Sheldon, wife of John Sheldon, long a prominent business man of this place, died Saturday at her home in this village, aged 72. Mary Ellen Brown was born at Neeshkoro, Marquette county, Wisconsin, September 3, 1851. She was married to John Sheldon September 21, 1871 at Dakota, Wis. They came to the North Loup valley with the first Seventh-Day Baptist colonists in 1872, he taking up a homestead on which they resided for about seven years. He was elected county treasurer of Greeley county and the family resided in Scotia, then the county seat of that county, for about three years. They later removed to North Loup where Mr. Sheldon has since been engaged in business. Funeral services were conducted in the Methodist Episcopal church Monday, by the pastor, Rev. Kent P. Clifton, assisted by Rev. Herbert L. Polan of the Seventh-Day Baptist church. All business hours were closed during the services. Mrs. Sheldon is survived by her husband, John Sheldon; one daughter, Mrs. Ida Sheldon Lewis of Scottsbluff, Neb., and three sons, Irving, Louis and Howard Sheldon, all of this place.

chosen vice president; W. A. Rockmeyer, secretary treasurer; Fred Deweber, Ernest Elmer and Fred Mierheny as an advisory board. Citizens gathered at the city hall in response to the call for a mass meeting. Practically all signified their willingness to assist in running down violators of the Volstead act by signing the constitution that was adopted by the meeting. This is the first time in many years, excepting during the rail strike, that the public at large has been called in to aid the officers of the law in Dodge county.

Republic Is Starving.

Moscow, Jan. 30.—(By A. P.)—The Daghestan republic on the northeastern slope of the Caucasus is starving and without medicine, M. Sumzofsky, the country's president has informed Capt. Cyril J. Quinn, who agreed to help Daghestan. The population of this republic is chiefly Mussulman and because the women, having practically no clothing, are without veils to hide their faces, the men go about on the streets only after dark.

Final Session of Peace Parley Set for Today

(Continued from Page One.) fixed their signatures today to a special protocol agreeing, when a general peace is signed, to return to Greece all able-bodied male Greeks who have been held by Turkey since the Greek rout in Asia Minor and the Smyrna tragedy. This protocol affects some 100,000 men. The Mosul dispute came up before the council of the league of nations committee today and it threatens to wreck the near east conference. It brought about one amusing incident which served momentarily to lighten the diplomatic gloom. One difficulty had been to determine what the Kurds in the Mosul region want. A Kurdish representative appeared at British headquarters today and outlined the desires of his fellows, saying: "I no like the Turkish government; I no like the British government; I no like the Arabian government; I no like no government. I am farmer."

Discuss Mosul Oil.

Paris, Jan. 30.—(By A. P.)—The dispute between Great Britain and Turkey over the Iraq frontier, involving the oil producing fields of Mosul was brought before the council of the league of nations today by the earl of Balfour. The council took no action as it is awaiting an indication from the Turks as to whether they will accept the league's jurisdiction. Question for League. Mosul, said Lord Balfour, was a question for the league to consider, because the Iraq was mandated territory, Great Britain acting in that territory in behalf of the league of nations. The question furthermore was of interest to the league, he said, because of the menace to peace that was involved. He said he thought Article XVII of the league covenant might give the Turks apprehension that they would not be admitted to an equal footing by the council. Article XVII provides that in the event of a dispute between a league member and a state not a member the latter "shall be invited to accept the obligations of membership in the league for the purpose of such dispute, upon such conditions as the council may deem just."

Bryan Appointee May Refuse to Take Office

Fremont, Neb., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Ex-Congressman Dan V. Stephens, appointed as a member of the state board of education yesterday by Governor Bryan, may be unable to accept the offer, according to the local banker today. Mr. Stephens announced that the appointment did not come as a surprise, as he had been requested to give the job his serious consideration. Pressing business matters may prevent him from accepting the appointment, he said. Stephens asserted that he will consider the proposition and that he is not in a position at present to state what action he will take. The office would take his attention for six years without pay.

U. P. Engineer Found Dead Under Bridge in California

San Bernardino, Cal., Jan. 30.—John M. Henderson, Union Pacific locomotive engineer, was found dead last night under a bridge in Cajon pass, after his fireman, E. A. Stevens, had found him missing and stopped Union Pacific passenger train No. 22, en route to Salt Lake City, from Los Angeles. The fireman said Henderson had crawled out on the running board of the locomotive to attempt to locate a mechanical trouble. Whether the engineer's head was struck by a bridge timber, as he leaned out to look at the driving wheels below him, or whether he was stricken with heart trouble, has not been determined. The engineer's body was found on rocks in the creek bed. His skull was crushed.

Six Injured in Explosion.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Jan. 30.—Six of the crew of the ferryboat plying between Hamilton and Somerset, were seriously injured by an explosion in the boiler room. Some of the passengers jumped overboard, and it is feared that several of them were drowned.
