Chicago, Feb. 6.—A slightly over-tight condition was disclosed in the grain markets, and with the near east situation reported more pessimistic and a lack of aggressive outside buying, a decline was easily attained.

There was no material pressure on wheat early and an early decline was followed by an advance to around the previous day's finish, but the upturn was due to lack of pressure.

There was persistent selling of May and buying of July wheat by commission houses which narrowed the difference to 3/4c at the last against 5/4c at the first.

There was a heavy movement of fat lambs to the market, and the price advanced to 14 1/2c for the best, and 13 1/2c for the average.

Financial

New York, Feb. 6.—For the first time in three weeks and the fourth time in the present year, today's transactions in stocks ran below a million shares; it was the busiest day since November 14.

Except for the sudden about face of the late rampant Turk at Leuven, nothing in the day's news could be cited as an obvious reason for the movement.

The philosophy of the movement was plain enough, however. News and rumor of distinctly disturbing character has repeatedly faltered since the stock market closed last week.

It is not unreasonable to assume that the upward movement of prices is what would have occurred after the first week in January if the Paris conference had been successful.

All of these bonds advanced again today. The upward movement of prices, selling at 96 after having fallen in January.
