

Creighton Uni Breaks Ground for New Building

Upturning of Earth for New Arts and Science Hall Marks Opening of $1,000,000 Structure Campaign.

The first shovelful of earth, marking the beginning of the construction of $1,000,000 worth of new buildings at Creighton university, was turned for the new Arts and Sciences building yesterday morning by Frank W. Judson, regent of University of Nebraska.

Mr. Judson and Robert Trimble, who used the pick, represented the Omaha Chamber of Commerce at the dedicatory exercises. William F. Gurley was orator of the day. The Arts and Sciences building was dedicated as a memorial to Rev. Michael P. Dowling, S. J., twice president of the university.

Preceding the exercises at the site of the memorial a solemn memorial mass was celebrated in St. Johns church in memory of the founders of Creighton, John A. Creighton and his brother, Edward Creighton, and their wives.

Further work on the building program will wait on the close of the Creighton building and endowment financial campaign, March 5 to 15. The first large subscription to the fund was announced at the dedication yesterday. John Latenser of Omaha gave $5,000.

Rev. John F. McCormick, president of the university was celebrant of the mass. The faculty and the students of Creighton, priests of the parishes in Omaha, and representatives of many of the city's civic bodies also were present.

Mr. Gurley, in his dedicatory talk, told of Father Dowling's arrival at Creighton in 1885, to find himself in charge of an academy. After four years of unremitting toil, Father Dowling built the academy into a college.

"Returning to the presidency of the institution in 1898, Father Dowling gave 10 years of heroic struggle and devoted service, and the college became a university," continued Mr. Gurley.

"It seems fitting that the first new edifice of the greater university should rise as a perpetual memorial to the work and accomplishment of Father Dowling as priest, scholar, educator, executive, man. He made his own pedestal; today in the turning of this sod, his monument is made secure."

Father H. S. Spaulding of St. Louis delivered the memorial oration for the Creightons. Among the visiting church dignitaries were Archbishop J. J. Keane, metropolitan of Dubuque; Archbishop J. J. Hartz of Omaha and Bishop McElveney of Cheyenne, formerly of Omaha.

The affair had a dual significance, in that it combined the dedication of the new building program and the 15th annual observance of "Founders Day." The Rotary club was represented by John W. Welch, George W. Johnston and John Beveridge. The university regents, Walter Head, C. L. Kountze, Fred Hamilton, W. J. Coad and Frank Burkley, were present.

The pick and shovel that were used were of silver. The university and local regiments held dress parades before the ceremony started. A large picture of the Rev. Mr. Dowling was placed in the speaker's stand.

Woman Who Brought Happiness to City Mission Is Laid at Rest

Mrs. Mary Burge Passed Time Making Paper Flowers and Preaching Gospel of Love— Wrote Poem to Daisies.

Mrs. Mary Burge, 62, who died at a local hospital Sunday, was buried Tuesday afternoon from the Crane mortuary. Burial was in Forest Lawn cemetery. Mrs. Burge is survived by one sister residing in Steyenville, Mich., and a brother in Toronto, neither of whom was able to attend her funeral.

Mrs. Burge has been a familiar character at the city mission, 1204 Pacific street. Though the mission is not entirely a home of charity, when Mrs. Burge appealed to Miss Mary Anthony, who was superintendent during November, 1919, she acquiesced to the sympathetic request of the motherly woman, and from that time until last July when she entered the hospital she occupied a room at the mission, occupying most of her time in making paper flowers.

A hymnal was always a means of solace to Mrs. Burge, and for diversion from her tedious work of making flowers she read and sung hymns, often remarking, "The day is dull without a word to God, or a thought of the hereafter." She often referred to the happiness that had been hers because of Miss Anthony's kindness, adding: "She likes the flowers that I make, and shows them to the visitors here."

Unable to Follow Wish.

Friends of Mrs. Burge made an effort to carry out her desire that "some kind friend would place a few daisies on her grave" but could not find them blooming. Sweetpeas were substituted, until later when daisies will be planted on Mrs. Burge's grave.

Miss Laney, present superintendent at the City mission said "Miss Burge was here but a few days after I took charge, but she was a beautiful, happy character, despite the fact that she was alone in the world. Her philosophy of a happy life was summed up in the sentence 'Do justice; love mercy, and have humble faith in God.'"

A Queer World

Grave Digger in Hamlet Missing from Show— Dry Agent Digs Him Up.

New York, Feb. 7.—There was a grave digger missing on Broadway last night. At a theater where "Hamlet" was being played it was said that Cecil Clovelly, "second grave digger," had sent word he was sick and could not help bury "Ophelia," last night.

At the Highbridge police station, Prohibition Agent John Givney said the grave digger was in custody and that his arrest, with that of two other men, promised to break up one of Broadway's most active bootleg rings. Givney named the acting manager of a drug store and a drug clerk as "Clovelly's companions in custody."

Palestine Loses Its Long Beards

River Jordan Harnessed, Movies Popular, Says Zion- ist Speaker Here.

Long beards have gone out of style in Palestine.

At least American barber shops are thriving in the Holy Land, according to Dr. M. Scheinkin, who arrived in Omaha yesterday. The water of the river Jordan has been harnessed and soon will furnish power and light for cities, Dr. Scheinkin said.

"Motion picture theaters are doing big businesses in Palestine," said Dr. Scheinkin, who is one of the founders of Tel Aviv (Spring Hill), a thriving city of 1,000 homes, 15,000 population, with paved streets and all modern conveniences of American cities.

Dr. Scheinkin is a member of the city council of Tel Aviv, and a justice of the peace. He pictures the land in which Arabs once shunned water with superstitious dread and bathed themselves in scented oils, as a land of bathing beaches now.

Dr. Scheinkin has lived in Palestine 15 years. He was expelled by the Turks during the war, but returned immediately after its close. He spoke at a Zionist meeting at the Jewish Community center at Nineteenth and Farnam streets, last night, and to a mass meeting at the same place tonight.

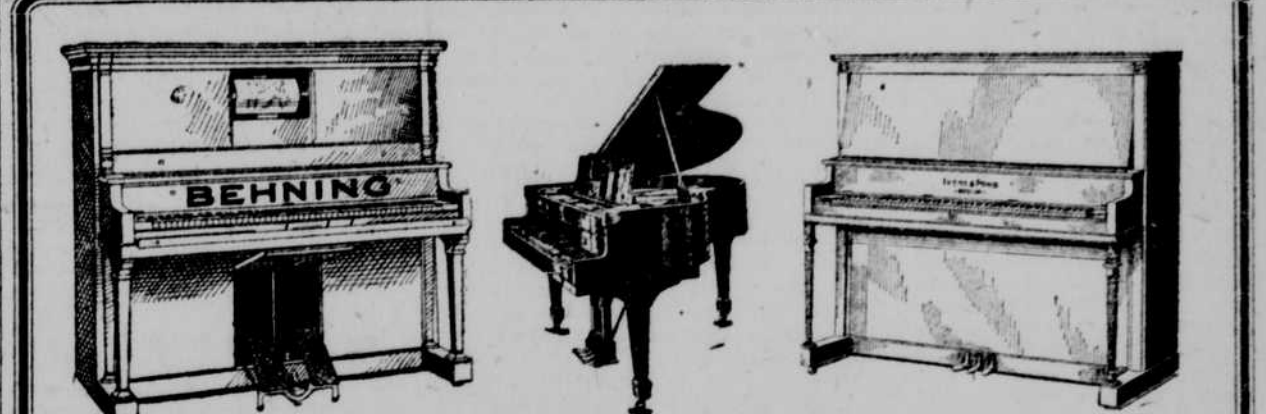

"Men of industry are needed in Palestine," he said. "Industrial enterprises are growing, and there are many good investments for the American Jew in both industry and land. I'm in Omaha to form a state agency for Nebraska and Iowa here, to enable American Jews to make investments."

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home
This is no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant. You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
