

Men as Vain as Women, According to Photographer

Man Who Has Snapped More Than 2,000 Famous Englishmen Says Lloyd George Best Sitter.

London, Feb. 10.—No longer need men smile smugly and derisively to themselves when they catch their womenfolk tiddling and "making up" before the mirror, for in the opinion of Walter Stoneham, who has photographed more than 2,000 famous British persons, from King George downwards, and altogether some 25,000 others, mostly men, they are quite as vain as women.

In a lecture at the city of London branch of the Y. M. C. A. he gave some interesting and amusing anecdotes culled from his many years experience as a society photographer.

"What would you think?" he asked his audience, "if you opened a dressing room door one morning to find within the high officer whom you were about to photograph, standing in front of the mirror removing the curling pins from his mustache?"

"Men talk about their womenfolk 'touching up,' etc., but I can assure you that men are just as bad."

Referring to the famous people that he had photographed, Mr. Stoneham said that best of all sitters was Mr. Lloyd George. One must admit that his was the face of a genius.

Although he has photographed over 25,000 persons, he had never come across two faces absolutely alike.

"Secret League of Lash" English Ku Klux Klan

Order, Believed Modeled After American Organization, Operating Against Moral Law Offenders.

London, Feb. 10.—The Ku Klux Klan probably does not exist in England, but it is said to have been the inspiration of a secret society which is reported to be flourishing in seaport towns.

England's counterpart of the Ku Klux Klan is known as "The Secret League of the Lash." It is said to have been formed by Englishmen who have taken into their own hands the punishment of those who offend the moral laws.

"The Secret League of the Lash" is most secret, but it is reported that its purpose is to prevent men, not of the white race, from mingling with white women. In Cardiff and other seaport towns, where men of all races come down from the sea, there has been a growing tendency on the part of women to forget the color line, and, in fact, there have been several scandals which have aroused the people of the country.

In London the investigations of Scotland Yard relative to alleged sale of narcotics has led to many statements which tend to show that the color line is not being strictly drawn.

The English secret society which has taken it upon itself to deal with offenses against the moral laws of the country and to establish itself as an

Soviet Clothing Factories to Buy American Cotton

Million-Dollar Order to Be Placed Here—Lenin Buys Stock, Paying in U. S. Bank Notes.

Moscow, Feb. 10.—Purchase of $1,000,000 worth of cotton in the United States will be one of the first business acts of the American Industrial corporation, incorporated in Delaware, which has entered into a contract with the soviet government to operate a number of clothing factories throughout Russia.

The contract was drawn by Sidney Hillman of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of the United States, assisted by Earl Dean Howard of Northwestern University, and J. K. Thompson, former president of the Cottonseed Oil corporation.

The American Industrial corporation has a capital of $1,000,000, and under its agreement with soviet government it will operate a clothing trust in the cities of Moscow, Petrograd, Kazan and Nizhni-Novgorod.

Already there have been recruited 20,000 Russian workers for the industry, who will be directed by American executive officers.

Although the corporation is primarily for the purpose of carrying on a clothing manufacturing business, it is authorized to invest in other enterprises and has authority to open a private bank to receive money from and transmit money to America. It

No Change Noted from Woman Vote

Even Liquor Issue Not Visibly Affected, Says Ohio Professor.

Columbus, O., Feb. 10.—Advent of the woman voter has not changed political conditions, according to Prof. Walter J. Shepard, department of political science, Ohio State university.

"There is little or no perceptible difference evident so far in the character of the vote since the advent of the woman suffrage amendment," declared Prof. Shepard.

"Women do not vote differently from men, as they are subject to practically the same influences as the men. They dispute the issues along lines similar to the males," he continued.

"Even on the liquor issue the expected did not happen. In Illinois, where it was possible to tabulate the women's vote, woman suffrage did not work to the advantage of the dry cause, at least to the extent that had been expected," said Prof. Shepard.
