

Catholic Nun Is Kidnaped in Maryland

Teacher of Academy Is Knocked Unconscious and Carried Away—Escapes After Several Hours.

Frederick, Md., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Police in this city and Baltimore were searching today for a man and woman who are believed to have kidnaped Sister Cecilia, a music teacher at the Notre Dame academy here, yesterday afternoon and to have taken her to Baltimore, where she escaped from a house there after being held captive for several hours and returned to the institution in a dazed condition.

Stewart Cathcart, a taxi cab driver of Baltimore, who brought Sister Cecilia to Frederick in his machine last night, was locked up in jail at the request of Father Kane. While not believing Cathcart to be implicated in the kidnaping, the priest stated that Cathcart gave evasive answers to many of his questions.

According to Sister Cecilia's story as recited to Father William J. Kane, overseer of the Notre Dame convent, she was struck over the head with a blunt instrument by the man and dragged. She was still in bed today suffering from fright as a result of her adventure.

Sister Cecilia, whose age on the convent records is given as 21 years, is from Pittsburgh.

Nothing Strange.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 13.—Robert L. Osborne, the policeman who Sister Cecilia of Frederick queried as to train or taxi service, said today he did not notice anything strange when the nun approached him.

Osborne said that Sister Cecilia told him of a sick friend in Frederick who needed her and asked him if he could not find some means of getting her there. The patrolman said he asked several taxi cab drivers to accept her as a passenger, but when told that she did not have the required amount of money they refused.

Finally, he said, Stewart Cathcart, who is being held by the Frederick police authorities for questioning, consented to drive her to that place.

Sister Cecilia told Cathcart, Osborne said, to drive carefully and to pick out the smoother roads, as she did not feel any too well.

Osborne said the nun did not mention the kidnaping to him, and he had no reason to suspect that there had been foul play.

GRIP EPIDEMIC LEADS TO PNEUMONIA

Neglected Colds and Run Down Condition Source of Danger

Many Lives Needlessly Sacrificed

Colds are always dangerous. Now when an epidemic of grip is sweeping the country, they are doubly dangerous because they often develop into serious throat troubles, grip or pneumonia which often result fatally. The time to treat a cold is at the beginning; the best way to treat it is to begin taking Father John's Medicine at once because Father John's Medicine soothes and heals the breathing passages, while its gentle laxative effect drives out impurities and relieves the cold in the natural way. Father John's Medicine gives strength to ward off grip germs. It is safe for every member of the family to take because it does not contain alcohol or dangerous drugs in any form.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and send them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate; then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities, which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will help prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is safe from the acid diphtheria and lemon juice, combined with litchi. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually helps make pimples disappear.

Marine Captain Beaten Up by Peggy Joyce at Dance

Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 13.—While dancing with Evans Spaulding in the Mont Marte cafe in New York, Peggy Hopkins Joyce suddenly stopped in the middle of a two-step, with variations, and assaulted the young Boston captain of marines. This information was offered by the youth's mother, Mrs. Mary Evans Spaulding of Manchester-by-the-Sea, daughter of the former president of the Maine Central railroad.

Peggy, again branded by Mrs. Spaulding as a "beautiful boa constrictor," slapped her son again and again, rained blows upon him with her clenched fists and scratched his face until the blood ran. Then, according to Mrs. Spaulding, followed a disgraceful discussion that almost resulted in a riot call being sent out.

In Presence of Son. The story was related by Mrs. Spaulding in the presence of her son in the latter's stateroom aboard the Cunard liner Andania. An atmosphere of mystery hovered over the boat as the mother of the young Bostonian brought him to the East Boston dock in a taxi. She went with him to his stateroom, later scanning the passenger list and interviewing the purser.

"As far as I know, Miss Hopkins is not aboard," the purser assured Mrs. Spaulding. "I happen to know her quite well and if she were here we would all know it," he declared, refusing to explain his rather cryptic statement.

Mrs. Spaulding guarded her son until 20 seconds from the time the gangplank was withdrawn. She watched with eagle eye every one of the late arrivals.

"Don't Worry, Mother." It was only when the last call came "all ashore, who're going ashore," that Mrs. Spaulding finally left the side of her son. She whispered the last instructions in his ear.

"Don't worry, mother; I won't see her," Evans replied impatiently.

Young Spaulding admitted the assault related by his mother. "She thought I was flirting with another girl," he explained. "Rather inclined to resent that in a way. She did maul me up so badly that I had to stay indoors for two days."

"I don't like all this fuss about Peggy. No, I don't know where she is now and I don't expect to see her again, do I, mother?"

"You do, but you won't," said Mrs. Spaulding. "Not if I have anything to do with it. Those two days with her in Boston without my knowledge is quite enough," she snapped.

No Clues Found to "Death Auto"

Revelation of Driver's Identity May Become Matter of Honor, Detectives Say.

Detectives conducting a search for the driver of the car which struck and killed Wanda Butler, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butler, 3696 Avenue E. Council Bluffs, at Fourteenth and Jackson streets in Omaha Sunday night, confessed themselves baffled yesterday morning.

They have questioned drivers of half a dozen different cars whose license numbers are similar to a number

Offering rewards for the capture of speeders, following a practice recently instituted in Chicago, would have a less salutory effect in Omaha than standardizing penalties to be imposed by the courts, in the opinion of Capt. P. H. Dillon, acting chief of police.

"It isn't necessary to offer a reward for speeders here," he said. "We have enough capable men to bring in a good many speeders every day. I would recommend, however, the fixing of standard punishment in the courts, so that every speeder gets the same penalty."

ber reported as that of the car which struck the girl, without finding the right man, they say.

Detective William Gurnett stated that possibly revelation of the death car driver's identity may become a matter of honor.

"All information police have obtained indicates the motorist was not breaking the law so far as driving was concerned," he declared. "He appears to have done everything in his power to avert the accident. His sole offense lies in running away afterward."

Until he gives himself up, he is developing a criminal heart evading the law. That is the worst of it for him."

Funeral services for the girl victim were held at 2 p. m. yesterday at the home of her parents. The Rev. W. M. Wallis officiated. Burial was in Walnut Hill cemetery.

Selection of Jury in Second Herrin Riot Trial Begun

Marion, Ill., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Selection of a jury was begun yesterday to try six men on charges of murder in the second trial of the Herrin mine riots last June, in which 25 persons were killed.

Four jurors were accepted tentatively by the state after the first panel of veniremen had been exhausted. A new panel of 50 was ordered summoned for today.

Eighteen men originally were docked to face charges of first degree murder in connection with the death of Antonio Milkovitch of Erie, Pa., a mine guard, in the second trial, but prosecution counsel yesterday dropped the indictments against all but six of the defendants.

McCormick and Ganna Walska Are Remarried

Second Ceremony Necessary to Comply With Illinois Law—First Marriage Celebrated in Paris.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Guarded by a score of private detectives, Harold F. McCormick, head of the executive committee of the International Harvester company, and his Paris bride, Ganna Walska Pucze, Polish prima donna, who were remarried today to comply with the Illinois divorce laws, remained in seclusion tonight at the estate of Mr. McCormick's mother in Lake Forest.

Although the ceremony was Mme. Walska's fifth and Mr. McCormick's third, it was marked by all the usual flourishes. A truck load of flowers filled the house, 40 musicians played the wedding march and a caterer from a downtown hotel served an elaborate wedding breakfast for the small bridal party.

The ceremony took place at noon. The license having been obtained during the morning, the names and ages written upon the records were as follows: "Harold Fowler McCormick, 50 years old." "Ganna Walska Pucze, 31 years old."

The remarriage was made necessary by the provision of the Illinois law forbidding the marriage of divorced persons within a year after the granting of the decree. McCormick was divorced by his wife, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, on December 28, 1921, on the grounds of desertion.

Shortly after the decree was handed down, McCormick underwent an operation in a Chicago hospital and immediately after his recovery started for Europe.

Mme. Walska, who already was in Europe, had been divorced from her third husband, Alexander Smith Cochran of New York. McCormick and Mme. Walska were married in Paris in August, 1922.

Does the Tax-Collector call at night?

The tax which nobody can afford to pay is the tax which is assessed against health.

When nerves are a-jangle and the night's rest is disturbed, health is paying a tax which cannot safely be continued.

People who drink coffee and tea often find there's a tax to pay for the nerve-stimulation they've had from the drug, caffeine, which coffee and tea contain. Night-time restlessness, daytime drowsiness, nervous irritation and headaches are common forms of the first payments.

There's an easy and delightful way to avoid the tax, through Postum instead of coffee or tea. Postum is fully satisfying to taste, with all the comfort and pleasing flavor which a hot, mealtime beverage can give—and without any possibility of harm to nerves or digestion. As many cups as you like with any meal.

It would be wise for you to stop tax-payments to the coffee and tea drug, and enjoy the kindness and comfort of Postum. Begin today, with an order to your grocer.

Rosenbluth Removal Proceedings Dismissed

New York, Feb. 13.—United States Commissioner Hitchcock today dismissed removal proceedings instituted against Capt. Robert Rosenbluth to obtain his transfer to Tacoma, Wash., where he is under federal indictment for the murder of Maj. Alexander P. Cronkhite at Camp Lewis, Wash., in October, 1918. Rosenbluth's $49,000 bail was discharged.

Commissioner Hitchcock concurred in the contention of Louis Marshall, counsel for Captain Rosenbluth, that Camp Lewis was not the property of the United States on October 25, 1918, when Major Cronkhite was shot and that the federal courts therefore had no jurisdiction in the case.

Major Cronkhite's death at first was attributed to accidental self-injury. Later, Roland Pothier, a former army sergeant, now living at Providence, R. I., signed an affidavit saying he shot Major Cronkhite at Captain Rosenbluth's order. He afterwards repudiated the alleged confession. Captain Rosenbluth has contended that the charges against him were a "frame-up" and his friends have called the affair "another Dreyfus case."

Violent Advances Take Place on Sugar Market

New York, Feb. 13.—Exciting trading and violent advances took place in the sugar market today. Futures jumped at the opening in some cases as much as 100 points, the maximum fluctuations permitted by the exchange in one day's trading.

May sold at 5.61; July at 5.52, and September at 5.91, all representing 100-point advances from the close of Saturday. This unusual jump was influenced largely by the Mejer-Guma estimate placing the Cuban crop at only 3,800,000 tons, or almost 400,000 tons below the previous estimate in December. This estimate was in line with recent statistics published by the Department of Commerce, which made the estimated needs for the present year 725,000 tons above production.

The spot market also jumped violently, operators bidding 5.14c for Cuban cost and freight, without success. The refined market also was much confused and prices were more or less nominal.

Famous Bandit Is Killed by Constabulary Troops

Santiago, P. I., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Ronquello, the noted bandit who has been sought for killing Judge Andres Borge last month, was shot and killed Sunday by a platoon of constabulary who surrounded a house in Cavite province, where Ronquello was hiding.

Twenty-five constabulary surrounded the house and began firing from all sides. Nearly 1,000 shots were fired. Finally, one of the constabulary crawled under the house and fired up through the floor, killing Ronquello. The bandit wounded nine constabulary before he was killed.

U. S. Withdraws Spud Restrictions

Department Revises Regulation on Potatoes From Canada and Bermuda.

By GEORGE A. THIER, Washington Correspondent The Omaha Bee.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The United States Department of Agriculture issued today the following notice of withdrawal of restrictions on the importation of potatoes from Canada and Bermuda other than such inspection as shall be deemed necessary from time to time; amendment No. 2 to regulations governing the importation of potatoes into the United States was withdrawn.

Notice is hereby given of the withdrawal of amendment No. 2 revising the paragraph governing the entry of potatoes into the United States from Canada and Bermuda in regulation 7 of the regulations governing the importation of potatoes into the United States. This amendment was promulgated January 17, 1923, and was to become effective February 1, 1923, and provided for official certification of the potatoes as to district of origin and as to freedom from injurious diseases and insect pests.

The withdrawal of this amendment leaves without restrictions the entry of potatoes from Canada and Bermuda other than inspection as shall be deemed to be necessary from time to time to determine the freedom from injurious diseases and insect pests. The federal horticultural board recommends this action after another consultation with the experts of this department and with the dominion au-
