

Raids on 'Reds' Were 'Framed,' Sleuth Charges

Former Member of Department of Justice Says Plots Fomented by Detective Agencies.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—A story of methods employed by private detective agencies investigating rail strikes and troubles, contained in a deposition made here by Albert Ballin, alias Balanow, former agent for the department of justice last night and today brought forth specific and general denials from agencies and persons involved in the alleged exposure.

Frank P. Walsh, who is defending the 22 alleged communists facing trial at St. Joseph, Mich., February 26, and who is here taking the deposition, said the document would be used in connection with the defense of the men.

Balanow, son of a Russian communist, ordered deported during the last czarist reign, said he was formerly with the Burns, Thiel, Daniel and other private agencies, and a member of the communist party, the socialist-laborite, Young People's Socialist League, and the Workers International Industrial Union.

Agitated Radicalism.

Among the charges made by Balanow, were:

That private detective agencies fomented radicalism, formed radical labor organizations and fomented labor troubles through paid representatives in order to make fees in exposing the movements.

That prominent radicals were allowed to slip through the hands of the investigators that the search might be continued.

That agents of Burns and Thiel "dictated the policy of the I. W. W. propaganda committee which issued the radical manifestos and literature," and that the entire committee during 1920 and 1921 was composed of Thiel agents.

That T. J. Cooney, directing the radical department for the Thiel agency at that time, used a stamp of the signature of Alfred Wegenknecht, known as a radical, stolen from the mail, stamped 59 threatening letters to several interested in the prosecution of communists here, which he (Balanow) mailed.

The deposition told how Balanow

Mary Baker Back at N. Y.; She Won't Marry Allister

New York, Feb. 13.—Miss Mary Landon Baker, Chicago heiress, returned from abroad today on the steamship Carmanita, declaring that there was more than the Atlantic ocean between her and Allister McCormick, her erstwhile fiance, whom she left "somewhere in France."

"I shall never marry him," she declared in addition to a sporadic romance that has left the prospective bridegroom four times deserted almost at the altar.

"It's all off," Miss Baker told reporters. "I will never marry him. We broke our engagement six weeks or a month ago."

"Yes, it was mutual—no, our engagement—I mean it was broken off by mutual consent."

"Will I ever marry?"

Judge Sees No Peril in Divorce

Friction Caused in Process of Woman Becoming Man's Equal, Says Day.

The great number of divorces of the present day is nothing to become alarmed over, was the message given to the Nebraska conference of social workers by Judge L. B. Day of the court of domestic relations yesterday morning in the rooms of the Jewish Welfare League, Lyric building. His subject was "Marriage and Divorce."

"We are going through a period of transition," said Judge Day. "The day when a woman was deemed the slave or chattel of man is being succeeded by one wherein she is becoming his equal, and during this period of transition from one state to the other there is bound to be friction. I am confident, however, that there eventually will be a proper readjustment and that the number of divorces will be greatly decreased."

Judge Day discussed the administration of Nebraska's present divorce laws, and particularly the law which provides that the court shall investigate and look into the merits of a case aside from the actual hearing in court. This law, which has been in force one year and which the present legislature has been asked to repeal, is the best thing we have today in the way of an instrument to prevent fraudulent divorces, Judge Day said.

"Forty per cent of divorces should not be granted, but the difficulty is to distinguish one from the other," Judge Day said.

Judge Day advocated a law which would require the passage of two weeks' time between the date of the application for a marriage license and the issuance thereof.

"This would give a lot of these hot-heads time to cool off and think it over," he declared. "As things are today, it is a marriage evil, rather than a divorce evil."

Other speakers during the morning session were: Warden Fenton of the state penitentiary, who discussed "Indeterminate Sentences," Judge Howard Kennedy of Omaha, "Efficiency in Government," and Rev. J. R. Perkins of the First Congregational church, Council Bluffs, "Major Factors in Crime."

Eastern Packer Pays Visit to Omaha Yards

Among the visitors at the stock yards yesterday was J. B. Brown of Springfield, Mass., an independent packer, who has a representative at the local yards.

Mr. Brown said he thought a lot of the quality of Omaha cattle and that he secured most of his supplies from the local market.

"Conditions have not yet been overdrawn regarding the dullness of the dressed beef market," said Mr. Brown. "My own trade is largely kosher and has not been affected, but the large packers are having trouble in disposing of their beef at a profitable margin."

Germany has more than 8,000 motion picture theaters.

Game Slaughtered During Big Wolf Hunts, Charge

Hastings, Neb., Feb. 13.—(Special.)—Many sportsmen who have participated in wolf hunts in this section during the last few weeks declare that protected game is often slaughtered because no game wardens are present. The killing of pheasants in some instances is mentioned as the most serious offense.

Sometimes as many as 2,000 persons participate in wolf hunts, and besides coyotes and rabbits, considerable game has been killed. Wolf hunts are nearly all advertised in advance and sportsmen say that if one game warden were assigned to each hunt it would materially check the shooting of protected game.

New Building Zone Law Sought for Hastings

Hastings, Neb., Feb. 13.—(Special.)—The collapse of the front wall of a small brick store building in the residence section, across the street from the $90,000 Episcopal cathedral, now under construction, has brought the agitation for a building and zoning code to a climax. A committee of the council has been instructed to prepare the building code and it is expected that it will be drawn to include regulations restricting certain types of buildings to certain districts. The few building regulations now in effect are regarded as obsolete.

ADVERTISEMENTS. SECRET OF HIS SUCCESS

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this country in a recent article said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe it all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration and the greatest helpmate of my life." Health is the first essential of every woman who wants to be a successful wife and to hold the love and admiration of her husband. If a woman finds her energies flagging and dark circles appearing under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, nervousness and "the blues," she should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the medicine which holds the record of helping 28 out of every 100 women who try it. There is nothing better.
