

Tomb of Pharaoh Treasure Trove of Ancient Times

Luxor, Egypt, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Opening of the mortuary chamber in the tomb of King Tutankhamun today showed the sarcophagus of the pharaoh to be still in the same position in which it was placed by his mourners more than 3,000 years ago. When the exploring scientists, after removing the delicate seals, broke their way through the masonry of the inner chamber door, they were confronted with splendors which, upon the first cursory examination, appear to surpass even those of the ante-chamber which held the interest of the entire world.

The exploring party, headed by Howard Carter, exclaimed with amazement at finding the center chamber, which is about 14 feet square, occupied by an immense gilded canopy, richly inscribed. The canopy was closed, but there was a door, and the opening of this revealed inside what undoubtedly is Tutankhamun's coffin. For the present, however, this was left undisturbed.

Other Tombs Looted.

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The tomb of Pharaoh Tutankhamun, opened by explorers today in the valley of the kings near Luxor, is by far the richest treasure trove ever uncovered in the metropolis of ancient Thebes, and in all likelihood is the richest that ever will be discovered. Ambrose Lansing, acting curator of the Egyptian section of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, declared today.

Tombs of practically all the early rulers of Egypt have been accounted for, most of them thoroughly looted by native grave robbers, said Mr. Lansing. Royal furniture, garments, chariots, ornaments and works of art, of rare beauty and exquisite workmanship already have been found in unprecedented quantities in the outer chamber of Tutankhamun's tomb. The funerary equipment, much of it heavily encrusted with gold and semiprecious stones, is valued at millions of dollars. But treasures of greater value in the eyes of the Egyptologists—bits of historical data of the era ante dating Christ by 121 centuries—are hoped for when the hieroglyphic inscriptions within the tomb itself have been translated.

Lapidus Gets Biggest Bargain of His Career in Business

Twenty cars filled with refrigerators and other fixtures, costing several thousand dollars, were received yesterday by the Omaha Fixture and Supply company from Camp McClellan, Ala. The purchase was made by Harry Lapidus, president of the company. Lapidus also announced that he had purchased a large supply of desks. "I bought refrigerators and desks at prices much less than it cost the manufacturers to build them," said Mr. Lapidus. "It's the biggest bargain of my business career. This probably is the last camp at which government sales will be conducted," said Lapidus. In order to house this large shipment it was necessary to rent three floors in a building at 1102 Farnam street.

Oakland to Copy Omaha's Festival

Omaha's plan of Ak-Sar-Ben has been adopted by Oakland, Cal., where the "Festival of the Oaks" will be held next fall under the direction of an organization of business men who are following the general business scheme of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben as outlined by Charles Gardner, secretary. Mr. Gardner returned home yesterday with glowing accounts of how the Omaha idea was approved in the California city on the bay.

Oakland will have an initiation similar to the Ak-Sar-Ben initiation. Instead of a parade there will be an electrical pageant on Lake Merritt, which is in the city of Oakland. A coronation and a grand ball will be held in the Oakland auditorium, which overlooks the lake. Secretary Gardner spoke at several organization meetings in Oakland and reported that 231 members signed the charter roll. Among the former Omahans interested in the Oakland project are R. C. Strehlow, Arthur Karbach, C. S. Young and Carsten Schmidt. Mr. Gardner stated that Ak-Sar-Ben will go after 6,000 members this year. The membership list now shows 720 names.

Woman Refuses to Testify in Parents' Divorce Case

Beatrice, Neb., Feb. 16.—(Special.)—Mrs. Daisy Schroeder of Wymore refused to testify in the divorce case of her father, Isa Hagerman, against Carrie E. Hagerman, which is on trial in the district court here. Judge Colby then took the young woman in charge and privately heard her story of the case, which gives promise of being sensational.

Bootleggers Wage War on Attorney

Hugh Drake of Kearney Loses Automobile Following Raid on Stills—Car Is Burned.

Kearney, Neb., Feb. 16.—(Special.)—County Attorney Hugh Drake lost his automobile by fire. The machine was parked in front of his office. Drake, thinking that his brother had taken the car, gave the disappearance no thought until morning, when a search was instituted. What remained of the auto was found about five miles southeast of the city, on an abandoned road. To all appearances, gas had been drained from the tank, thrown over the car and a match applied. For several weeks the county attorney has been conducting raids on places suspected of manufacturing and selling moonshine liquor, and he has brought about quite a number of successful prosecutions. The receipt of threatening letters followed closely upon the heels of these activities and deliberate destruction of his car seemingly is the first act of retaliation on the part of those protesting the county attorney's activity.

Railroads handled more than 400,000 carloads of automobiles during 1922, or 1,700,000 cars. More than 750,000 were driven away.

Volume of Sales Keeps Bond's Prices Down!

It's the volume of sales that makes it possible for us to maintain our present low prices, despite the unfavorable reports from the woolen markets. The average store will have to charge you from $3 to $15 more per garment. If we were not positive that prices are bound to be higher elsewhere, we would not urge you so strongly to buy at Bond's—but, knowing the conditions as we do—we advise you not to wait and to buy at Bond's.
