Committees Report Out and Kill Large Number of Measures—Two Bills Pass on Third Reading.

Lincoln, Feb. 21.—(Special)—The senate today in the committee of the whole advanced the Good bill, S. F. 233, prohibiting deputy sheriffs from holding other appointive political offices. There was little discussion and no opposition.

The Behren measure, S. F. 154, to validate recording of mortgage releases or deeds and making suits to annul impossible for 15 years, was passed on third reading.

Bills Reported Out.

Committees reported out an unusually large number of bills for the senate general file, including: S. F. 217, Rickard—Permitting a county commissioner to be county highway commissioner in counties of less than 50,000.

H. R. 71—To compel certain vehicles to come to a full stop before crossing railroad tracks.

H. R. 104—Authorizing counties under 60,000 to levy .2, instead of .1 mills for the mothers' pension fund.

H. R. 126—For the levying of additional taxes for water systems in second-class cities, amended to include villages.

S. F. 232, Osborne—Reducing from 15 to 10 per cent interest owner or occupant of land must pay to redeem it from tax sale.

S. F. 238, Purcell—Penalizing persons who defraud the county in securing bounties supposedly for wildcats, wolves and mountain lions.

S. F. 225—Authorizing register of debt to place identification on evidence of debt filed for evidence.

The entire Douglas delegation united in calling for indefinite postponement of S. F. 135 providing for $1,000 additional funds for the county attorney to hire private investigators.

Here are some genuine war babies "made in Germany," and their Yank daddies and ex-German mothers who arrived home on the St. Mihiel when the last of the American European forces returned from their four-year watch on the Rhine.

Movie Censorship Argued in Committee

Lincoln, Feb. 21.—(Special)—For three hours tonight the senate welfare committee listened to arguments on motion picture censorship and regulation. The committee adjourned without taking action.

There are two bills in the senate for the alleged purpose of eliminating objectionable features of motion pictures. One calls for creation of a censorship board, the other makes it a misdemeanor for a Nebraska exhibitor to show pictures depicting any crimes designated as felonies or misdemeanors by Nebraska statutes.

Mrs. Thomas R. Jones, Omaha, vice president of the League of Women Voters, and Mrs. Edward Johnson, former president of the Omaha Women's club, appeared with numerous exhibitors to oppose censorship. All asserted that in the last year pictures had become cleaner.

The argument for the regulatory bill was that if it were decided that something was necessary to hasten the cleansing of pictures it should be statutory regulation rather than arbitrary regulation of a board of three, such as is proposed in the censorship bill.

State Parks Fund Bill Is Killed in Committee

Lincoln, Feb. 21.—(Special)—The house fish and game committee killed a bill tonight which would call for appropriating one-fourth the fish and game license fund to equip state parks, purchase land for such parks and maintain them. There was much interest in the bill and a number of people from Chadron, interested in building a state park near there, and people from Nebraska City, pushing acquisition by the state of Arbor Lodge at Nebraska City, were present.

Changes in Code Big Legislative Problem

a cabinet and oblige this council to stand responsible for work done by appointees of the governor over whom the council has no jurisdiction.

There is little sentiment to keep the code on the statute books exactly as it stands today. The republicans, as a whole, are as anxious to modify it as certain of the democrats are to repeal it. At this time, sentiment in republican ranks appears to be general that the code, in principle, is right and that the divided responsibility entailed in the Bryan plan together with the unprecedented appointive power would never give the people a clear insight as to who would be responsible for governmental blunders and "back passing" now impossible under the centralized responsibility in the governor, would become prevalent.

Appropriations Big Problem. Then, there is a big problem facing the appropriations committee. It has the Bryan budget, it has the McKelvie budget and it may have to prepare an independent budget.

It may be that the committee will make two or three separate sets of appropriations so as to stand ready to trot out the appropriations bill which will fit the form of government which the legislature decides to adopt and thus be ready for any eventuality.

Last but not least, is a probability that Governor Bryan will close his eyes to any proposition, without his label, veto any bill denying him the right to play hide and seek behind an executive council and continue to use his veto power until either the legislature, the chief executive or the people become tired and disgusted.

County Seat Removal Bill Advanced by Lower House

Lincoln, Feb. 21.—(Special)—A bill was advanced to third reading in the lower house today which provides that if 60 per cent of the voters sanction bonds for a new courthouse and 51 per cent vote to change the location of the county seat both propositions can be carried out. However, under terms of the bill, county seats cannot be changed unless bonds are voted for a new courthouse. The bill arouses much opposition in certain counties where county seat fights are underway.

Judge Charles White Monday postponed the trial again for one week, making the date March 12. The court announced that no further delays would be permitted.

Lincoln, Feb. 21.—(Special)—The Jacoby bill which would make it unlawful to employ foreign-born citizens on public works was killed today by the lower house, when the measure came up for consideration on third reading.

Making safeblowers ineligible to parole.

Fixing Lancaster county as place for trial of parole violators.

Allowing city of Columbus to issue $200,000 in paving bonds.

Fire hazards were picked out and reported. The old senior high school was found in bad condition and repairs recommended.

A big meeting was held in the city's new half million dollar high school building tonight. A false fire alarm was raised by the fire department and a great crowd was attracted to the meeting by this means. State Fire Marshal Hartford was aiding the firemen. About 40 Omaha and Lincoln underwriters were present.

Two Deputies Escape Arrest for Lobbying

Margin of Five Votes in Lower House Saves State Officers from Prosecution.

Lincoln, Feb. 21.—(Special)—Two deputies in the office of John M. Matzen, state superintendent of schools, escaped arrest and prosecution for breaking the lobbying law by a margin of five votes this morning.

Representative Dan Garber of Red Cloud introduced a resolution in the lower house charging that I. N. Clark and John Speedie, the deputies in question, had been on the floor and the house for two hours this morning, buttonholing members and urging them to vote for house roll No. 49 which provides that high school tuition for country students should be paid by the county at large.

Representative Garber further charged that this was diametrically opposed to the lobby law, which, in the first place, demanded that persons working either for or against bills should register, and should confine their remarks on the legislation to public addresses, newspaper articles and in no event should they appear on the floor of the house and work on behalf of their measures while the house is in session.

Debate waxed hot. No one defended the action of the two men, but it was declared that if they should be prosecuted and go to jail, there probably were 100 others in Lincoln, lobbying for various measures, who should receive the same treatment.

A motion to lay the resolution on the table carried, 51 to 46.

The maximum sentence for unlawful lobbying is one year in the penitentiary.

Immediately after the flurry over the motion to place the two state officers under arrest, the house began consideration of the bill on which it was charged Clark and Speedie were lobbying. The measure was advanced to third reading by viva voce vote. There was much opposition to it by members coming from districts with strong parochial schools.

The bill as it stands eliminates tuition charge from cities and towns having high schools.

Aims of Turks Are Told Omahans by New Yorker

Col. W. G. Archer of New York, representing the National Trade Extension bureau, who was at Hotel Fontenelle yesterday, said the Turk is fighting for three things; the right to govern his country without interference from foreigners; the right to say who shall live in the country, and freedom of religious belief.

While acting as military adviser to King Faisal, Arab leader, Colonel Archer had opportunity to study the people, their customs and their mode of thought. He says that the Turk, outside his own country, is misunderstood.

Modification Passed to Anti-Pass Law

Lincoln, Feb. 21.—(Special)—S. F. 69, exempting pastors, railroad Y. M. C. A. secretaries, and inmates of charitable institutions and hospitals from the provisions of the anti-pass law passed the senate today without the emergency clause. The vote was 22 to 9.

"It took several years to get the anti-pass law on the statute books," said Senator Saunders, in explaining his vote. "I regret to see preachers, charity workers and others used for an appeal to the sympathies of its supporters through the entering wedge for it's repeal."

It is understood that the railroads favor the bill.

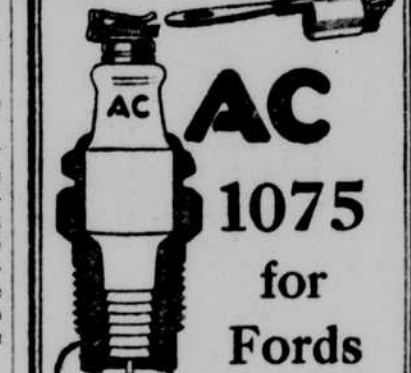

Those voting for it were: Allen, Banning, Behrens, Bliss, Chambers, Cooper, Fries, Gumb, Hastings, Kreh, Meacham, McGowan, Osborne, Reed, Relfenrath, Rickard, Shellenbarger, Sturdevant, Thielen, Tomek, Warner and Wilite.

Against: Anderson, Barr, Good, H. Han, Johnson, Larkin, Robbins, Saunders and Smrha.

Good-Will Essential Spirit in Business, Says Secretary

Irving S. Paul of New York, secretary of the National Retail Dry Goods association and executive secretary of the joint congressional commission of agricultural inquiry, believes that good will is a valuable asset in all business relations.

"It costs more to distribute goods than to produce or make them," Paul stated. "Reduction of the cost of living can not be obtained through the cutting of profits. The real reduction lies in the abolishment of waste."

Why you should use AC 1075's in your Ford

Its spring terminal clip for instant detachment permits testing of ignition while engine is running. The carbon-proof porcelain with its high temperature fins offers effective resistance to carbon, soot and oil. Electrode forms natural drain so that no oil can lodge in gap. Most engine trouble comes from incorrectly designed or worn-out plugs. Put a set of AC 1075's in your Ford and note the easier starting and smoother performance of your engine.
