

THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY
NELSON B. UPHDKE, Publisher. B. BREWER, Gen. Manager.
MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Private Branch Exchange. Ask for the Department AT 1810
or Person Wanted. For Night Calls After 10 P. M.:
Editorial Department. Atlantic 1021 or 1042. 1000

OFFICES
Main Office—17th and Farnam
Co. Bluffs - - - 35 Scott St., So. Side, N. W. Cor. 24th and N
New York—256 Fifth Avenue
Washington - 422 Star Bldg., Chicago - 1720 Steger Bldg.
Paris, France—420 Rue St. Honoré

"AS IT HATH PLEASED HIM."

A visiting minister told a group of Omaha listeners last week about a little African girl, born in the midst of savagery, who had been brought over here by a missionary, educated and trained, and is now holding a high position.

Nothing especially strange or marvelous in that. Environment determined, as environment usually does. Had the little girl remained among her own people, she might have come to a high position in her society, yet would have remained a savage.

At one point in life the germ baffles the biologist, who can not tell if it will become one thing or another; it may be any one of created living forms in the end. Environment determines. Heredity has its influence, but comes into sway only after the course of the collection of germs has been determined by the conditions under which they are grouped.

"And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain; but God giveth it a body as it hath pleased Him, and to every seed his own body."

Many bright lights shine on the path of man, gleaming from sources that had been obscured and dim, and even without light at all in the beginning. Men and women have risen from the depths of poverty and ignorance to the heights of power and wealth, coming up a long and weary way, driven by something they did not understand and could not resist.

THE STUFF THAT WINS.

If "grown-ups" could show the same determination and resourcefulness often exhibited by the youngsters, there would be fewer people who are termed "down and outers" in this world.

APROPOS OF THE MOTOR SHOW.

Whatever adds a new thrill to life, adds to the length of life. We live not by clock-ticks, by the calendar or any form of measured time.

FINDING A WIFE.

Getting married is for most persons not a very difficult task. All in all, it is usually much harder to avoid matrimony.

SUPPRESSED TALENTS.

A fantastic story is that during the middle ages a group of wicked men made a practice of fitting the bodies of babies into jugs and vases of various form.

We shudder at the thought of anything so repulsive as this story suggests, and no punishment seems too drastic for one who would so mar or distort the body of a child.

On the other hand, those having the care of children may and often do err on the side of too much restraint. Parents sometimes act as if the child's life were some kind of jelly substance to be poured into molds of the parents' making.

It is well for parents to maintain a high purpose in regard to the future of their children. To hand down to them such inheritance as will fit them for a strong life.

Echoes of Nebraska's new state capitol will resound throughout the cities and towns of the state, says Dr. H. B. Alexander.

Among other differences between the dances of yesterday and today is the fact that one had to have some brains to learn those old dances.

THE WAY OUT IS UP.

Amidst all the turmoil of present day life, with wars and rumors of wars on every hand, statesmen and diplomats, scholars and students, are vainly striving for a solution that will lead the world to peace and good will.

Getting married is for most persons not a very difficult task. All in all, it is usually much harder to avoid matrimony. Almost it seems as if the whole world were in a conspiracy to pair off the population.

HYMN BEFORE BIRTH

By JOHN G. NEIHARDT.

Soon shall you come as the dawn from the dumb abyss of night,
Traveller birthward, Hastener earthward out of the gloom!
Soon shall you rest on a soft white breast from the measureless mid-world flight;

Waken in fear at the miracle, light, in the pain-hushed room.
Lovingly fondled, fearfully guarded by hands that are tender,
Ere you can see as a dream that in the swirl of the morrow;
Oh, but the vast, immemorial past of ineffable splendor,
Forfeited soon in the painful surrender to Sense and to Sorrow!

The "Hymn Before Birth" was written in a metre that came to Neihardt in his sleep. One morning about daylight, he awoke remarking to his wife, "A fellow was just now reading me a perfectly ripping thing."

Out of Today's Sermons
"Why Some Men Fail in Worship" is the subject of Rev. L. A. Brumbaugh's sermon to be delivered this morning in the South Side Christian church.

Gracious alive! It's way past midnight, and they are still dancing in the big hall across the street.

No, I wouldn't for the world have us slip back to those old days and those old ways.

There is the noise of an auto with those old ways, on every hand, turning in at the curb across the street.

Under the Student Lamp

By WILL M. MAUPIN.

It is said that when one treads upon the threshold of the "lean and slippered pantaloon" age, one's mind involuntarily turns back to the yesterday. Whether or not it is true, my mind goes back tonight as there comes through the window of my den the jazz music of an orchestra in the hall just across the street.

Far be it from me to say that the boys and girls of today are worse than the boys and girls of my younger days.

Dances were not quite so common in those days. As a matter of fact, dancing was rather frowned upon, and those of us who did indulge occasionally were considered as being headed along the road of self-destruction.

Among other differences between the dances of yesterday and today is the fact that one had to have some brains to learn those old dances.

There is the noise of an auto with those old ways, on every hand, turning in at the curb across the street.

No, I wouldn't for the world have us slip back to those old days and those old ways.

There is the noise of an auto with those old ways, on every hand, turning in at the curb across the street.

AROUND NEBRASKA

It is well to remember that all of the foolish voters are not in one party.—Hastings Tribune.

You are not thoroughly posted on the geography of Nebraska, if you do not know where the Minnechadusa river is located.

A gasoline station on every corner may not be one's idea of civic beauty, but it beats a saloon.—Norfolk News.

State bankers in Nebraska contend that passage of the proposed new banking law will effect a large saving to the guaranty fund and greatly reduce expenses in conducting receiverships.—Keareney Hub.

State Senator Larkin of Omaha has introduced a bill which provides that persons who have been convicted of driving automobiles while under the influence of liquor shall be prohibited from driving again for six months and that such automobiles shall be impounded.

Governor Bryan campaigned on an economy platform and promised if elected to slash right and left, but when the legislature attempts to reduce the salaries of the code commissioners Governor Bryan vetoed the bill.

State Senator Larkin of Omaha has introduced a bill which provides that persons who have been convicted of driving automobiles while under the influence of liquor shall be prohibited from driving again for six months and that such automobiles shall be impounded.

State Senator Larkin of Omaha has introduced a bill which provides that persons who have been convicted of driving automobiles while under the influence of liquor shall be prohibited from driving again for six months and that such automobiles shall be impounded.

State Senator Larkin of Omaha has introduced a bill which provides that persons who have been convicted of driving automobiles while under the influence of liquor shall be prohibited from driving again for six months and that such automobiles shall be impounded.

NET AVERAGE CIRCULATION

for JANUARY, 1923, of THE OMAHA BEE
Daily 71,555
Sunday 78,845
B. BREWER, General Mgr.
VERN A. BRIDGE, Cir. Mgr.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 3d day of February, 1923.
W. H. QUINN, Notary Public

Dr. Burhorn's Chiropractic Health Service
My business is to get sick people well. I do not claim to be a miracle worker, but some results I have obtained by Chiropractic Adjustments during the last eight years in Omaha, has almost seemed to have been miracles.

Special Prices!! for Limited Time
SAVE HALF on your dental work NOW—
Free Examination
Look at These Prices—Compare!!

Regular $10.00 Bridgework (what others charge $15.00)	$20.00 Plate for	$10.00
and $20.00 for)	$30.00 Plate for	$15.00
per tooth	$40.00 Plate for	$20.00
$10.00 Crowns	$50.00 Plate for	$25.00
$2.00 and $3.00 fillings	$100.00 Gold Plate for	$70.00
Gold Inlays as low as

Bring This Ad With You—All Work Fully Guaranteed

McKenney Dentists

1324 Farnam St. Jackson 2812
A Wonderful Line of Grand Pianos
Mason & Hamlin
Kranich & Bach
Sohmer
Vose & Sons
Kimball
Brambach Baby Grand
Cable-Nelson
Prices Ranging From $635 and Up
Terms 24 Monthly Payments
Apollo Grand Reproducing Instrument for particular people.
Upright Players from $365.00 and up.
No Other Stock Covers the Range of Quality, Price and Terms
As You Will Find Them at Our Warehouses.
The decorators are still at work, over 40 pianos still in the way and must be closed out.
A Steiny Grand (used) at one-half the price of a new one.
A Knabe Upright in fine shape, $150.00.
A second-hand Chickering Piano Upright for $65.00.
$5.00 Down—$5.00 per Month.
It Pays to Look Up Our Exceptional Bargains.

COUPON
Out-of-Town Buyers
Name