

French Collect Fine on Bochum

Swoop Down on Rathous and Take 35,000,000 Marks Penalty for Violence.

Essen, March 2.—The town of Bochum has been fined 35,000,000 marks because two news dealers were beaten by Germans for selling French newspapers.

The town of Kettwig, near Essen, where military wires were cut, has been fined 1,000,000 marks.

These fines are in accordance with an order by General De Goutte, French commander, that cities and towns throughout the Ruhr valley shall be held responsible for sabotage or other acts of disorder designed to hinder the French and Belgian armies of occupation.

German officials of such towns will be liable to arrest and trial by court-martial in serious cases.

The Bochum fine was collected quickly. French troops swooped down upon the Rathaus, took the amount and left.

In Dusseldorf, Herr Wenzel, assistant director of posts and telegraphs, has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment. He is charged with being implicated with sabotage on the military telephone apparatus.

It is reported that Lord Mayor Harvestein of Oberhausen and Vice Lord Mayor Schaefer of Essen, who were recently given prison sentences of two years, have been jailed successively at Dusseldorf and Mayence.

Jazz Artists Enliven Dinner of American University Union in London—Heir to Throne Slips Into "Yankee Slang" During Address—Harvey Pays Tribute to "White Prince."

London, March 2.—(Special.)—The prince of Wales slipped into "Yankee slang" last night, to the great pleasure of 300 American former college students at the dinner of the American University union. Speaking of the double benefits of a university education and overseas experiences, he said:

"Perhaps I have been more lucky than most of you. I think perhaps I can put one over on many of you by asking how many of you have visited your own territory of Honolulu and the Philippines as I have."

Ambassador Harvey paid tribute to him as the "white prince." Lady Astor said: "The prince of Wales is one of the best Americans I have ever met. He knows when we talk what we mean. There is no greater link between America and England than his royal highness, in fact no greater link between all countries."

Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Columbia men gave their college cheers for the prince and Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams college, led 15 yells for Nancy.

Nebraska Band Plays Jazz. The Nebraska university jazz band enlivened the gathering. Among those who occupied the prince's table were the vice chancellors of London and Oxford universities, Dr. Garfield, George E. Maclean, former chancellor of Nebraska university, and Lawrence L. Tweedy of Princeton, chairman.

The prince of Wales in responding to the toast to his health proposed by Ambassador Harvey, said he came from Wednesday's Pilgrims' dinner feeling pleased that he had accepted the invitation to the dinner last night.

"An old proverb says: 'Once you start eating, you soon get hungry.' "That," added the prince, "is just what happened to me. Having spent one evening in the good company of your countrymen and mine, I felt I wanted another like it. I felt—and I believe you will agree with me—that when we get together like this we bring out all each other's many good points and we come out better Anglo-Saxons than we went in."

They were married last October and have been living in Desplains until the wife could endure her "infant-husband" no longer.

Palace of Former Kaiser Housing Armenian Orphans. New York, March 2.—Reports from Berlin from former Emperor Wilhelm and his wife, the Princess Hermine, are contemplating a move from Doorn to Wilhelm's former summer palace, Castle Achilleion, on the Island of Corfu, Greece, has led Charles V. Vickrey, general secretary of the near east relief, to observe that they have a big surprise in store for them.

For Castle Achilleion, Mr. Vickrey said, now houses 1,600 Armenian war orphans brought from Asia Minor by the relief organization and quartered in the palace with the permission of the Greek government. "The palace was requisitioned by the Greek government during the war," Mr. Vickrey said, "and has been turned over to the near east relief along with other buildings to help shelter the hundreds of thousands of homeless refugees. I do not think the Greek authorities have any intention of returning it to the former kaiser or his family."

The native ex-soldiers, General Wood said, were becoming president and councilors of the municipal districts, adding:

"I find them to have been trained by the army as blacksmiths, plumbers, telephone operators, stenographers, shoemakers, bakers, carpenters, painters, concrete mixers, etc., which, of itself, is sufficient showing of what the army is quietly doing toward practical progress in the islands."
