Ormond Beach, Fla., March 6.—President and Mrs. Harding arrived at Ormond by train at noon today. They were met by Mr. and Mrs. Edward McLean of Washington and immediately boarded the houseboat Pioneer which Mr. McLean has chartered for his guests in the presidential party.

Luncheon was immediately served on board the boat and the president planned an hour on the golf links later in the afternoon.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 6.—The presidential special conveying President and Mrs. Harding and party to Ormond, stopped here at 10 o'clock today to leave Secretary and Mrs. Weeks in the city and to allow Charles G. Dawes to board the train.

Mrs. Harding appeared on the rear platform for the first time during the trip and was greeted by genuine Florida sunshine and the genial humor of ex-Senator Chauncey M. Depew. Secretary and Mrs. Weeks will remain here until the return of the presidential party to St. Augustine on March 13 or 20.

Teamster Slayer Is Held to Court

Judge Sets Aside Decree Granted Wife and Takes Custody of Child.

Russell Rector, teamster, 38, was bound over to district court without bail on a charge of first degree murder in municipal court yesterday in connection with the slaying Sunday night of his former wife's husband, Charles Foley, at Foley's home, 1808 Grace street.

He did not contest the proceedings. In fact, his counsel requested that the case be transferred to district court.

Rector's appearance in police court followed recommendation by a coroner's jury Monday afternoon that he be held in connection with the crime. He did not appear on the stand.

Decree Set Aside. While the coroner's inquest was in progress District Judge Day was setting aside the divorce decree granted to Mrs. Ellen Rector last Friday, complicating still further her marriage to Foley, the victim of Rector's bullet, in Council Bluffs February 15.

Judge Day also took from Mrs. Rector custody of her daughter, Agnes, 8, and sent the child to Riverview home. County Attorney Beal said yesterday he is undecided whether to file charges against L. S. Hitchcock, life insurance salesman, 4224 Burgette street, who drove Rector to Foley's home the night of the shooting.

Says Rector Made Threat. Mrs. B. Gerrin, owner of the rooming house, where Foley lived, in a statement to the county attorney yesterday, said Rector told her he came to the house to shoot Foley. She also said Rector kicked Foley after he shot him.

Several of Rector's friends called at the jail yesterday to bring him tobacco and snuff.

"Omaha Demands The Best"

—Says REV. E. H. JENKS

We Have the Wealth, the Culture and the Spirit to Provide Here as Good Facilities for Cultural Training as Anywhere in This Broad Land. Our Metropolitan City Demands the Best.

"The past successes of Brownell Hall and its enlargement program brings from me this voluntary endorsement. It is with hearty good wishes that I commend to the people of Omaha the present campaign for building funds.

WILL KEEP $93,000 FUND TO AID NEEDY—

The continuation of Brownell Hall, only made possible by the new building program, will keep in Omaha a scholarship fund of $93,000. The interest of this money has been used in aiding needy and deserving girls to attend Brownell Hall. During the sixty-two years of active life of the school many graduates—poor girls—left the school, their education paid for by the interest on the $93,000 fund.

"We hope to increase the endowment fund greatly during the coming years so more girls can be helped," said Bishop E. V. Shayler, president of the Board.

"The day is past when we of the middle west should feel that we must send our daughters away for that cultural training we desire them to have. We have advanced from those pioneer days. They are and ought to be just pleasant memories."

BENEFITS TO OMAHA ARE THREE-FOLD—

- 1. SPIRITUAL—Brownell Hall is a great builder of character. From all over the middle-west girls will come to Omaha to receive a good, wholesome, Christian education.
- 2. EDUCATIONAL—The New Brownell Hall will place in Omaha another great educational institution, which will be the great girls' school of the middle west.
- 3. ECONOMICAL—Hundreds of girls from various parts of the west will be attracted here by the New Brownell Hall. The East wants our girls because the East likes our money. It is estimated these girls will spend $100,000 besides the vast amounts which will be spent for merchandise to be "sent home" and by families who will move here because of the educational advantages.

"Every Inch a Man"

It is fortunate for the business world, as well as for the race generally, that fine, uplifting sentiment—something far apart from the mere coining of dollars—touches, deeply and habitually, the very heart of commercial institutions. We have an instance of this in the fact that the great business concerns with which the late Arthur Crittenden Smith was intimately associated will be closed Wednesday, the day of the funeral. Moreover, the sentiment reflected in this tribute is revealed in every business establishment in Omaha. Arthur C. Smith needs no eulogy. He was every inch a man. He was a fine type of the genuine business man and the successful citizen. He was genuine as a merchant in that he was honest, considerate and capable. He was successful as a citizen in that he never lost opportunity to serve the city in which he lived or to help humanity which he loved. In common with the whole of Omaha's business world, we claim a part in the recognition of the great service ever rendered by Arthur C. Smith. On Wednesday, the flags over The Brandeis Store will be at half mast and this will be the symbol of appreciation and regret on our part as keen and sincere as is the universal feeling in Omaha today.
