

Convict Shoots 5 Beside Sickbed

Mother, Sister and Brother of Tennessee Secretary of State Are Victims.

Spencer, Tenn., March 8.—Posses from both this and White county are searching the banks of the Calf Killer river near Sparta for Lewis Douglas, negro paroled convict, who early today attempted to kill the Haston family at their home at Cummingsville, three miles from here.

The wounded included: Sam Haston, brother of Ernest N. Haston, Tennessee's secretary of state, Mrs. George Haston, sr., his mother, Mrs. B. D. Shapero, a sister; Tullus Trogen, a boy living on the place, and another person, also living on the place, but whose name is not known here.

Members of the Haston family were sitting at the bedside of Mrs. Sam Haston, who was critically ill, when some one went to the corn crib and is said to have found Douglas there. He was ordered away and left. Later, however, Douglas returned and when near the house called out. Members of the family went to the door, and Douglas, who had armed himself with a shotgun began firing. It is reported.

Sam Haston was shot in the thigh. The wound is regarded as serious. Mrs. George Haston was shot in the head. The Trogen boy's eye was wounded. Mrs. Shapero was shot in both hands and in the arm as she attempted to close the door. The injuries of the other persons are not known here.

Following the shooting the negro escaped, and was heard of later near Sparta, in White county. He is reported surrounded in a bend of the Calf Killer river near Sparta. The injuries of the wounded were dressed by physicians who came from Sparta, and just as the broken leg of Sam Haston was set his wife died. She had remained unconscious throughout the shooting.

Secretary of State Ernest Haston in Nashville was notified by wire and started for the scene with blood hounds.

Douglas was sent to state prison from Shelby county in 1915 for arson, his conviction carrying a term of five to 21 years. Sympathy excited for him is said to have moved members of the Haston family to secure his release on parole to them.

Death Penalty to Be Asked for Fatal Holdup Suspects

The death penalty will be asked by County Attorney Beal in the murder trial of Sol Wesley and LeRoy Mauldon, both charged with the murder of William M. Dearson, farmer, in a grocery store January 28.

Beal will prosecute the case himself and stated he has confessions from the two men that they went into the grocery store of Wrenia Grogan, at 2836 Seward street, for the sole purpose of a holdup.

Dearson attempted to grab the revolver of one holdup and was shot in the scuffle which followed.

Greek Who Went Home Found Peck of Trouble

Athens, O., March 8.—Arthur Foffis, Greek candy maker, cleaned up a small fortune and left for Athens, Greece, his native city, in 1912 for a visit. He was inducted into the army and went through so many wars he cannot remember all of them, although he does know his money is all gone. He was a naturalized American citizen.

Murderess Tries to Slay Herself

Mrs. Paulette Saludes Attempts Suicide After Convicted of Slaying Broker.

New York, March 8.—Attendants at the Tombs were watching carefully today to prevent Mrs. Paulette Saludes, the little French woman, convicted yesterday by a jury of the murder of Oscar Martelliere, from cheating justice.

Mrs. Paulette Saludes.

Mrs. Saludes, who killed an insurance broker in his office October 10, was in a serious condition from swallowing poison when dawn broke upon her first day as a convict. Three times after the jury foreman had spoken yesterday she made attempts to take her own life.

Unless her attorney, James A. Turley, succeeds in having the conviction set aside or in an appeal for a new trial and obtains a stay of sentence,

Balfour Resents Harvey's Attack

Declares Note on Interrelated Debts Did Not Deserve Criticism.

London, March 8.—(AP)—Speaking in the house of lords today, the Earl of Balfour, secretary for foreign affairs in the cabinet of former Premier Lloyd George, declared that his circular note to the allies on the subject of interrelated debts did not deserve the strictures passed upon it by American Ambassador Harvey in his recent speech here.

In concluding his explanation, the former secretary said that, from a strictly commercial viewpoint Ambassador Harvey's statements might be correct, but that "I for one take less of a commercial view of the deal."

Valentino Will Not Risk Prestige in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, March 6.—Rodolph Valentino, motion picture actor, now dancing in the east with Winifred Hudnut, his bride, will not risk his "prestige" by dancing in Los Angeles, according to a telegram received from him here last night.

Bankruptcy Action Filed Against Missing Buyer

Pittsburgh, March 8.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in federal court against Mortimer E. Lautman, oriental buyer for a Pittsburgh department store, who mysteriously disappeared in New York city several weeks ago. The action was taken by counsel for Solomon Michaels of New York, who claims that he entrusted Lautman with $20,000 for the purpose of buying stock in the Kaufmann Department Stores, Inc., of Pittsburgh. The bankruptcy petition charges that Lautman removed or concealed personal property to the value of $19,000 with intent to defraud his creditors.

Chicago Police Swoop Down on Hotels in Loop District

Chicago, March 8.—Police turned their attention to loop hotels in their effort to stamp out vice. Shortly before midnight they swooped down on De Jonghe's hotel. Three couples were taken from the hotel by the raiders. The manager and clerk were arrested.

Previously the police department had stationed men in some of the best known hotels in the loop. These men took their stations in front of the desks in the lobbies. Protests of the hotel managers were powerless in obtaining their removal.

Anderson Denies Scribes Hired to Betray Papers

New York, March 8.—William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of New York, whose expenditure of $24,700 is under investigation by the district attorney's office, late yesterday issued a statement in which he denied that any of the money went to newspaper men to betray their papers. Acting District Attorney Pecora last Monday quoted Mr. Anderson as saying public knowledge of confidential informants would have embarrassed "whose personal sympathies were with us, working for the papers and concerns that were against us."

Linoleum Floors

In most homes there are generally several rooms that can be successfully treated with linoleum. It is obvious that a seamless or nearly seamless floor that does not tire the feet, that is bright and cheerful and easily cleaned, is desirable in the kitchen and bathroom, and nowadays, because suitable patterns are offered for sale, bedrooms, halls, ways, sunrooms and even living and dining rooms can be made more attractive, more cozy and certainly easier to care for by the use of good linoleum. Good workmanship in laying linoleum is a very important feature and one that Orchard & Wilhelm Co. are careful to take care of.
