

Johnson Raps Harding's World Tribunal Plan California Senator Says Entry of United States False Step Toward League Membership.

New York, March 9.—(AP)—President Harding's proposal that the United States accept membership in the permanent court of international justice was assailed here last night by Senator Johnson, republican of California, a leader of the senate irreconcilables, as a first "false step" toward membership in the league of nations.

Speaking before the Bronx Board of Trade, the California senator declared the demand for American participation in European affairs was based on no logical foundation, but emanated from a "befogged international intellectuality or a hysterical imagination."

"Still the cry continues, the propaganda persists, for our entry into Europe," said Senator Johnson. "It takes now one form and then a totally different one, and has run the gamut of possible international organizations. It advocates appeal in turn with equal fervor to our altruism and our cupidity."

Beautiful Word Picture. "The demand that America join the league of nations is succeeded by the beautiful word picture of an economic conference and the great part the moral weight of the United States might play in a topsy-turvy world. And now, again our old leaguers, wary from defeats, in dulcet tones invite us to join the international court."

"An international court, which substitutes the rule of law for that of power and the domination of justice for armed might, has a sonorous and an appealing sound. To argue that justice courts determine issues between individuals at once strikes a sympathetic chord."

"But what is not said and what is not understood is that the so-called international court is no court at all as a court is commonly understood. It is little more than what exists with our arbitration treaties. It does not function like the ordinary courts with which we are familiar. It cannot hale before it recalcitrant countries, nor can it, of itself, assume jurisdiction of disputes between nations."

Arbitral Tribunal. "It is a mere arbitral tribunal, to which nations may submit disputes if they see fit, and only those questions which the parties themselves agree to submit can be heard at all. Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan have refused to submit to any compulsory jurisdiction, reserving to themselves to decide when and whether any controversy in which they are interested shall come before the international tribunal."

"Thus the much heralded court, which is to prevent war in the future, is denied in its inception by the great nations of the earth the right or the power to act upon any questions which may be the breeders of war, without the consent of these nations themselves."

"It is proposed that we do exactly as Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan have done, decline to submit to the jurisdiction of the court unless we wish to submit to it. In a controversy with one of the powerful nations of the earth, without that nation's consent, even if we desire it, the international court could not act."

The grandiloquent statements, therefore, made to our people that we are establishing the rule of law, as opposed to the rule of power, substituting the domination of justice under law for armed might, eliminating the causes of war, are the pardonable phrases, the glittering generalities with which we illuminate every reference to our international relations."

"The so-called international court is a part of the league of nations, created by the league. Entering the court, which some may believe to be of little consequence, is nevertheless the first false step. There is no illusion about what it means among the advocates of the league. They understand full well, and their press boasts the fact, that it is the entering wedge, the first movement, which ultimately is to lead to full membership in the league of nations."
