

The Most Complete Service to Be Had to Serve the Readers of The Omaha Bee

NEWS—what is happening and what is going to happen—comprises the backbone of every newspaper. Editorials may inspire. Features may entertain. But, at bottom, a newspaper is what its name implies—a purveyor of news. Finding and publishing the news is at once its duty and its privilege. Upon the superiority of its service in this respect rests, in the final analysis, its claim to public favor.

THE OMAHA BEE, fully cognizant of this prime function of newspaper being, has ever been alert to extend the scope of its news-gathering activity. It has recognized that, more and more as the days go by, the whole world is its field. Statesmen may talk of isolation, but the newspaper can know nothing of that. Its ear must be acutely sensitive to the thought and deed of men of every nation, that the readers in its own community may know what today brings and what tomorrow portends.

TOMORROW, therefore, the Bee begins a new telegraphic news service—The International News by day and Universal Service by night. By leased wires direct to The Bee office, countless correspondents all over America and in other continents will send in the news of their respective territories—political, sports, business, women's. This, in addition to the 24-hour service of The Associated Press, will give The Bee a service unequalled by that of any Nebraska paper.

Foster Will Go on Trial on Monday

Judge Overrules Motion for Change of Venue in Case of Communist Leader Arrested in Michigan.

Rose Stokes Surrenders

St. Joseph, Mich., March 10.—(AP)—William Z. Foster, alleged leader in the communist party—the underground representative in America of the third international of Moscow, will go on trial in circuit court here Monday charged with violating the Michigan law against criminal syndicalism.

Judge Charles White overruled a motion for a change of venue, made by Frank P. Walsh of New York, attorney for Foster and others arrested, after Michigan and federal authorities raided a convention of the communist party held in the lonely sand dune country, 29 miles south of St. Joseph, on August 22.

The list of defendants was increased to 32 today when 10 men and women, led by Rose Pastor Stokes, whose sentence of 10 years in Leavenworth for obstructing the draft was commuted by President Wilson, walked into court and surrendered. The 10 are among 50 persons who are alleged to have attended the convention, but who had never been arrested, although the warrants were issued for them last September.

Organizer of Early Omaha Church Dies

Dr. T. K. Hunter, Pioneer Omaha Minister, Dies

Pastor Who Helped Found Dundee Presbyterian Church Succumbs at Kimball, Neb.

Dr. Thomas K. Hunter, 69, who helped found Dundee Presbyterian church, Fifth street and Underwood avenue, died Friday at Kimball, Neb.

Burial will be at Nebraska City, but services will be held here at 10:30 Tuesday morning from the Burket chapel, 2495 Farnam street.

Dundee was so sparsely settled when Dr. Hunter began religious work there that Sunday school classes were convened in private dwellings. Interest grew and a frame building later was purchased and the church established.

Dr. Hunter was moderator last year of the Presbyterian synod of Nebraska. For several years he had been pastor of a Kimball church. He preached in it last Sunday. That night he became fatally ill.

10 Nabbed in Raid on Dice Game

Vice Squad Breaks Down Doors to North Eighteenth Den Where Men Are Caught Gambling.

Council Acts on Card Ban

Ten men were locked in the city jail Saturday afternoon as a result of the latest move on the part of the police in the war that they have declared upon gambling in Omaha.

The police vice squad, headed by Sergt. Frank Williams, suddenly descended on a house at 720 North Eighteenth street after they had watched men coming and going from the place for more than one hour.

One officer went to the front door and another to the rear while other officers took stations at windows. At a signal from Sergeant Williams the raiders broke into the place simultaneously.

W. Haskins, charged with being proprietor of the place was taking care of the "box" at one end of the table while the other nine men, charged with being inmates of a gambling house, were engaged in a dice game when the officers entered.

Liquor is found.

A small amount of cash, one pair of dice, 83 bottles of beer and a small quantity of whisky were seized. Haskins is charged with keeping a gambling house and with illegally possessing intoxicating liquor.

City Commissioner John Hopkins stated Saturday that he will offer to the city council next Tuesday morning a resolution that the police department discontinue interference with card games in pool halls, soft drink parlors and saloons.

"My courts," explained Commissioner Hopkins, "it would be understood that the police shall not interfere unless there is definite evidence of gambling. But the mere fact that persons are playing cards is not of itself evidence of gambling. I don't know what support my resolution will receive, but it may open up a lively discussion anyway."

"Up to Dunn."

Asked if he would support the resolution, Mayor Duhman said: "Police Commissioner Dunn is the person who should outline what the police should do. Another commissioner should not attempt to interfere with the administration of the police department. Commissioner Dunn is enforcing the laws."

The mayor referred to an instance which occurred a few years ago, when a city commissioner insisted on telling how the police department should be run, whereupon the police department was handed over to that commissioner.

"Why, Dan Butler may be made police commissioner," the mayor added. "Stranger things than that have happened here in the city hall."

"Poor Men's Clubs."

"I think I expressed myself clearly on the card table subject during my council meeting last Tuesday morning," said Commissioner Butler. "I know that if I were police commissioner there would be some things done that are not being done now. It would be time enough when I am police commissioner to state how I would conduct the police department."

The subject of card tables and "petty larceny" games has taken the city hall by the ears.

Commissioner Butler insists that the soft drink parlors and pool halls are poor men's clubs. Mr. Butler conferred yesterday with Sheriff Endres.

California Volcano Erupting Smoke Clouds

Westwood, Cal., March 10.—Mount Lassen is erupting the heaviest volume of smoke and steam seen from its crater in seven years, according to observers here. The mountain began steaming shortly before noon, followed by an immense outpouring of smoke, apparently from the east of the place where the last eruption took place.

San Francisco, March 10.—Lassen Peak, the only active volcano in the continental United States exclusive of Alaska is in the extreme northern part of California. The first eruption was noted May 30, 1914, when a crater 40 by 105 feet was made. More than 100 eruptions took place in 1914 and 1915, and the volcano has belched smoke many times since. On May 21, 1915, a flood of mud from the peak wrecked houses in Hat Creek valley, near its base.

Creditors Storm Bank Doors After Owners Disappear

Brothers Leave Scores of Italians Holding Sack—Institution Not Authorized Under State Laws.

New York, March 10.—The three Tisho brothers, who conduct a bank and steamship agency on Mott street, in the heart of New York's "Little Italy," disappeared mysteriously today. Immediately a crowd of depositors gathered, demanding their savings, which were reported to total $500,000 to $2,000,000.

Police took charge of the bank and its affairs, pending the result of their search for the missing brothers. After a search of apartments over the bank, occupied by the brothers, officers reported that clothing was gone and that photographs had been removed from their frames.

While the police were checking up at the passport bureau the Italian-American league reported that it had found Francesco Tisho's name on the passenger list of the liner Taorikina, which sailed Friday.

Inquiry by the police indicated that the bank depositors numbered 40,000.

Violating State Laws.

George B. McLaughlin, state bank superintendent, stated that the Tishos were not licensed private bank owners. If they had been accepting deposits they were violating the state penal laws, he said.

Vincenzo Tisho was head of the bank, which was known as Vincenzo Tisho and brothers. Associated with him were Vito and Francesco.

Vincenzo was recognized as a man of position in "Little Italy," was a merchant, a banker, and a small manufacturer and had risen, 15 years ago, to the honored post of banker, in whom his neighbors had implicit confidence.

It was a curious situation at the bank, which was known as Vincenzo Tisho and brothers.

There was no doubt that Vincenzo had endeared himself to his fellow countrymen. Freely he had contributed for fireworks at the fiestas. Day and night he had donated to hundreds of pushcart peddlers and small merchants who wished to consult him about things financial. But there were hundreds assembled at the bank who would not be denied. They stormed the front of that tiny office, only to be turned back by the police.

One old woman, wrapped in a shawl of many colors, wailed pitifully. Her life's savings—$4,000—all gone—she knew it.

A middle-aged depositor of flashing eyes, alternately sullen and infuriated, declared more than $10,000 of his had gone over that counter.

Soon the police had the names of a dozen depositors who said they had entrusted a total of more than $50,000 to Vincenzo.

Full Speed Ahead

Financial Aid to Farmers Assured

Help Authorized by Rural Credits Legislation to Be Available in Spring.

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—The federal farm loan board, at the conclusion of a three-day conference with the federal land bank presidents, gave assurance that farmers of the country will have the benefit of the government's financial aid, authorized in the recently enacted rural credits legislation, by the time the spring planting begins. While it appeared that not all of the new credit machinery would be in operation at the time indicated, it was declared that the government-financed intermediate credit banks would be ready to receive applications for and to make loans in about two weeks.

The land bank heads, together with the loan board, spent part of the day discussing with members of congress ways and means of getting all federal agencies having to do with farm credit into closer co-operation. The bank officials also called on Secretary Wallace and plan to see Secretary Mellon and the war finance corporation directors early next week.

It was indicated that an early announcement might be made by the farm loan board regarding the methods it will employ in extending to the farmers the aid contemplated in the new laws. It was said some "rough places" might have to be smoothed out by legislation.

Commissioner Lobdell of the farm loan board said the board and the land banks, which are charged directly with the administration of the new intermediate credit banks, were bending every effort to put the necessary machinery into operation.

House Members of Kansas Refuse to Be Spanked

Message From Governor Criticizing Legislature "Tabled" —Additional Expense Appropriation Scored.

Topeka, Kan., March 10.—Action said to be unprecedented in the history of Kansas legislatures was taken today by the lower house when it "tabled" a message from Governor J. M. Davis, Republican leader, referring to the message as "demonstrating merely the desire on the part of the governor to administer an official spanking," and says that the house declined to be spanked.

This action raised the question of whether the message should be included in the official record of the house. If necessary to reach a conclusion on this issue, the question will be put formally before the house.

Immediately following the action taken by the house, Governor Davis said that he would make every effort to have his message placed in the house official record and that Democratic Floor Leader Field was preparing to present a protest against excluding it from the record.

The governor devoted most of his message to a review of the economic situation as he sees it, and the need of return of prosperity to the farmer. He criticized the legislature for "frivolous discussion" and took a direct rap at the two houses for the additional $75 expense money per member appropriated in a bill passed Friday by each house. The legislature per diem pay stopped March 1.

"Do you not think it would be fitting to set a record in making laws in the interest and for the benefit of the people of the state rather than in setting a record for appropriating money for yourselves for postage and expenses that could hardly be said to be warranted by the terms of the constitution, which fixes your compensation," the executive message asked.

Ring Disappears at Ladies' Aid Meet

Mrs. E. S. Longfellow Tells Police She Doesn't Want Investigation of Theft.

Mrs. E. S. Longfellow, 1015 West 25th street, declined Saturday morning to permit Detectives William Davis and Frank Killian to investigate a diamond ring that disappeared while she was entertaining members of the "Ladies' Aid society."

It lay on a dresser while she entertained the church society last Saturday afternoon.

When all except three guests were gone she discovered it was missing.

Reported to Police.

Mrs. Longfellow promptly dropped the matter, but it was reported to police yesterday by an insurance company to which claim had been made by the Longfellow.

"I suspect no one," Mrs. Longfellow said. "I want no investigation. The Ladies' Aid need not know anything about it. A window was open and a sneak thief probably reached through and got it. I didn't want police aid—I implore you to forget all about it."

She declined to name the church of which she is a member, but a friend said she is enrolled in McCabe Methodist church, Forty-first and Farnam streets.

Valued at $60.

The ring was valued at $60. It was done oddly in gold, supporting two very small diamonds surrounded by pearls.

"My husband gave it to me for a Christmas present," Mrs. Longfellow said, "and it is not of consequence. Were it my engagement ring I would fight to the last ditch for its recovery, but it's not."

Detectives' pleas for permission to work on the case to lift even suspicion from all except the thief, were denied by Mrs. Longfellow.

Navy Will Develop New Bases

Improvement Within Definite Period Decided Upon as Part of National Defense Program.

Put Fleet on 5-5-3 Ratio

Washington, March 10.—Development within a definite period, of four continental and two "advanced" fleet bases has been decided upon by the Navy department as an integral element of the national naval defense program.

The bases, selected by a special board on shore establishments, headed by Rear Admiral Rodman, will be given a certain "priority" development, which has been determined after a study of every strategic consideration. Under this schedule, they will be developed in the following order:

San Francisco—A base capable of "serving the entire fleet in all respects."

Puget Sound—A base equal to that at San Francisco and to include existing naval stations of that section.

To Consolidate Stations.

The New York-Narragansett Bay Base—An all-fleet base to include stations now located in New York harbor, Long Island, sound and Narragansett bay, with construction of a channel through Hell Gate to permit ready passage of the largest vessels from the sound to New York harbor.

Chesapeake Bay—An all-fleet base to include existing stations on the lower bay.

The existing bases are the Panama canal zone and the Hawaiian islands, the board having evinced, from its recommendations, "all shore stations insofar as possible where, under the limitation of armament treaty, the status quo must be maintained." Limitation of specific types of ships under that treaty has been held by naval experts to necessitate certain modifications in the general strategic plan of the United States and to require a redrawing of plans for their development.

To Build Program.

Apparent decision of some foreign governments to press forward construction of the fast, light ships which were not limited under the treaty is said to have directed attention to the importance of completing the program for the canal and Hawaiian defenses in order to "balance" the scale.

Detailed plans and estimates of the cost for each base will be presented to the next congress along with recommendations for a building program designed to bring the navy up to its standard under the 5-5-3 ratio.

While completion of the fleet bases will be made the first consideration of the Navy department, it was said officially that preliminary work would be undertaken at the same time upon plans for the development of subsidiary shore stations. These include the various yard, submarine and destroyer stations, naval air stations for coast patrol-duty, training stations and ammunition ordnance and fuel depots.

Band Surrenders

Besides Rose Stokes the 19 who surrendered included:

Robert Minor, New York cartoonist and writer, son of a Texas farmer, who was deported from Texas after the revolution.

Rebecca Saccaro, prominent in radical circles in New York.

Max Bedacht of Cleveland and San Francisco, who was convicted in the Illinois case but never surrendered to serve his sentence.

Jay Lovestone, New York, who says he was secretary of the convention held in Michigan.

Ella Bloor, San Francisco; John Ballan, W. Winston, and Gustav A. Shulenberg, of New York.

Lovestone and Winston each have $1,000 cash bond and the others were released on their own recognizance until Monday.

Test of Laws.

The trial of William Foster which came into prominence in 1915 as the leader of the unsuccessful nationwide steel strike is expected to attract national-wide attention as the first test in the midwest of the new thing illegal was done at that convention it was suggested, encouraged and carried out by the government itself through spies and agents planted by the Department of Justice and the W. J. Burns Detective agency in the communist ranks government spies were present at the meeting and took an active part in it, the indictment says.

Francis Morrow, a Department of Justice agent, is to be a witness for the state.

Belgian Police Raid Communists' Homes

Brussels, March 10.—(AP)—A more important turn was given to the police investigation of the Belgian communist plot today when 50 more raids were made on communist headquarters and homes in various cities throughout the country.

The authorities announce that they expect to substantiate by the evidence now being collected, their theory that the Belgian communists were pledged to execute secret resolutions adopted at the last communist congress for destruction of the present form of government.

The investigation is being made in co-operation with the French government and is an indirect result of the communist raids in Paris recently in which a number of persons were arrested on charges of agitating against the Franco-Belgian occupation of the Ruhr.

Work Approves National Park Improvement Program

Washington, March 10.—Development work in the Zion National park, Utah, will be started as soon as climatic conditions permit, under a program approved by Secretary Work. Existing roads and trails will be widened and traverse trails from east to west constructed in order that tourists may have easy access to the rim of the Grand canyon which is the park's principal feature.

The Union Pacific railroad has announced its intention, Secretary Work said, to begin construction at once upon a 100-room hotel in the park, to cost between $150,000 and $200,000.
