

Wife Grieves Over Death of Man Who Is at Her Bedside

Mrs. John N. Nelson Suffers Loss of Memory and Believes Husband Is Dead.

Mrs. John N. Nelson, 28, 1904 South Thirty-sixth street, is mourning the death of her husband, who unknown to her, sits at her bedside and hopes for the return of her memory which, he believes, lapsed through overwork in church matters.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were walking together at Thirty-ninth and Q streets. The husband excused himself to engage in conversation with a friend. When he returned to where he left his wife, she had vanished. His search of the neighborhood was in vain.

Police were notified and shortly after 10:30 Sunday night Mrs. Nelson was taken to her home by Mrs. Ella Gibbons, who had escorted her from the South Side police station.

Physicians are striving to restore her memory. A butler at the Nelson residence said that it is thought Mrs. Nelson's mind would recover after she awakens from the artificial sleep into which she has been plunged by medical science.

She had overlooked the date for entertaining women of the Home Missionary society Friday and put her energies in household duties, according to Mr. Nelson. Just before the meeting she suffered a near collapse.

Denby Will Ask Congress to Patch Up Navy Program

Washington, March 12.—Serious deficiencies of the United States navy under the five-five-three ratio adopted by the Washington arms conference will be called to the attention of the 67th congress as soon as it convenes, it was learned at the Navy department.

An expert survey of the international naval situation showing the American sea power to be between 300,000 and 400,000 tons short of its proper standing under the conference agreement has given impetus to the work already under way on the program. Secretary Denby is expected to submit covering both ships and personnel.

Decree in Red River Case.

Washington, March 12.—The supreme court issued its decree today in the Red river case, giving effect to several decisions by which the southern cut bank of the river was made the boundary between Oklahoma and Texas. Oklahoma was denied title to the bed of the river except to the middle of the channel in front of certain land granted the state formerly comprising a part of the Kiowa, Comanche and Apache Indian reservations.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung trouble. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Rich Guilty of Siefkens' Slaying, Officers Believe

County Attorney and Detective Gurnett Question Man Who Admits Double Killing—Statements Agree With Inquest Evidence.

There is no question of the guilt of William Albert Rich, held in Cleveland as the slayer of C. E. and Robert Siefkens May 20, 1922, according to word received Sunday night from County Attorney Henry Beal and Detective William Gurnett, who are in Cleveland to escort Rich back to Omaha.

The detective and the county attorney questioned Rich Sunday and declare that his statements agree in every detail with those brought out at the coroner's inquest. He told the story in a straightforward manner, the officers said, and expressed willingness to return to Omaha and stand trial.

"I did it and I'll take my medicine," Rich told the officers. "I can't plead guilty, but I won't put any obstacles in the way of the man who prosecutes me."

Fired for Own Safety.

"There wasn't any chance to get out of the filling station before I shot the man and boy. I might have taken a break to get away, and have taken some chances running down the street, but I was just out of the pen and I sure didn't have any notion of going back. If there was to be a next time I wouldn't shoot—I'd try to run for it."

Rich also confessed to having robbed the restaurant opposite the Omaha Union depot a short time after the night of the fatal shooting. He declared that his partner in that robbery was Jimmy Reed, Sioux City. Reed was killed last December by a policeman in Chicago.

Reed was surprised while robbing a wholesale house in Chicago by two officers. He dropped from a window just as one of the officers turned the corner of the building. This man Reed shot and killed instantly. Then he turned to escape and was confronted by a companion officer of the man whom he had just shot. The other officer shot and killed Reed. Two men who were with Reed at the time made their escape.

Blames Pals for Downfall.

Rich declared to the officers that he had always associated with men of the caliber of Reed. The man with whom Rich was arrested in Cleveland is said to have attempted to kill the

Rev. Mr. Brown Answers Attack

Vice Crusader Says Police Furnished Information on Dope Traffic.

"Rolling the bones" on the pulpit of the Dietz Memorial church to illustrate his sermon on "Vice and Its Allies," Rev. Edgar Merrill Brown Sunday defended his methods of combating vice, answered his critics and complained because newspaper reporters refused to obey his request that parts of his sermon delivered last Sunday to an audience of 200 persons be kept out of print. Exposures last Sunday of the dope traffic among school children, he said, was based on information he received from the police department.

"Gambling," Rev. Mr. Brown charged, "is a road that leads to inevitable ruin, as the purpose of it is to gain possession of something without effort. There is hope for every man except the gambler and deposter."

Produces Dice.

During the course of his sermon Rev. Mr. Brown removed two pairs of dice from his pockets and exhibited them to the congregation to illustrate a point in his sermon. He said he had shown them to a young woman acquaintance who "rolled the bones" with aptitude, and the dominie experienced a feeling akin to chagrin.

He quoted Sergeant Frank Williams head of the police moral squad, as saying that dance halls, pool halls and automobiles are the most demoralizing factors in the lives of young people.

Difficult Subject.

Rev. Frank G. Smith, before a large audience in the First Central Congregational church Sunday, discussed the miracles recorded in the Bible and their "literal historicity."

Dr. Smith expressed the idea that this was the most delicate of all difficult subjects he has handled in the series so far.

"A miracle," he said, "is something that occurs and seems to you wonderful and which you cannot explain by any wisdom at your command. I believe in the miraculous. I believe God sometimes works through agencies and by laws that we do not yet understand."

"For example, the story of the widow's oil and meal in the time of Elijah. When it is studied closely it states that the oil and meal did not fail. It does not say it was miraculously multiplied."

The 10 plagues in Egypt, the crossing of the Red sea on dry land, the manna and quails in the wilderness, the bringing of water from the rock and the crossing of the Jordan were mentioned by Dr. Smith as miracles explainable from natural causes.

He then turned to the positive side of the problem and declared that there are numberless miracles in the world today.

"Not only was the burning bush a miracle but every flower and every bush that grows is an inexplicable mystery and wonder unexplainable to our puny understandings," he said. "Man himself is a miracle and every breath he draws is a mystery. We have become accustomed to these things and take them for granted, but we do not understand them. They are part of those secret things that belong to God alone."

Many Prominent Persons Attend Murphy Funeral

Daughter in Convent Only Near Relative Not Present at Services for Cudahy Plant Manager.

All close relatives of the late M. R. Murphy, except his favorite daughter, were present at funeral services held in St. Peter's church yesterday morning.

This daughter, Madame Helene Murphy, former Ak-Sar-Ben queen and leader in the younger society set, could not attend because of vows she took when she entered a convent to become a nun.

It was explained by Rev. P. J. Judge that the religious of the Sacred Heart order which the daughter entered are strictly cloistered and not allowed to attend the funerals of even their nearest relatives, except by special dispensation. Such a dispensation is usually not asked for or granted except in a case of necessity. The daughter is at Lake Forest, Ill., a suburb of Chicago.

Prominent Men Present.

Prominent business men, city officials and many officials of the Cudahy Packing company, of which Mr. Murphy was general manager in Omaha, including E. A. Cudahy, Jr., were present.

Most elaborate and profuse floral offerings were received at the Murphy home before the funeral. There were some 150 bouquets and sprays and fully 75 designs in flowers.

Rev. J. P. McCarthy, pastor of St. Peter's church, was celebrant of the solemn requiem high mass. Father William J. Quinn, S. J., was deacon; Rev. John H. Massey, substitute pastor, and Rev. A. S. Kluthe was master of ceremonies.

"The feeling of those present is one of extreme sorrow," began Father McCarthy, in his sermon. "In proportion to our relationship to him, in the same proportion do we sorrow."

"Heart of Child."

Father McCarthy touched on the need of big brains in the strenuous commercial system of our country and referred to Mr. Murphy as a man with "the heart of a child and the mind of a great man."

Besides E. A. Cudahy, Jr., of Chicago, the following Cudahy officials were present: R. E. Youm of Chicago, general superintendent; J. H. Hille, former superintendent at Kansas City; H. C. Massey, present superintendent at Kansas City; F. C. Clewell, superintendent of the Wichita plant, and R. E. Mills, superintendent of the Sioux City plant.

Freedom!

Mrs. Nellie McGinn, 609 East 13th St., New York City, writes: "For the last year I had suffered greatly from kidney and bladder trouble, distressing pain in the back and hips, with rheumatic twinges and frequent severe headache, accompanied by nervousness, chills, and fever; also a frequent desire to urinate, a smarting, burning sensation, with pain in the region of the bladder. I was frequently having to arise at night, my sleep being disturbed by the pressure and inflammation in bladder. Beginning the use of Balmwort Tablets, I noticed almost instant relief, and continuing to use them I am now totally well and relieved of all pain and distress from which I suffered. I am glad to recommend Balmwort Tablets as a reliable, beneficial medicine."

150 Greek Naval Officers and Men Lost in Shipwreck

Transport Founders in Fierce Gale Between Salamis and Piraeus; High Seas Hinder Rescue Boats.

Athens, March 12.—(AP)—It is estimated that 150 Greek naval officers and men were drowned Saturday when the Greek transport Alexander, founded during the fierce gale between Salamis and Piraeus. The transport had on board 250 officers and men, on the voyage from the Greek cruisers George, Savaroff, Kiklis and Lemnos.

During the voyage, a fierce gale was encountered. Three huge waves struck the Alexander, which turned over. An explosion of the boilers followed and the ship foundered.

Many crafts hastened to the rescue, but a majority of those on board the transport were lost, owing to the smaller vessels being unable to get through the high seas. A public funeral was held at Athens yesterday.

Attempt Is Made to Save Osterman Telephone Bill

Lincoln, March 12.—(Special).—Republican members of the house were planning last night to attempt to put the Osterman bill on general file over a recommendation by the judiciary committee to indefinitely postpone it.

This bill gives the railway commission power to fix the maximum rates for telephone service. As the law stands now the commission is given power to fix one rate which is the maximum and minimum. It is contended that the present law stifles competition as it would be impossible for a rival telephone company to enter a community if it could charge a rate lower than the one fixed by the commission.

Under the Osterman bill a company could charge less at any time it desired, but could not charge in excess of the maximum fixed by the commission.

"I cannot understand how a law such as the present one ever got on the statute books," Speaker Mathews said.

This Will Ward Off And Break Up Colds

Just a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin removes the congestion

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when congested?" I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address: Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 215 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

At the first sign of a cold, at the first few warning sneezes, take a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin and the congestion will be gone in a few hours. Don't wait until the cold has a grip on you. Mr. Henry Dean, Jr., of Rochester, N. Y., cured a stubborn cold in just that way, and Mrs. Alice Corbrey of Haskell, Okla., uses it effectively for all the small ills of her family, such as constipation, biliousness, headaches, dizziness, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is safe to give to infants, and all children like it. Before you again resort to cold remedies containing narcotics try a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Any druggist will supply you, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

You are also less liable to colds if your system is free from the intestinal poisons of constipation, so empty the bowels regularly with a plain vegetable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

"The American mother does not know how to take care of her children unless she teaches them to eat prunes regularly"

"SHAKE HANDS WITH HEALTH EVERY DAY"

That is the simple, but startling, conclusion reached by a famous health writer. Why are prunes so essential to the well-being of every child? Because prunes—and especially Sunsweet Prunes—contain more digestible natural fruit sugar than any other fruit. That means energy—for study and play. They are rich in tonic iron and other mineral and "vitamine" elements. That means strength—greater resistance to disease. And, more important than all—

Sunsweet Prunes give your children a natural corrective—a laxative from Nature's own pharmacy—a laxative that they like!
