

Storm Raised in Parliament Over Arrests of Irish

Home Secretary Bridgeman Defends Deportation of Alleged Rebel Leaders From Great Britain.

By Universal Service.
London, March 13.—Labor members raised a storm in the house of commons last night over the arrest in England and Scotland and the deportation to Dublin during the week-end of 100 Irishmen and women charged with conspiracy to overthrow the Free State government.

In reply to a question by Ramsay MacDonald, labor leader, Home Secretary Bridgeman said: "The government is in possession of evidence of the existence of a quasi-military organization controlled by a person calling himself the 'officer commanding in Britain,' the purpose of which is to do everything in its power by co-operating with the irregulars in Ireland, to overthrow the Free State government.

"They planned also to resort to acts of violence in Britain in pursuance of their unlawful aims. Therefore, it was the duty of the government to act."

Autoists Deny Hitting Woman

Police Locate Car of Number Reported by Accident Witnesses.

Detectives seeking to locate the driver whose car Monday night struck and injured Mrs. Sarah Moleta, 1519 North Eighteenth street, at Eighteenth and Charles streets, yesterday located a car with a license number similar to one reported by witnesses of the accident.

It belongs to two brothers, northwest of Florence. They told police they were in town Monday night, but at no time were in the vicinity of the place where the accident occurred.

Mrs. Moleta, who was unconscious when witnesses of the accident reached her side, was taken to St. Joseph hospital, where she is reported to have spent a restful night.

X-ray examination yesterday revealed a fractured skull. The woman's left ear also was torn off.

Physicians expressed hope for her life, however, and the life of her unborn child.

Dry League Must File Statement

Loses Fight to Keep Secret Expenditures—Held Political Body.

Albany, N. Y., March 13.—The Anti-Saloon league has lost its fight of years to keep secret its receipts and expenditures under the corrupt practices act.

Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley of Albany today decided that the league was a political committee, subject to all the requirements of the committees of the republican, democratic and other political parties, which must file statements with the secretary of state showing all of their receipts and expenditures in election campaigns.

The action to have the league declared a political committee was brought by five Troy citizens, who were represented at the trial by Col. William H. Gillett, attorney for the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

Justice Staley in his decision declared the activities of the league in the suppression of the liquor traffic caused it to exert its activities in behalf of candidates for public office "who would use their power and vote to accomplish this purpose and against those who would not."

A Queer World

Good Boat Pioneer Gets Stuck in Florida's Sticky Mud.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., March 13.—After being stuck in the mud intermittently over a period of some 24 hours, the presidential houseboat Pioneer, bearing the president and Mrs. Harding, was floated this morning at high tide, and the journey toward Miami was resumed at a snail's pace.

Hard luck instead of "Harding luck," has camped persistently on the Pioneer's trail ever since leaving Palm Beach.

Trapped.

Los Angeles, March 13.—A federal officer was trapped for an hour in a "trick" room which he entered to arrest a bootlegger, according to H. H. Dolley, dry enforcement agent.

The agent whose name Dolley withheld, had purchased a drink and was about to take the bootlegger into custody when the latter, excusing himself stated he would return in a minute. He took a step backward and pressed a button. A section of the wall revolved, leaving the bootlegger on the outside and the agent locked inside. It took the agent an hour to gain his freedom.

Bread Riot at Yale.

New Haven, Conn., March 13.—Yale freshmen last night abandoned their letter writing campaign against compulsory eating at the "commons" and staged a half-hour demonstration in their dining hall, in which bread was hurled about and many dishes were smashed. About 500 members of the class added their voices to the uproar. Authorities at the "commons" took no action.

Yale freshmen have been protesting for some time against the rule inaugurated last year compelling them to eat at the university dining hall. Student publications have been carrying many letters from freshmen complaining of the quality of the food served and protesting against what is regarded as "paternalism" on the part of the college authorities.

Prof. R. P. Angier, dean of freshmen, will conduct an investigation.
