

Council Bluffs Society

Lounges Depart.
To leave for the Hawaiian Islands in the midst of the most severe snow-storm of several years was the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Loughe, who departed on Thursday for San Francisco, from which point on March 22 they will sail on the "President Wilson" for a two months' holiday.

Buffet Supper.
Yellow juncos were used in a decorative way on the dining table of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Emphick when they entertained at a buffet supper last Tuesday evening.
Eight couples shared the hospitality of the Emphicks, and later the party attended the dance at the Eagle hall given by the Tuesday Dancing club.

To District Convention.
On Monday morning Mrs. C. G. Saunders, local regent of the D. A. R.; Mrs. E. P. Schoentgen, the national vice president general; Mrs. Angeline R. Brinsmaid, Mrs. Leonard Maerz and Mrs. W. S. Stillman will leave for Cedar Rapids to attend the district convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution, on which occasion will be present Mrs. George Maynard Minor of Connecticut, president general; Mrs. Wallace W. Hanger of New York, who is candidate for this office at the April election, and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Humboldt, Ia., a candidate for treasurer general.

Mrs. Organ Entertains.
Mrs. Robert Organ presided at a bridge-luncheon on Tuesday at the Brandeis restaurant, entertaining the members of her club, who later returned to her home for bridge.

Miss Gertrude Neff, a cousin of Mrs. Organ, substituted for E. E. Evans, whose small daughter is ill. The prize for high score was won by Mrs. Dan Sheehan.

Mrs. Brinsmaid Hostess.
A coterie of six congenial women who meet informally from time to time at one another's homes, lunched on Wednesday with Mrs. Angeline R. Brinsmaid.

The occasion had an added significance in that the guests had an opportunity to bid farewell to one of the group, Mrs. Eldon Loughe, who on the day following departed with her husband for a sojourn in Honolulu.

Vaudeville Artists Here.
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fitzgibbon arrived in the city the latter part of the week to visit Mr. Fitzgibbon's children, Frances and Bert, junior, who are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Wollman.

Mr. Fitzgibbon is a vaudeville artist of note who will appear this week at the Orpheum with his brother, Lew. They will use in their sketch a number of tuneful melodies, among which are "Lotus Blossoms" and "Up on Top of the Bus," written by these brothers a year or more ago while they were spending a week in Council Bluffs.

To Visit Their Daughter.
At the conclusion of the district convention of the D. A. R. in Cedar Rapids this week, Mrs. E. P. Schoentgen will go to Davenport, Ia., where her husband plans to attend the Rotary convention, and for several days after they will visit their daughter, Miss Jane, student at St. Katherine school.

On April 2 Miss Schoentgen will arrive in Council Bluffs for her spring vacation, but her brother, who attends Williams college at Williamstown, Mass., and is closely identified with the musical circles there, will spend his holidays on a tour of the eastern cities with the college glee club.

Evening Bridge Party.
Miss Kathleen Peacock gave a four-table bridge party at her home on Friday evening.
Numbered among the guests was Ray O'Brien, a college student at Boulder, Colo., who is a visitor in the city.

For Mrs. Conklin.
Mrs. F. H. Hill had a lovely luncheon at her home last Tuesday to bring together some of the intimate friends of Mrs. William B. Conklin of Chicago, who is a spring guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Woodbury.

Durwin tulips made an attractive centerpiece for the table.
Another party planned for this visitor was postponed from Thursday, owing to the inclement weather, until Friday, when Mrs. E. A. Gruver entertained at luncheon, which was served from a prettily arranged table at which were seated with the hostess and honor guest Mesdames John Wadsworth, J. R. Reed, F. H. Hill, John Galvin, R. H. Nichols, Charles Officer, Howard Tilton, John G. Woodward, Sarah Fleckinger and H. A. Woodbury.

Prizes Awarded.
When Mrs. E. P. Schoentgen, vice president general of the D. A. R., was appointed by the president of this organization, as national chairman in the move for "Better Films," she very conscientiously undertook to stimulate interest throughout the United States in this particular line, and as a special inducement to bring this figure before the public, offered a $100 Liberty bond to the boy or girl writing the best essay on the subject.
Competition was keen in some states, while in others enthusiasm seemed decidedly lax.
To further additional interest to rally the Council Bluffs chapter offered two cash prizes of $5 each for the best papers submitted from this city, and these have been awarded Miss Hannah Nyholm and Miss Ruth Thompson.
Mrs. Schoentgen has also compiled some splendid questionnaires on "Better Films" for theater patrons, and the distribution of these is in charge of Mrs. W. S. Stillman.

Although the Liberty bond prize has not yet been awarded, there are, in the hands of the judges, some very worth while essays on which final decisions will soon be made.
Frances Earenfight to Leave.
Miss Frances Earenfight, reigning queen of Mardi Gras, leaves on Wednesday for Chicago where she will join the Favelly-Oukrainy dancers and later sail with them from New York for a four-weeks' engagement in Havana. They will be with the San Carlos Opera company during that time, and from there expect to journey to Mexico.
This organization had planned to the spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Ross.

Misses Ethel and Mary Johnson have returned from a month's visit in Los Angeles.
Miss Nannie Hardin is convalescing from a recent operation at Edmond hospital.
Mrs. Adolph Kastner underwent an operation last week at Mercy hospital for appendicitis.
Mrs. W. H. Dudley arrived from Denison, Ia., last week for a few days' visit with relatives here.
Little Jane Reed, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Reed, is at Mercy hospital, where she was recently operated upon for appendicitis.
Mrs. William Kinzel departed Saturday for Harlan, Ia., where she will spend a week with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ouren.
Mrs. Charles E. Woodbury returned home on Thursday from Chicago where she has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Abbott and Mr. Abbott.
Miss Helena Mitchell, a student at DePaul university in Greencastle, Ind., will be in Council Bluffs for her spring vacation, but Miss Katharine McMillen, who also attends there, plans to go to Columbus, O., for a visit with a classmate.
Mrs. Clifford Wolfe and young son, Clifford, jr., who have been with Mrs. Wolfe's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Macrae, jr., since December, will continue their visit through April, and on route home plan to spend a week in Hoopstown, Ill., with Mr. and Mrs. Donald McFerron.
Miss Elizabeth Bruntington, who attends DePaul university at Greencastle, Ind., will go to Chicago for her spring vacation where she will be joined by her mother, Mrs. E. O. Bruntington, whose sister, Mrs. Harry Cavin, resides there. Mrs. Bruntington plans to remain in Chicago for some time visiting relatives and friends.

Menu Makers.
Beef With Savory Vegetables.
The vegetables used are kale, turnips, onions, parsnips and potatoes. The turnips, onions and parsnips are cooked with the meat, which should consist of a piece of the brisket or navel, boned, rolled and tied. Simmer the meat very slowly or cook in the useless cooker with the vegetables, peeling the onions and leaving them whole and cutting the others into large pieces. When tender transfer the meat to a pan, lay the vegetables around it and add the parboiled potatoes. Brush over with vegetable oil and brown over quickly in a very hot oven. Serve the meat laid on a bed of cooked, chopped kale and surround with a border of the browned vegetables. Accompany with a horseradish sauce. Cook in the open oven only about 15 minutes. Weak broth is better in which to cook the meat than water and a few whole cloves, a bay leaf and a broken stick of cinnamon may be added for seasoning, with half a tablespoonful of salt and a teaspoonful of paprika.
Good Cake.
For a change, flavor the sponge cake with one-third cupful of orange juice and the grated rind of an orange.

Monday Bridge Club.
Mrs. William Coppock was hostess to the members of the Monday Bridge club last week, the afternoon game being preceded by luncheon.

Dancing Party.
A jolly party was the one on Saturday evening, in which the members of the American Legion and their friends participated.
Many novelties, suggestive of St. Patrick were introduced in the decorations, and a jazz orchestra furnished music for dancing.

Entertains Club.
Mrs. Dollie Burgess entertained the lightful party on Saturday evening when 12 guests were present.

Personals.
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ouster have returned from a lengthy stay in California.
Miss Eleanor Ferguson, a student at Ames, is spending Sunday in Council Bluffs.
Miss Dorris Ross, who attends Lindenwood at St. Charles, Mo., will arrive late in the month to spend the spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Ross.

Colonial Dames

The library's display for religious book week included books of every denomination written from the point of view of the clergy and congregation, as well as the general reader who has no church affiliation. It is surprising to note how many people are reading religious books and discussing religious problems these days. Perhaps it is because of the Lenten season. Or perhaps it is due to the controversy regarding the interpretation of the Bible in connection with the many scientific discoveries of our century. Whatever the reason, the public is reading religious books and asking for new titles.
"Belief in God," "Belief in Jesus Christ" and "Belief in the Holy Ghost," by Charles Gore, are the most popular religious book series published in the past 15 years. Other books that have been read and discussed are:
"The Historical Bible," by Kent; "Evolution of a Great Literature," by Newton M. Mann; "Every Man's Religion," by George Hodges; "Seeking After God," by Lyman Abbott; "The Gospel and Human Needs," by John Neville Figgis; "The Book of the Apocrypha," by W. A. E. Oesterley; "The Story of Bible Translation," by Max L. Margolis; "The People of God," by H. F. Hamilton.

Frances E. Earhart, the librarian of the seventh corps area, has given the library an old French book, "The Letters of the King of Prussia and Voltaire." The library turned an old set of general army orders over to the army headquarters library for reference use.
At the regular monthly meeting of the library board the members expressed their appreciation of the fact that Mr. John G. Nehardt is being considered for a fellowship by the University of Nebraska and commented on the fact that Mr. Nehardt's poetry is read more than other poetry in the library.
Vera Tucker of Florence has been appointed by Miss Tobitt to assist at the Florence branch from 4 to 6 in the afternoon. The $195 raised by the Florence Improvement club for use in establishing a branch library is to be spent for new books.
The library employees have established Mrs. A. M. Jackson, Miss Mary Rice, Mrs. Leticia Montgomery, Mrs. E. P. Schoentgen, Miss Caroline Dodge and Miss Mary Key.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Leonard Everett, a very substantial and useful gift, in the way of a set of historical and governmental charts, was on Monday last presented to the public library, by the Colonial Dames of this city.
These charts are of great educational features for American as well as foreign born citizens, and will prove to be a great asset for Council Bluffs.
The women in this patriotic organization become members through invitation only, their eligibility being established by their ancestors of the colonial period, whose memory they perpetuate.
In Iowa there are five boroughs, and to the fifth belongs Council Bluffs. Mrs. Drayton W. Bushnell is chairman of this borough, which covers western Iowa, and some time during the month of May this city will have as guests the 50 women of this state who claim membership in the organization, whose official title is "Society of the Colonial Dames of America in the State of Iowa."
Registered from this city are Mrs. Bushnell, Mrs. Everett, Mrs. Angeline R. Brinsmaid, Mrs. John Mehlhop, Jr.,

Misses Ethel and Mary Johnson have returned from a month's visit in Los Angeles.

Simmer the meat very slowly or cook in the useless cooker with the vegetables, peeling the onions and leaving them whole and cutting the others into large pieces. When tender transfer the meat to a pan, lay the vegetables around it and add the parboiled potatoes. Brush over with vegetable oil and brown over quickly in a very hot oven. Serve the meat laid on a bed of cooked, chopped kale and surround with a border of the browned vegetables. Accompany with a horseradish sauce. Cook in the open oven only about 15 minutes. Weak broth is better in which to cook the meat than water and a few whole cloves, a bay leaf and a broken stick of cinnamon may be added for seasoning, with half a tablespoonful of salt and a teaspoonful of paprika.
Good Cake.
For a change, flavor the sponge cake with one-third cupful of orange juice and the grated rind of an orange.

Library Chats

The library's display for religious book week included books of every denomination written from the point of view of the clergy and congregation, as well as the general reader who has no church affiliation. It is surprising to note how many people are reading religious books and discussing religious problems these days. Perhaps it is because of the Lenten season. Or perhaps it is due to the controversy regarding the interpretation of the Bible in connection with the many scientific discoveries of our century. Whatever the reason, the public is reading religious books and asking for new titles.
"Belief in God," "Belief in Jesus Christ" and "Belief in the Holy Ghost," by Charles Gore, are the most popular religious book series published in the past 15 years. Other books that have been read and discussed are:
"The Historical Bible," by Kent; "Evolution of a Great Literature," by Newton M. Mann; "Every Man's Religion," by George Hodges; "Seeking After God," by Lyman Abbott; "The Gospel and Human Needs," by John Neville Figgis; "The Book of the Apocrypha," by W. A. E. Oesterley; "The Story of Bible Translation," by Max L. Margolis; "The People of God," by H. F. Hamilton.

Frances E. Earhart, the librarian of the seventh corps area, has given the library an old French book, "The Letters of the King of Prussia and Voltaire." The library turned an old set of general army orders over to the army headquarters library for reference use.
At the regular monthly meeting of the library board the members expressed their appreciation of the fact that Mr. John G. Nehardt is being considered for a fellowship by the University of Nebraska and commented on the fact that Mr. Nehardt's poetry is read more than other poetry in the library.
Vera Tucker of Florence has been appointed by Miss Tobitt to assist at the Florence branch from 4 to 6 in the afternoon. The $195 raised by the Florence Improvement club for use in establishing a branch library is to be spent for new books.
The library employees have established Mrs. A. M. Jackson, Miss Mary Rice, Mrs. Leticia Montgomery, Mrs. E. P. Schoentgen, Miss Caroline Dodge and Miss Mary Key.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Leonard Everett, a very substantial and useful gift, in the way of a set of historical and governmental charts, was on Monday last presented to the public library, by the Colonial Dames of this city.
These charts are of great educational features for American as well as foreign born citizens, and will prove to be a great asset for Council Bluffs.
The women in this patriotic organization become members through invitation only, their eligibility being established by their ancestors of the colonial period, whose memory they perpetuate.
In Iowa there are five boroughs, and to the fifth belongs Council Bluffs. Mrs. Drayton W. Bushnell is chairman of this borough, which covers western Iowa, and some time during the month of May this city will have as guests the 50 women of this state who claim membership in the organization, whose official title is "Society of the Colonial Dames of America in the State of Iowa."
Registered from this city are Mrs. Bushnell, Mrs. Everett, Mrs. Angeline R. Brinsmaid, Mrs. John Mehlhop, Jr.,

the spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Ross.
Misses Ethel and Mary Johnson have returned from a month's visit in Los Angeles.
Miss Nannie Hardin is convalescing from a recent operation at Edmond hospital.
Mrs. Adolph Kastner underwent an operation last week at Mercy hospital for appendicitis.
