

Friction Blamed for Abandoning Iowa Vet Hospital

Embargo Placed on Colfax Institution Last Summer Following Court Martial of Commanding Officer.

By Universal Service.
Colfax, Ia., March 19.—Friction between district officers and hospitalization officials of the United States veterans' bureau, and grumblings of disappointed "park-barrel" politicians, seems responsible for the abandonment of the bureau hospital here.

In June, 1921, the government took over the magnificent plant and grounds of the Colfax Springs hotel—an exclusive Iowa resort—with the intention of using it as a general hospital for world war veterans.

Large sums of money were spent in equipping the place to receive patients, $45,000 was paid in annual rental, and furnishings of the hotel were purchased to help establish a modern hospital.

Wounded and sick veterans were received in August. The hospital was satisfactorily administered for a year. In June, 1922, there were 153 patients receiving treatment.

Commanding Officer Ousted.
In July and August trouble developed between the commanding officer and some of the bureau officials. The commanding officer was court-martialed and removed.

From that time on an embargo was placed on the place. No new patients were admitted. In late August there were 52 veterans being hospitalized; this number shrunk to 21 after last Christmas.

The hospital has been abandoned and will be turned back to its owner next June.

Approximately $200,000 was running by the bureau in equipping and running the plant in the last fiscal year—the first 12 months of the hospital's existence. During that time it functioned satisfactorily.

Pioneer Bank Trial to Open

Federal Court Prepares for Hearing of 23 Fraud Defendants.

Trial of 23 men charged with using the mails to defraud in promotion of the Guaranty Security company, Pioneer States bank and Colonial Timber & Coal corporation, will start in federal court Tuesday morning, United States Attorney Kinster said.

Special Assistant Dorsey received a telegram from one of the defendants, William H. Culver, stating he will be in Omaha Tuesday if the trains are on time but waiving jury challenges if he should arrive late.

"We won't risk starting without all the defendants present," said Mr. Dorsey.

Two indicted men have been fugitives since the indictment was returned. One is Thomas M. Finney of Omaha who fled so fast that his automobile turned over just west of the city. He disappeared and dropped $20,000 worth of Liberty bonds near the machine.

The other is James B. Ellison, lawyer, West Virginia.
