

Omaha Will Be Fascisti Center

American Patriotic Society Promoted by Former K. K. K. Kleagle.

Omaha will be national headquarters for the Fascisti, of America. This was the announcement Monday of Edgar I. Fuller, former kleagle of the Ku Klux Klan, who has written a book, "The Ku Klux Bubble," exposing the organization.

Charter for the Fascisti was to be filed with the district clerk and secretary of state Tuesday, Fuller said. "The Fascisti organization in America is unlike that of the Mussolini band in Italy," said Fuller. "Ours will not be one for political desire, but purely for patriotic purposes. "The organization has no religious scruples and believes in the upholding of the rights of a free and enlightened people to choose their own religion and to worship God according to the dictates of their own hearts."

Fuller, who claims to be the originator of the American Fascisti, states that he intends to make Omaha his home after his survey of the United States that took him to almost every part of the country where his agents report great progress in the new "black shirt" movement. Fuller showed a reporter for The Omaha Evening Bee several congratulatory telegrams from prominent men living in several parts of the country. Fuller stated that it was the purpose of the American Fascisti to fight in the open. The organization has adopted the name, Fascisti, not because of the political activities of Mussolini, but in admiration for a body of men who were willing to sacrifice all to bring the rebellious into subservience to their flag, he says. All men are eligible to wear the "black shirt" who are natives or naturalized citizens of this country and who have never committed crime or treason. A member of the Fascisti must, without mental reservation, esteem the United States and its institutions above any other government in the entire world. Fuller states that he has selected Omaha as the seat of his operations and will make Omaha the national headquarters, due to its central location and the instantaneous co-operation he has received since he has been here. He says he plans one of the biggest meetings of its kind ever staged in Omaha to be held within the next few days. At this meeting he expects to make his call for men to don the famed "black shirts."

Fuller expects to have several nationally known patriotic speakers at this meeting.

N. Y. Beauty Drugged at Dawn, Say Police

Three pictures of Dorothy Keenan, also known as Dorothy King, who was found slain in a New York apartment, and is believed to have been the victim of robbers who sought her $20,000 worth of jewels.

New York, March 20.—The police theory today is that it was a thief who, just as dawn was breaking, last Thursday, chloroformed to death, Dorothy Keenan, the model, to make a safe getaway with the jewelry and furs he stole from the apartment where her body was found the following noon. This thief, in the theory constructed by Police Inspector Coughlin, entered the woman's apartment some time after the departure of the mysterious "Mr. John Marshall," the elderly bearer of gifts. The police hinted that they have a clue to their man and that it wouldn't be surprising if he was arrested soon. "Mr. Marshall," it appeared today, went to the district attorney with the story of his relations with the woman, not because he feared being implicated by the police, but because he sought to exonerate Alfred Guimaraes, the fond friend of Miss Keenan. Though he did not know and had never heard of Guimaraes, his story was, he saw in the papers that Guimaraes was suspected. He told officials that he, himself, was with Miss Keenan during the time it was suspected Guimaraes was in her company. Miss Keenan's banking accounts were to be examined and her safety deposit boxes opened today to determine what her estate was and what the thief stole. Eugene O'Connell, whose marriage to Miss Keenan was annulled, appeared voluntarily, yesterday to explain that he had no connection with the murder and was not detained.

Experience on Snowbound Train Related by Omahan

"Gee, but it's good to get back home." Mrs. E. B. Frazier, Palmer apartments, Twenty-sixth street and St. Mary's avenue, was all smiles as she reached Union station Tuesday morning after a three-day exile in Des Moines. "I thought I was brave to take this train," she said, "for it was such a terrible storm over in Iowa that Miss Gene Meleck of the Palmer, who went to Des Moines with me, insisted on waiting for a later one." Rock Island train No. 13, Chicago to Omaha, which left Chicago Saturday, was snowbound 29 hours between Casey and Adair, Ia., and after being freed Monday morning was sent on to Omaha. Its successor, No. 13, which left Chicago Sunday, reached Omaha this morning without trouble. James P. Cosgrove, traveling salesman of Chicago, was believed to be the only passenger on this morning's train who had been delayed Sunday night in the Adair drifts. "The train was warm and everybody had sandwiches," he said. Trainmen brought news that Rodolph Valentino, film star, was held eight hours in the Adair drifts after leaving Omaha. Although Tuesday morning's Rock Island No. 13 had an easy route, N. Washington, Chicago, Pullman porter, said there had been "some storm." "Snowdrifts that almost brushed the tops of the cars lined the tracks much of the way through Iowa," he said.

Youth Gives Up Home, Love and Career to Save His Mother From Prison

New York, March 20.—Morris Reister, son of "John the Barber," a rundown fight promoter, has sacrificed home, love and a career and gone to prison for from 20 years to life to save his mother. He confessed that he had slain his aunt, Bertha Katz, with whose murder he and his mother were jointly charged. With his plea of guilty his mother was permitted to walk from the courtroom a free woman. He said he had shot his aunt to break up an illicit love affair between her and his father. He is 25 years old. At least 20 years in prison lies before him and his life behind. "Life is gone for me," he said last night. "I will be too old when I come out to think of a career, have a home or amount to anything in life. What else could I do? My mother's health is shattered, my sweetheart's heart is broken. Everything is sacrificed. "My feelings are paradoxical. I am happy because my mother is free. I am sad because my life is ended, yes, ended."

Path of Sunday's Storm

This map shows the path taken by Sunday's snow storm and the cold which followed it. The storm appeared over Montana, but as it moved eastward it dipped south so far that its center passed south of Chicago. Storms such as this are called cyclones in scientific language, because they have a whirling or cyclonic motion. The map shows the different directions of the wind from the whirl in different parts of the country.

Mrs. Osato and Children Sail for the Orient

San Francisco, March 20.—Leru and Sona Osato will not grow up to be American flappers and pursue their young way in defiance of all authority, as American flappers are accredited with doing.

The little Eurasians are leaving today for the Orient with their mother, Mrs. Sijoi Osato, wife of a Japanese photographer, and formerly Frances Fitzpatrick, society girl of Omaha, that they may learn the ways of the Orient. "My marriage to an oriental has not made a gulf between me and my people," said Mrs. Osato, "but there is a demureness and modesty about the Japanese that is prevalent in no other race. I want my little girls raised in such an environment." In Japan, Osato will open a studio in association with Loyo Mukai, the famous Japanese artist.

Now a QUICK Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

The Secret Of quick-cooking oats

Now there's a Quick Quaker Oats, Mrs. Housewife. It is the quickest cooking oats in the world. It cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes, and cooks as well as an hour would cook it. Ask your grocer for Quick Quaker if you want this style.

Thin flakes, partly cooked

The difference is this: In Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

That same super-flavor

All Quaker Oats are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flaxy oats. All the flavorless grains are discarded. So we get but ten pounds of these cream oats from a bushel.

That's why Quaker Oats dominates. Millions of mothers, all the world over, insist on this extra flavor, so their children will love oats.

That flavor is in Quick Quaker the same as in regular Quaker. So you always get it in the style you like best.
